The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

We stated last week that the north side business district in Arlington Heights was about to come into its own. A check this week of business licenses issued by the village clerk shows 142 business places north of the tracks, compared to 95 south of the tracks.

Announcement of the business supremacy of the north side should spur additional property owners to invest in more store buildings.

A Palatine man and his wife spent last Saturday afternoon traveling many streets in that town seeking a lot upon which to build a home within walking distance of the depot. "There are none," he told the editor.

The average citizen does his buying regardless of political affiliations of the seller. Still some businessmen think their personal politics should be kept under cover.

Last Friday we visited the office of a prominent Democratic chieftain. His attorney did not hesitate to say he was a Republican. Why should a businessman be afraid to show his preference.

To prove our point, we are wearing on the lapel of our coat this week the button of a Republican candidate for office. We have not been threatened by any Democrat.

A lot of our employees are avowed Democrats. But none of them have threatened to leave our employ because the boss has Republican leanings.

William Trude tells us that between 3,500 and 4,000 persons visited his model home during September. The house has been sold and will be occupied next month. The interesting part is that a number of the visitors signed contracts for homes to be built in Arlington Heights by Mr. Trude.

There are 170 windows offered by Arlington Heights businessmen for the Halloween window painting. The sixth grade pupils necessarily had to be barred. There were too many of them.

Evidently even the business houses cannot keep pace with the increased school population.

A businessman of a neighboring city called on us last week saying that he is having great difficulty in finding a location upon which he can build a business block in Arlington Heights. He complained about the high prices asked for available sites.

Word comes from Glenview and Northbrook that taxing bodies of that area will hire an accountant at $10,000 a year to check on tax cheaters and to find property that is not on the books of the assessor.

We have been doing a bit of research interviewing oldtimers to satisfy the curiosity of some inquirers as to why and when the name of Arlington Heights was changed from Dunton. As far as we can find out, politics had a bit to do with it.

It was like an election campaign. The founder of the town was William Dunton. When he did some things that a few of the residents did not like, they decided to punish him by changing the name of the village.

Mrs. Inez Sharp, who frequently represents the Lattof Motor Sales at the breakfast club, has $20 in stakes that she cannot get rid of. It is all over a difference of opinion as to the zoning status of the railroad property.

Neither Forest Davis nor Robert Malcolm, who made the wager, will admit he is mistaken. She is open to suggestions as to what to do with the $20.

This column should have something to say about the election next Tuesday. The nearest we have ever got to personally circulate with the bigwigs of either party has been in the Walnut room of the Bismarck hotel, where county and state officials of both parties have the habit of breaking bread together.

They evidently keep their fingers crossed when they say bad things about each other during the election campaign.

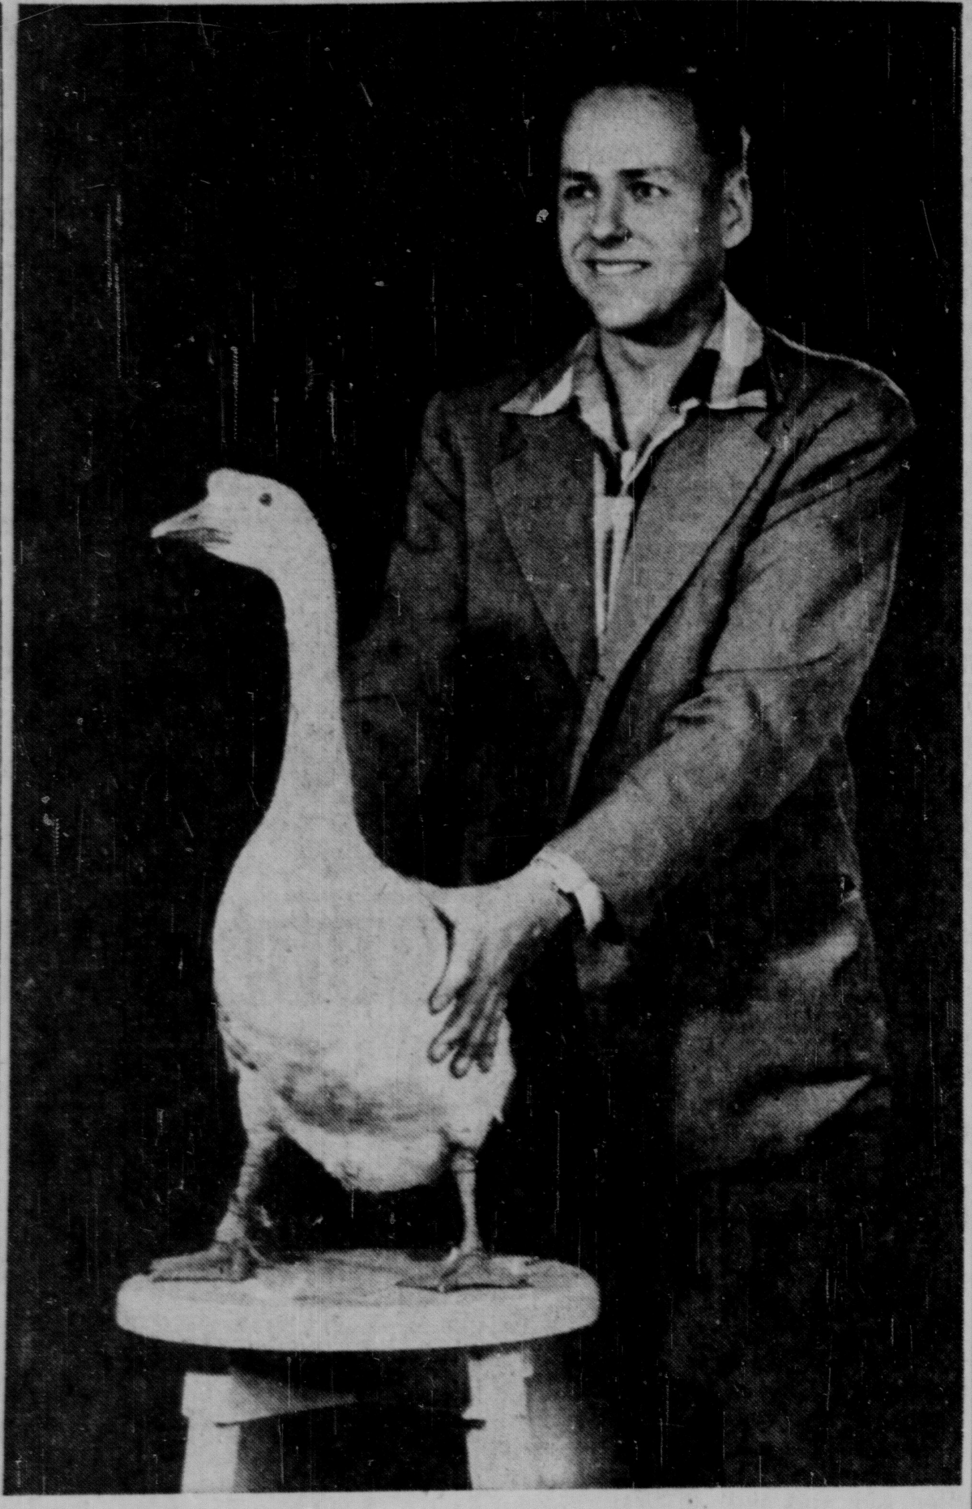
There are a few candidates who have done a lot for the northwest towns and deserve the vote of both Democrats and Republicans.

They are Marguerite Stitt Church, candidate for Congress; Arthur Bidwill, candidate for state senator; Bernice Van der Vries, Arthur Sprague and Joseph J. Lelivelt for representatives in the state legislature; Noble J. Puffer, candidate for county superintendent of schools; William Erickson, president of the county board, and Fred Fulle, who seeks a membership on the county board. Fulle has our support because he is a brother editor.

This column is not long enough for any campaign speeches. Vote for them, and if you think the editor is wrong, come around and tell us about it after the election.



This pair, which will be found in the Arlington Heights business district this Saturday morning, will have an important message to convey. The Jaycees of Arlington Heights urge residents to observe them closely and then act on their findings.

Donations May Still Be Made To Girl Scouts

It is not too late, when this paper is available for reading, for generous well-wishers of the Girl Scout program for girls seven to eighteen to make their contributions to the Girl Scout fund drive being carried on this week. Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, and Prospect Heights, neighborhoods in District IV of the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook County will receive the advantage of every penny or dollar donated to the cause.

House-to-house canvassing took place in Palatine, Arlington Heights, and Prospect Heights last Monday and direct mail solicitation in Mount Prospect was through letters mailed at the end of last week. Volunteer solicitors going to each door will make call-backs during the week wherever they have been unable to make a contact on a first try.

RESIDENTS are urged by the fund drive chairmen in the four towns to send in their contributions by mail, checks made payable to "Girl Scouts" if, by some chance or other, they have not been reached by personal solicitation or through the mail. Contributions should be sent to chairmen, Victor Beisler, 501 N. State, Arlington Heights; Otto Eilering, 103 S. Linden, Palatine; John Carnell, 215 S. George; and to Mrs. E. W. Oldham, treasurer, P.O. Box 118, Prospect Heights.

The quota in the district is $10,000. Press deadline proved to be too early for Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect to report concrete general results. Arlington Heights, however, had received on Monday its largest single contribution from business in the $400 check, given to the Girl Scouts by the Trude Land Development company.

Palatine reported $1640.48 Monday evening with one complete district, Inverness, not then checked in. Prospect Heights had an encouraging $544.25 on Tuesday morning.

GOING OVER the top, which it is hoped can be reported in next week's issue, will mean a word of appreciation to every individual and business who answered the appeal with dollars and cents.

A thank you comes now from the Girl Scouts for those who have already donated in the financial way. It also goes to those workers who have given their time and effort in soliciting and preparing for the drive, to those, again individually or through their businesses, who have contributed materials, space, or labor to help publicize and promote the drive as was evidenced by the many posters, flyers, letters, milk cans, and window displays used in the various towns.

Thanksgiving Dinner

The annual Thanksgiving dinner, sponsored by Martha circle of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, will be held from 5 to 8 p. m. November 3 in the church, corner of Evergreen and St. James.

No tickets will be sold at the door, but must be purchased through the ticket chairman, Mrs. Richard Runge at CLearbrook 3-0304.

Lions Club To Sell Brooms For Blind

November 5 and 6 residents of Arlington Heights will again see members of the local Lions club going about showing the true spirit of Lionism with their annual broom sale for the blind.

The spirit behind Lionism is to provide a helping hand to those less fortunate than we.

All of the members devote their time freely on drives to raise funds to support various community and charitable benefits, such as Youth Center and Lions Olympics. The annual broom sale is supported by all members of the club and handled by the following committee members:

E. J. Urbanske, chairman; J. F. Randag, co-chairman; J. D. Bryson, R. W. Buckeridge, N. Dewey, C. Weinrich, B. Erickson, A. H. Franzen, C. A. Hendrickson, G. N. Tuttle, G. K. Volz and H. Bierma Jr.

This drive is supported by the Lions club because it provides the blind people with the means to help themselves. The brooms, whisk brooms, and mats all are made by the blind. Sales of these brooms provide them with a livelihood. A purchase of a broom or mat November 5 and 6 will provide that helping hand needed to carry on the work for the blind. Work such as the school for the blind in Wheeling and other blind activities.

The brooms will be stored by John Randag, president of Homo Milk Co. There will be three sizes of brooms, two sizes of rubber mats, and whisk brooms.

Burning Leaves?

The time has come to rake leaves and clean up yards in preparation for winter. Arlington Heights residents are reminded this week that if they plan to burn leaves they should not do it on village streets. The heat from such fires does considerable damage to the pavement, whether or not it's cement or blacktop.

Army Offers 30-Day Extension

Airport Residents Must Vacate Trailers January 1

Through the efforts of Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, residents of the barracks apartments and trailer park at Arlington airport may win a thirty day extension on the Army's December 1 eviction notice.

The Fifth Army terminated a lease held by Illinois Aircraft Sales in order to erect a guided missile unit.

In a letter to Rep. Church, Col. W. P. Trower of the corps of army engineers said that Illinois Aircraft knew on July 27 that they were to vacate the airport within 60 days.

Apparently the company did not inform tenants of the army action, but rather sent two citizens to federal court with a petition for temporary delay. The petition was denied, but Federal Judge Perry granted tenants the right to retain possession until December 1.

In agreeing to an extension of the eviction date, Col. Trower wrote to Mrs. Church: "As a result of your interest in this matter, the title and construction schedules have been re-examined with a view to possible extension of time in which the barracks and building and trailer camp must be vacated."

"From a review of schedules, I have determined that we will not press the federal court to enforce the order to vacate the premises by December 1, provided the tenants can be moved by January 1. However, we must insist upon vacating of the property not later than January, 1955. The provisions of the court order permitting entry into the building for necessary engineering studies cannot be waived."

"I would appreciate your advice that your constituents fully understand all of the foregoing conditions and agree to abide thereby, with the assurance that these conditions will be met. I feel it will be necessary to protect the interest of the U. S. by requiring enforcement on the date specified in the court order."

The airport land, which is owned by the federal government, was selected for a "Nike" guided missile installation within the perimenter of planned defense for the greater Chicago area.

SELECTION OF the Arlington Heights site was based upon precise mathematical calculations in accord with a strategic pattern for the metropolitan defense area, and was formally approved by the Army anti-aircraft artillery command and Department of Defense.

No missile will be fired from the site except in time of emergency, and no unit firing will be conducted on the site, the Army said.

Location of a Nike battery in the vicinity of Arlington Heights should not in any way disturb normal community life, it was learned from Col. Thomas M. Larner, commanding officer of the 22nd anti-aircraft artillery group at Group headquarters in Chicago.

Col. Larner explained that the land requirement for the site selected at Arlington Heights is relatively small, approximately 44 acres. Only the minimum acreage required for emplacement, operation of the weapons system, and for safety protection of the neighborhood will be utilized.

The Nike guided missile — developed by the Army with industrial research assistance for the nation's defense weapon system — is named after the goddess of Victory in Greek mythology, and is the end product of eight years of guided missile research and engineering.

It is a surface-to-air guided missile capable of seeking out and intercepting aircraft traveling at supersonic speeds.

A NIKE BATTERY consists of constructed emplacements in 2 units. One unit provides radar interception and fire control. Its neighboring unit contains the underground magazine for storage of missiles and the mechanism for launching the "Nike."

Battery personnel normally consists of six officers and 88 enlisted personnel, with an average of 35 per cent of the personnel married men. They and their families normally make their residence within the neighboring community or on-site, depending upon available facilities.

Construction on the Arlington Heights site was started this week by the M. J. McDermott co. of Chicago under the direction of Supt. E. L. Samson.

General excavation and construction of roadways is being done by Doetsch Bros. of Evanston, and Samson expects to be finished with all building by May 1.

A resume of the manner of construction, operation, and number of men, who with their families will be stationed in the surrounding area, and other pertinent information regarding "Nike" will appear in next week's Herald.

Meanwhile, owners of the more than 100 trailers parked in the camp say that every trailer park within a radius of 10 miles is full. Residents in the 36 barrack apartments say there are no other apartments in the region where children are welcome.

In the meantime the government has alotted $33,800 to Forest View school for the education of the children in the airport area.

Paint Windows For Halloween This Saturday

The annual Halloween window painting contest will be held Saturday between the hours of 9 and 12 in the morning. This contest is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, which makes arrangements for the windows, furnishes the paint and awards numerous prizes. This year there will be approximately 370 boys and girls participating in the contest from the seventh and eighth grades of the St. Peter school, Our Lady of the Wayside school, and the Junior high school.

This contest is divided into two groups: Class A for 8th graders and Class B for 7th graders.

CASH AWARDS of $5 for 1st prize, $3 for 2nd prize, $2 for 3rd prize and $1 for the next 10 prizes will be awarded in each class. Judging will be done sometime during the afternoon Saturday, and the winning pictures will be designated by appropriate ribbons. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners sometime during the week after the contest.

The standards for the judging shall be originality, composition, quality of drawing and over-all attractiveness. Adult participation would, of course, disqualify any contestant. All painting will be done from the outside of the windows only, and no large pictures may be placed inside of the window from which the painting may be traced.

The contest is directed by Nelson Hauff, the executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, with Donald Grote, principal, and Mrs. Kay Campbell, art teacher, of the junior high school assisting with the arrangements. Four members of the Womens club will serve as judges.

The cooperation that the merchants of the village have given to this project has been most appreciated by the Chamber of Commerce and the various schools concerned.

Change Air Mail

Virginia Dodge, postmaster, Arlington Heights, announced this week that as of November 1 there will be a change in the local air mail schedule. The earliest dispatch will be at 7:45 a.m., the second at 11:45 a.m. and the last at 2:25 p.m.

Movie Filmed At Arlington To Highlight Open House

Arlington Heights high school's 1550 students may get a "movie star" complex as a result of tonight, Thursday's, Open House program for patrons of the local school district.

PARENTS AND friends who attend the program, scheduled for 8 p.m., in the boys' gym, will see a 25 minute film of a day in the life of four typical students. During the making of the picture more than half of the student body managed to come within camera range.

The purpose of the film is to show parents exactly what takes place during the course of a normal school day. To this end, four students were chosen whose programs typified the average student's class schedule.

The camera crew spent a few minutes with each one of these students in their classes during one school day recording the work that the class was doing. In order to give a complete picture of the entire school, some shots of other classes, cafeteria scenes, hallway scenes, gym class shots, and scenes of a few extra-class activities were added.

The film was prepared by Larry Jenness, Carl Nelson, and George Larson, members of the faculty committee. It will be narrated by Larry Jenness, who is also preparing a taped narration for use with the film.

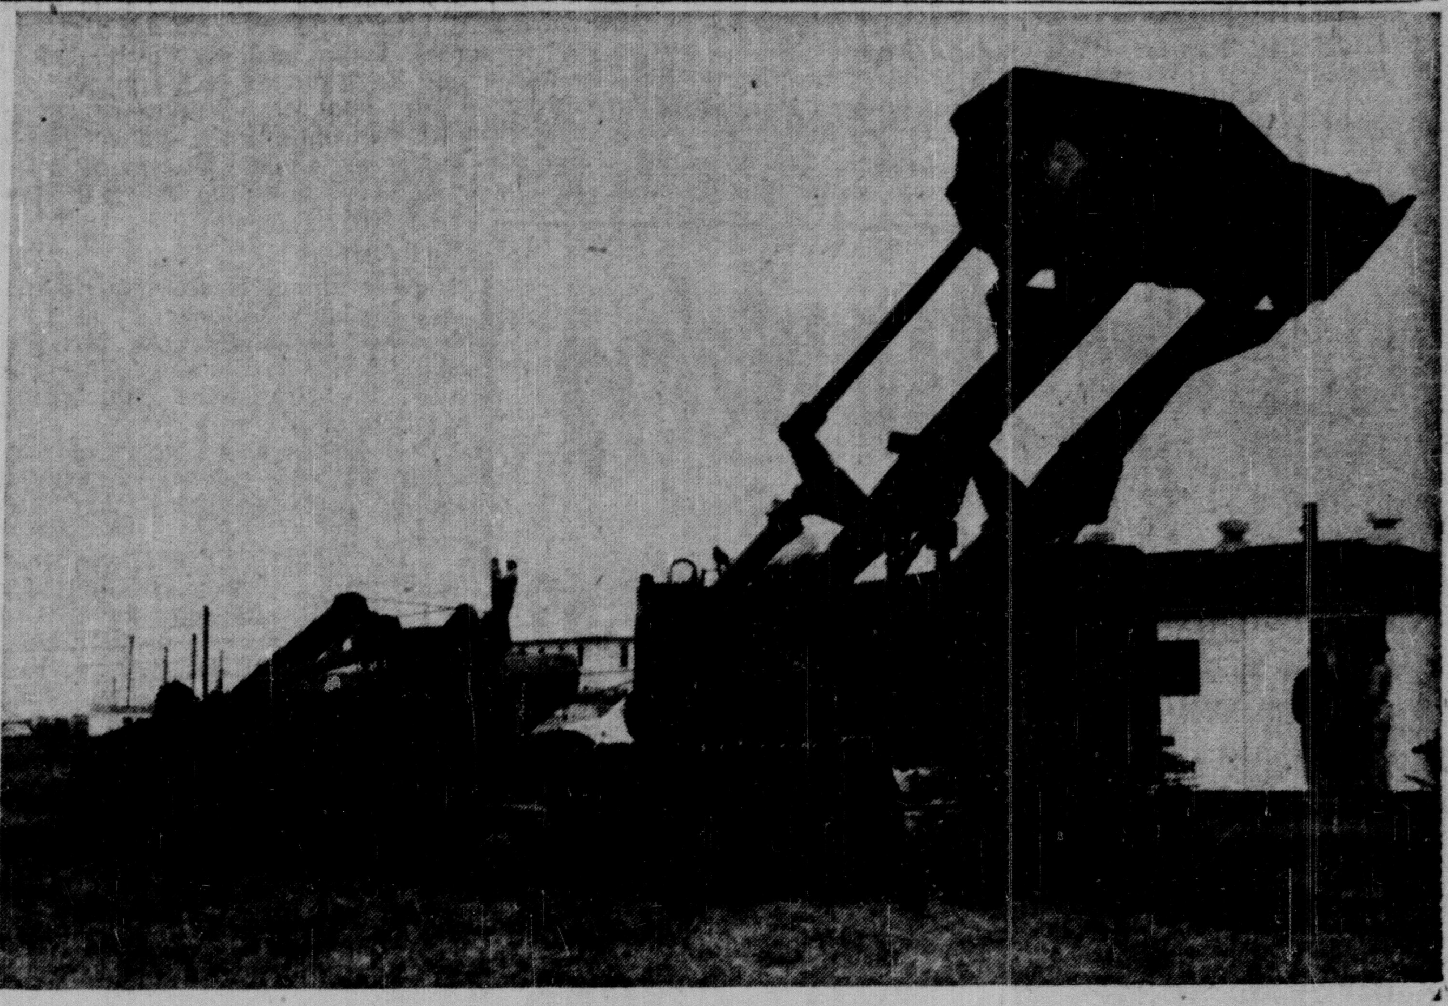
IN ADDITION to being shown at open house, the film will serve as a part of the orientation program for new students, can be shown to graduating 8th grade classes, and will be available for showing to community groups.

The program will also include the introduction of new teachers and the board members by Supt. Harold Slichenmyer, a series of building tours designed to acquaint new members of the community with the high school facilities, and a period for teacher-parent visitations. Teachers will be located at points in and around the new gym where they may be easily found by parents

The program, which has been prepared by the public relations committee, will be emceed by Bruno Waara.



Graders move in to begin construction of roadways on the site of the old Arlington airport, Central and Wilke rds. Contractors which started work this week expect to be finished by May 1. With work under way on the former landing field, the army hopes to have its new guided missle unit in operation by spring.

Hold All Day Session To Read Codification Of Village Ordinances

Probably one of the longest village board meetings in the history of Arlington Heights was held Tuesday, beginning at 8 a.m. and continuing until 11 p.m., with only an hour's rest for lunch and two hours for dinner

This meeting climaxed a series of special sessions held for the purpose of reading the codification of all village ordinances which had been prepared by Attorney Thomas Matthews and Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal. This is the first codification of ordinances since 1929.

The trustees, along with President Albert Goedke, the village manager, village clerk and attorney, had to read each page of the 382 page book, word for word.

Now that the first reading has been completed the attorneys will make the necessary corrections before resubmitting it to the board for a second reading and its ultimate approval. With its passage the village will then have all of its ordinances at its fingertips for the first time in more than 25 years.

Still Time To Learn How To Operate Voting Machine

The voters of Cook county northwest towns will use voting machines for the first time November 2. The only exceptions are precincts that are partly within and without the Chicago Sanitary District. One of these is Rolling Meadows precinct within the village of Palatine.

"Sample" machines are being set up in the village halls of Arlington Heights, Wheeling and Mount Prospect.

Mrs. Orville Senne will demonstrate the machine at Arlington Heights, week days, 4 to 9 p.m. and Saturdays, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the village hall.

Wheeling will have two voting machines at the village hall. There will be a demonstrator there every day until election day, from 10 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Kenneth Olsen will have charge of the demonstration at Mount Prospect. The hours will be weekdays 10 to 12 a.m., 5 to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Raymond Holtzee will demonstrate the machine at Palatine which will be in the office of the Palatine Chamber of Commerce on N. Bothwell st., daily, except Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fridays, the hours will be 4 to 9 p.m.

Admission is free to members, 25c for guests accompanying members. Concessions will be operated by parents of the members.

Airport School To Benefit

Forest View School District No. 56, S. State rd., Elk Grove township, is listed among the first of communities for which federal funds have been reserved by school construction projects in "Federal affected" defense areas, as announced in Washington, D. C. Wednesday by Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, commissioner of education.

The amount totals $33,800. The latest reservation totaling $28,431,784 has been set aside by the office of education, U. S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, under provisions of Title 3 of public law 815 as amended and authorized by the 83rd Congress.

FUNDS WILL be used to assist Forest View school and 108 other local school districts in 28 states and Hawaii to provide necessary classroom accommodations for the increased enrollments which have resulted from nearby federal installations. A section of the Forest View school was located at the Arlington Airport, which has recently been taken over for a guided missile site by the Fifth Army.

The present additional reservation of funds brings to more than $68 million dollars the total reserved to date under that act.

Blue Ballot 'Tag' Day This Friday

William Strevig, of the Arlington Heights Junior Chamber of Commerce, reports that Blue Ballot voting tags will be distributed in this area Friday by Jaycee members.

This tag day is another in a series of events planned by the Jaycees to acquaint local citizens with the provisions of the Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment and to urge all registered voters to vote Tuesday, November 2.

Kimball Hill To Distribute $5,000 As Prizes To Home Landscapers

Kimball Hill has awarded $5,000 in cash prizes to Rolling Meadows home owners who participated in the Landscape Contest last month.

Presentation of the awards will be made November 9 at a meeting of the civic association.

The contest was open to all Rolling Meadows home owners who had moved into their homes by September 25. Purpose of the competition was to stimulate and promote interest and activity in developing individual home grounds.

Home grounds were judged on maintenance, superiority of design, proper selection of plant material, and handling of features added to house or yard.

Grading was 40% for maintenance, 25% for design, 20% for selection of plant material, and 15% for added features.

Judges were Marion Jordan, superintendent of Palatine schools, Roy Clavey, past president of the National Association of Nurserymen, and William Rose, landscape architect.

The judges took two days to complete their tabulations.

Why Mail Was Delayed

A U.S. mail semi-trailer truck serving northwest towns, jackknifed and overturned Tuesday morning in the heavy fog, causing a delay in mail service between Park Ridge and Barrington.

The mail bags weren't delivered to the local post offices until 5 p.m. and had to wait overnight before sorting could be done on Wednesday.

Dog Gone?

"If your dog has disappeared check the Arlington Heights police station first," advises Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog.

The department has had numerous complaints about dogs running at large and a great many people have had to pay a $5 fine to get their pet out of "jail." To avoid such a hardship the Chief advises residents to be careful about keeping their pets tied and on their own premises.

The checks were divided as follows:

Arlington Hts. Little League, $390.25; Arlington Heights Boy Scouts, $390.25; District 4 Girl Scout Council, $400.

The letter accompanying the checks read in part as follows:

Airport Residents Must Vacate Trailers January 1

Through the efforts of Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, residents of the barracks apartments and trailer park at Arlington airport may win a thirty day extension on the Army's December 1 eviction notice.

The Fifth Army terminated a lease held by Illinois Aircraft Sales in order to erect a guided missile unit.

In a letter to Rep. Church, Col. W. P. Trower of the corps of army engineers said that Illinois Aircraft knew on July 27 that they were to vacate the airport within 60 days.

Apparently the company did not inform tenants of the army action, but rather sent two citizens to federal court with a petition for temporary delay. The petition was denied, but Federal Judge Perry granted tenants the right to retain possession until December 1.

In agreeing to an extension of the eviction date, Col. Trower wrote to Mrs. Church: "As a result of your interest in this matter, the title and construction schedules have been re-examined with a view to possible extension of time in which the barracks and building and trailer camp must be vacated."

"From a review of schedules, I have determined that we will not press the federal court to enforce the order to vacate the premises by December 1, provided the tenants can be moved by January 1. However, we must insist upon vacating of the property not later than January, 1955. The provisions of the court order permitting entry into the building for necessary engineering studies cannot be waived."

"I would appreciate your advice that your constituents fully understand all of the foregoing conditions and agree to abide thereby, with the assurance that these conditions will be met. I feel it will be necessary to protect the interest of the U. S. by requiring enforcement on the date specified in the court order."

The airport land, which is owned by the federal government, was selected for a "Nike" guided missile installation within the perimenter of planned defense for the greater Chicago area.

SELECTION OF the Arlington Heights site was based upon precise mathematical calculations in accord with a strategic pattern for the metropolitan defense area, and was formally approved by the Army anti-aircraft artillery command and Department of Defense.

No missile will be fired from the site except in time of emergency, and no unit firing will be conducted on the site, the Army said.

Location of a Nike battery in the vicinity of Arlington Heights should not in any way disturb normal community life, it was learned from Col. Thomas M. Larner, commanding officer of the 22nd anti-aircraft artillery group at Group headquarters in Chicago.

Col. Larner explained that the land requirement for the site selected at Arlington Heights is relatively small, approximately 44 acres. Only the minimum acreage required for emplacement, operation of the weapons system, and for safety protection of the neighborhood will be utilized.

The Nike guided missile — developed by the Army with industrial research assistance for the nation's defense weapon system — is named after the goddess of Victory in Greek mythology, and is the end product of eight years of guided missile research and engineering.

It is a surface-to-air guided missile capable of seeking out and intercepting aircraft traveling at supersonic speeds.

A NIKE BATTERY consists of constructed emplacements in 2 units. One unit provides radar interception and fire control. Its neighboring unit contains the underground magazine for storage of missiles and the mechanism for launching the "Nike."

Battery personnel normally consists of six officers and 88 enlisted personnel, with an average of 35 per cent of the personnel married men. They and their families normally make their residence within the neighboring community or on-site, depending upon available facilities.

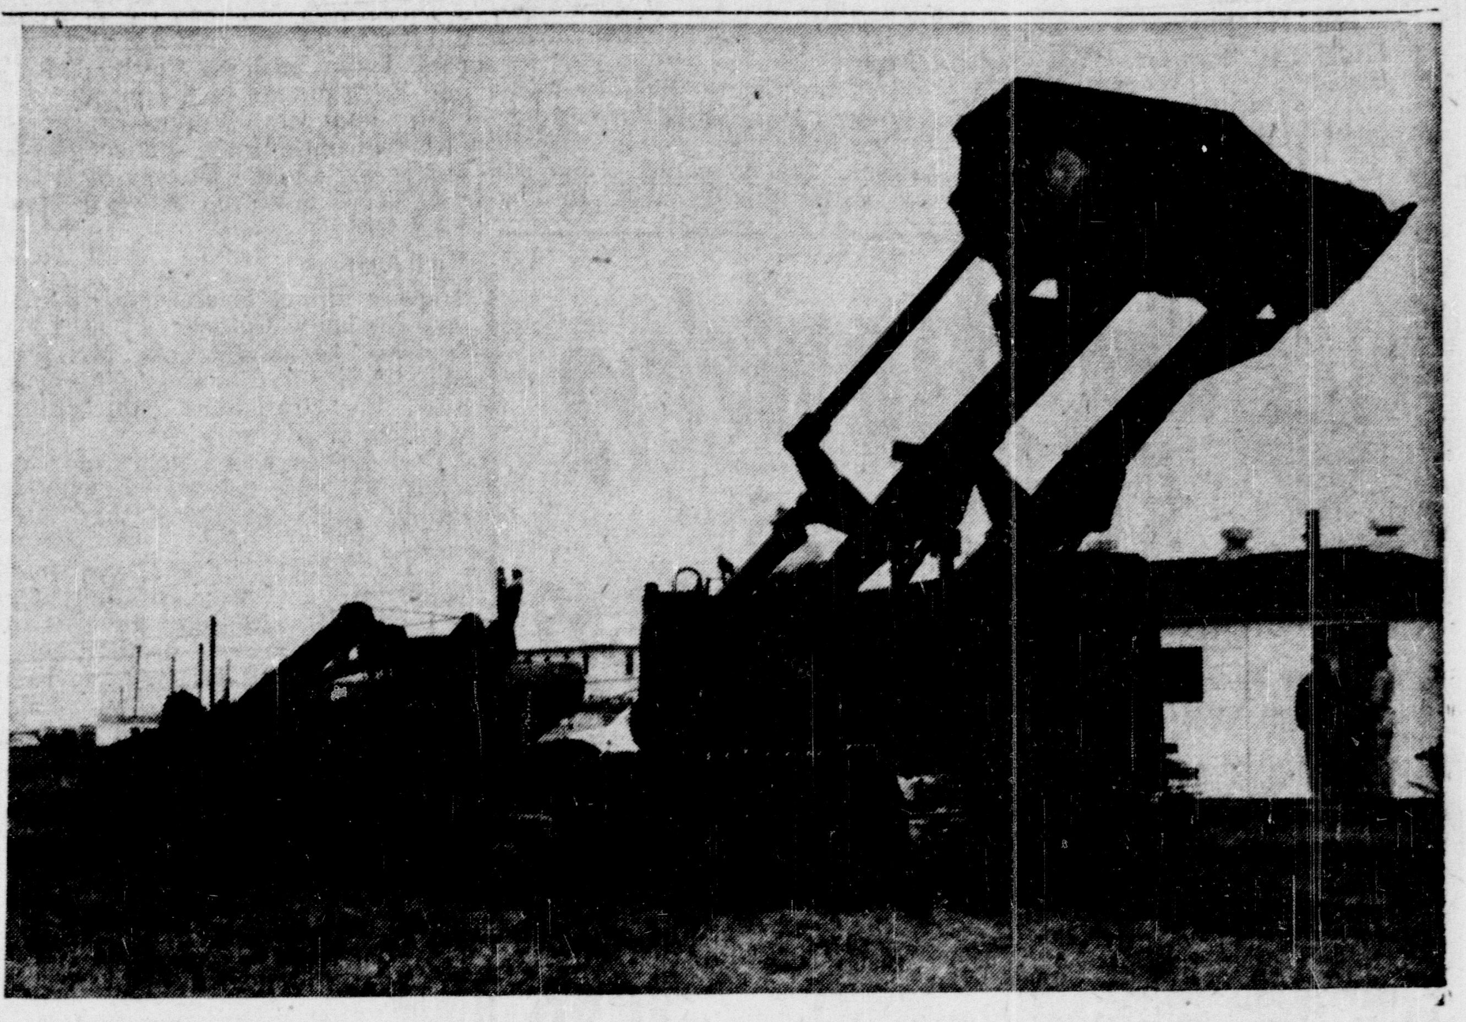
Construction on the Arlington Heights site was started this week by the M. J. McDermott co. of Chicago under the direction of Supt. E. L. Samson.

General excavation and construction of roadways is being done by Doetsch Bros. of Evanston, and Samson expects to be finished with all building by May 1.

A resume of the manner of construction, operation, and number of men, who with their families will be stationed in the surrounding area, and other pertinent information regarding "Nike" will appear in next week's Herald.

Meanwhile, owners of the more than 100 trailers parked in the camp say that every trailer park within a radius of 10 miles is full. Residents in the 36 barrack apartments say there are no other apartments in the region where children are welcome.

In the meantime the government has alotted $33,800 to Forest View school for the education of the children in the airport area.



Graders move in to begin construction of roadways on the site of the old Arlington airport, Central and Wilke rds. Contractors which started work this week expect to be finished by May 1. With work under way on the former landing field, the army hopes to have its new guided missle unit in operation by spring. —Staff Photo

Paint Windows For Halloween This Saturday

The annual Halloween window painting contest will be held Saturday between the hours of 9 and 12 in the morning. This contest is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, which makes arrangements for the windows, furnishes the paint and awards numerous prizes. This year there will be approximately 370 boys and girls participating in the contest from the seventh and eighth grades of the St. Peter school, Our Lady of the Wayside school, and the Junior high school.

This contest is divided into two groups: Class A for 8th graders and Class B for 7th graders.

CASH AWARDS of $5 for 1st prize, $3 for 2nd prize, $2 for 3rd prize and $1 for the next 10 prizes will be awarded in each class. Judging will be done sometime during the afternoon Saturday, and the winning pictures will be designated by appropriate ribbons. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners sometime during the week after the contest.

The standards for the judging shall be originality, composition, quality of drawing and over-all attractiveness. Adult participation would, of course, disqualify any contestant. All painting will be done from the outside of the windows only, and no large pictures may be placed inside of the window from which the painting may be traced.

The contest is directed by Nelson Hauff, the executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, with Donald Grote, principal, and Mrs. Kay Campbell, art teacher, of the junior high school assisting with the arrangements. Four members of the Womens club will serve as judges.

The cooperation that the merchants of the village have given to this project has been most appreciated by the Chamber of Commerce and the various schools concerned.

Movie Filmed At Arlington To Highlight Open House

Arlington Heights high school's 1550 students may get a "movie star" complex as a result of tonight, Thursday's, Open House program for patrons of the local school district.

PARENTS AND friends who attend the program, scheduled for 8 p.m., in the boys' gym, will see a 25 minute film of a day in the life of four typical students. During the making of the picture more than half of the student body managed to come within camera range.

The purpose of the film is to show parents exactly what takes place during the course of a normal school day. To this end, four students were chosen whose programs typified the average student's class schedule.

The camera crew spent a few minutes with each one of these students in their classes during one school day recording the work that the class was doing. In order to give a complete picture of the entire school, some shots of other classes, cafeteria scenes, hallway scenes, gym class shots, and scenes of a few extra-class activities were added.

The film was prepared by Larry Jenness, Carl Nelson, and George Larson, members of the faculty committee. It will be narrated by Larry Jenness, who is also preparing a taped narration for use with the film.

IN ADDITION to being shown at open house, the film will serve as a part of the orientation program for new students, can be shown to graduating 8th grade classes, and will be available for showing to community groups.

The program will also include the introduction of new teachers and the board members by Supt. Harold Slichenmyer, a series of building tours designed to acquaint new members of the community with the high school facilities, and a period for teacher-parent visitations. Teachers will be located at points in and around the new gym where they may be easily found by parents.

The program, which has been prepared by the public relations committee, will be emceed by Bruno Waara.

VFW To Hold Benefit Dance November 6

A turkey party will be held in connection with the dance, with Harold Luettschwager in charge of arrangements. The general public is invited to attend and tickets are one dollar per person. Refreshments will also be available.

The club house, which is under construction on W. Northwest hwy., is nearing completion and it is hoped it will be ready for occupancy by January 1. These facilities will be available to the general public to use for club meetings and other social affairs.

Post 981 extends an invitation to all GI's to join the post. Further information can be had by calling the Quartermaster Robert Koeppen, CL 3-0686, or the Junior Vice Commander Robert Carter, CL 3-3283. Members are reminded to pay their 1955 dues on time.

Hold All Day Session To Read Codification Of Village Ordinances

Probably one of the longest village board meetings in the history of Arlington Heights was held Tuesday, beginning at 8 a.m. and continuing until 11 p.m., with only an hour's rest for lunch and two hours for dinner.

This meeting climaxed a series of special sessions held for the purpose of reading the codification of all village ordinances which had been prepared by Attorney Thomas Matthews and Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal. This is the first codification of ordinances since 1929.

The trustees, along with President Albert Goedke, the village manager, village clerk and attorney, had to read each page of the 382 page book, word for word.

Now that the first reading has been completed the attorneys will make the necessary corrections before resubmitting it to the board for a second reading and its ultimate approval. With its passage the village will then have all of its ordinances at its fingertips for the first time in more than 25 years.

Still Time To Learn How To Operate Voting Machine

The voters of Cook county northwest towns will use voting machines for the first time November 2. The only exceptions are precincts that are partly within and without the Chicago Sanitary District. One of these is Rolling Meadows precinct within the village of Palatine.

"Sample" machines are being set up in the village halls of Arlington Heights, Wheeling and Mount Prospect.

Mrs. Orville Senne will demonstrate the machine at Arlington Heights, week days, 4 to 9 p.m. and Saturdays, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the village hall.

Wheeling will have two voting machines at the village hall. There will be a demonstrator there every day until election day, from 10 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Kenneth Olsen will have charge of the demonstration at Mount Prospect. The hours will be weekdays 10 to 12 a.m., 5 to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Raymond Holtzee will demonstrate the machine at Palatine which will be in the office of the Palatine Chamber of Commerce on N. Bothwell st., daily, except Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fridays, the hours will be 4 to 9 p.m.

Airport School To Benefit

Forest View School District No. 56, S. State rd., Elk Grove township, is listed among the first of communities for which federal funds have been reserved by school construction projects in "Federal affected" defense areas, as announced in Washington, D. C. Wednesday by Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, commissioner of education.

The amount totals $33,800. The latest reservation totaling $28,431,784 has been set aside by the office of education, U. S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, under provisions of Title 3 of public law 815 as amended and authorized by the 83rd Congress.

FUNDS WILL be used to assist Forest View school and 108 other local school districts in 28 states and Hawaii to provide necessary classroom accommodations for the increased enrollments which have resulted from nearby federal installations. A section of the Forest View school was located at the Arlington Airport, which has recently been taken over for a guided missile site by the Fifth Army.

The present additional reservation of funds brings to more than $68 million dollars the total reserved to date under that act.

Kimball Hill To Distribute $5,000 As Prizes To Home Landscapers

Kimball Hill has awarded $5,000 in cash prizes to Rolling Meadows home owners who participated in the Landscape Contest last month.

Presentation of the awards will be made November 9 at a meeting of the civic association.

The contest was open to all Rolling Meadows home owners who had moved into their homes by September 25. Purpose of the competition was to stimulate and promote interest and activity in developing individual home grounds.

Grading was 40% for maintenance, 25% for design, 20% for selection of plant material, and 15% for added features.

Judges were Marion Jordan, superintendent of Palatine schools, Roy Clavey, past president of the National Association of Nurserymen, and William Rose, landscape architect.

The judges took two days to complete their tabulations.

Why Mail Was Delayed

A U.S. mail semi-trailer truck serving northwest towns, jackknifed and overturned Tuesday morning in the heavy fog, causing a delay in mail service between Park Ridge and Barrington.

The mail bags weren't delivered to the local post offices until 5 p.m. and had to wait overnight before sorting could be done on Wednesday.

Dog Gone?

"If your dog has disappeared check the Arlington Heights police station first," advises Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog.

The department has had numerous complaints about dogs running at large and a great many people have had to pay a $5 fine to get their pet out of "jail." To avoid such a hardship the Chief advises residents to be careful about keeping their pets tied and on their own premises.

'Royal Family' Title Of Senior Class Play

"The Royal Family," a comedy in three acts, by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, will be presented by the senior class of Arlington Heights high school November 12 and 13 at the high school.

"The Royal Family" had its first opening in New York December 28, 1927. It was one of the big first nights of that year, being received enthusiastically by the first night audience and the critics. The play remained at the head of the list of popular dramatic offerings throughout the season.

Since that time the play has received numerous and frequent productions in summer theatres, community theatres, college and university theatres and in high schools. On September 15 television offered the play in a production which boasted one of the most auspicious casts ever seen in a dramatic show on television. The cast included Helen Hayes, Fredric March, Charles Coburn, Claudette Colbert, Nancy Oleson.

The leading characters will be played by Barbara Sheets, Laird Williamson, Dena Klingler, Pat Mors, Ray Miller, Pete Holloway, Russ Igoe, Bob Peters, Dorothy Balch, Marlene Kerschke, Larry Fischer, and Dick Palmer.

Douglas Murphy, English and dramatics teacher, is directing the play. Cheryl Sparling is student director.

Tickets will be sold by members of the class at 50 cents for students, 75 cents for adults.

President of the Dorcas aid, Mrs. Herman Schwolow and Mrs. Albert Kehe, president of the Ladies aid, have planned to supply demands of Christmas shoppers. In charge of the booths are: Mrs. Floyd Burns, handmade rugs; Mrs. Henry Moehling, embroidered pillow cases and fancy linens; Mrs. Ed Grewe, aprons; Mrs. William Behn, handkerchiefs and "knick knacks"; Mrs. Werner Bohelmann, towels; and Mrs. Elroy Winkelmann, bakery goods.

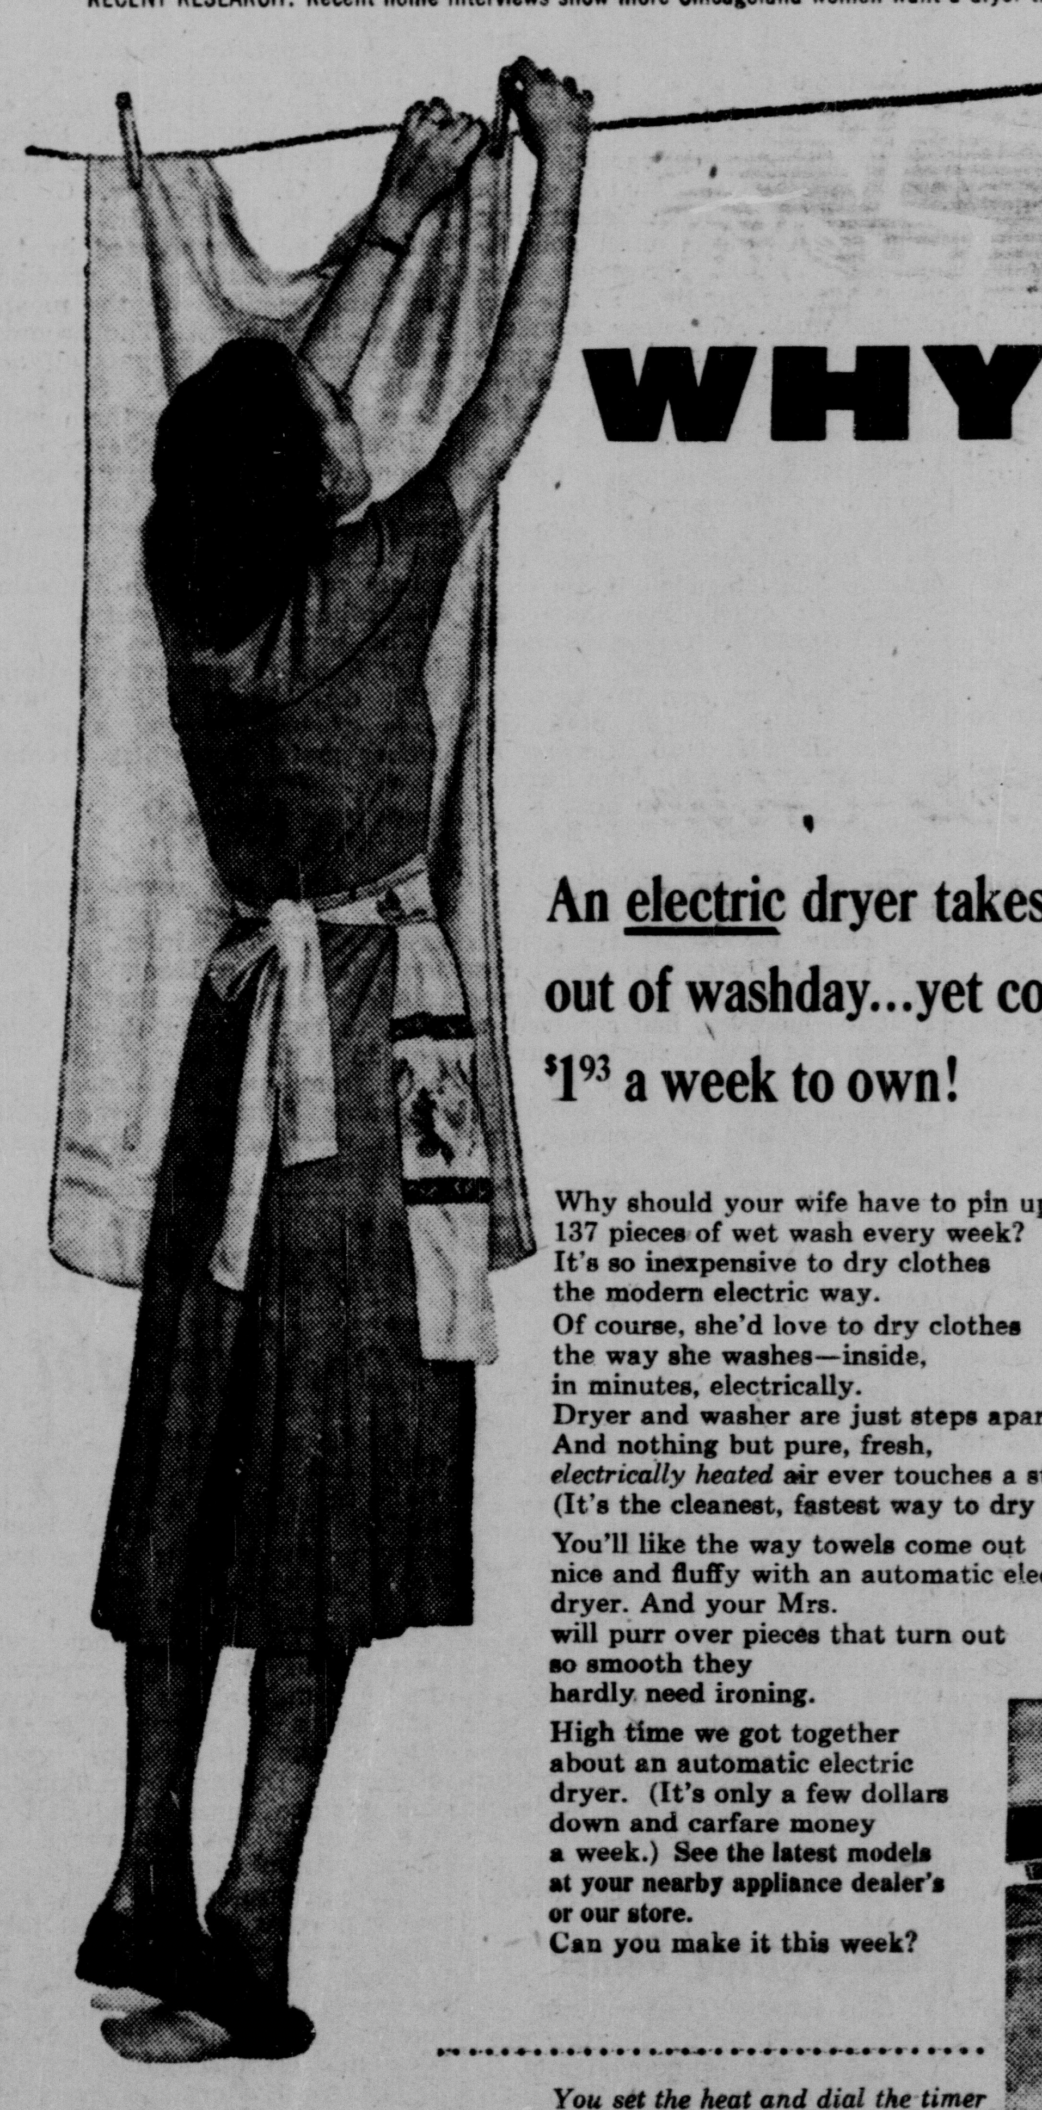
RECENT RESEARCH: Recent home interviews show more Chicagoland women want a dryer than any other work-saver.


WHY?
An electric dryer takes the work out of washday...yet costs only $1.93 a week to own!
Why should your wife have to pin up
137 pieces of wet wash every week?
It's so inexpensive to dry clothes
the modern electric way.
Of course, she'd love to dry clothes
the way she washes—inside, in minutes, electrically.
Dryer and washer are just steps apart.
And nothing but pure, fresh,
electrically heated air ever touches a stitch.
(It's the cleanest, fastest way to dry clothes.)
You'll like the way towels come out nice and fluffy with an automatic electric dryer. And your Mrs. will purr over pieces that turn out so smooth they hardly need ironing.
High time we got together about an automatic electric dryer. (It's only a few dollars down and carfare money
a week.) See the latest models

Can you make it this week?

You set the heat and dial the timer

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mell have returned from a vacation trip to the Smoky and Blue Ridge mountains. They did about seven days of solid mountain driving and gladly welcomed the sight of a level wide open highway after that week While on their long excursion through the mountain roads they came upon a unique village called Fontanna village which is leased from the government. This little town is so hidden in the mountains that it can easily be overlooked. While Mom and Dad Mell were taking in the sights south, their daughter, Laurel, vacationed in New York with a girl friend. The girls enojyed seeing television shows, Mr. Peepers among them, also musicals that the big city offers.

Weekend in Moline

The Norman Johnsons spent the weekend in Moline where Mr. Johnson attended a state board meeting of the Jaycees of which he is a national director He also attended an eight state meeting in Davenport while in that area. Mrs. Lillian Bryan accompanied the Johnsons on their trip to Moline, her home town. She enjoyed the weekend by visiting with her many sisters and relatives in that town.

We are hoping for a quick recovery for Caroline and David Neas, who are ill with the chicken pox.

Mrs. Marvette Ballou would like to take this opportunity to thank the many mothers in this area who were so willing to help in the girl scout campaign for funds. Mrs. Ballou, captain, had as her co-workers, the following women: Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. Advalt Hartwig, Mrs. Don Barker, Mrs. Myron Kuhlman, Mrs. Del Barrick, Mrs. Frank Edmonds, Mrs. Neal Lozin, Mrs. Charles Barrett, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. William Buschart, Mrs. Robert Wallace, Mrs. John Petrie, Mrs. Wallace Hawley and Mrs. Dudley Hansen.

Jacquey had as her guests, the following children: Carol and Jimmy Johnson, Bonnie and Bruce Burdow, Barbara Raasch, Chuckie Minster of Sheboygan, Wis. and Billy Orner, her cousin, of Evanston. With Halloween so close, the party favors were carried out in orange and black and the kiddies are all set with their noise-makers for tricks or treats.

Five Wrecks Towed In Over Weekend

Arlington Body and Fender shop towed in five wrecks this weekend in which only one person was seriously injured.

Three youths rolled over a 1949 sedan Friday at 9 p.m. on rte. 68 east of rte. 83. The car was owned by D. C. Stukey, 911 Church st., Evanston.

A 1941 sedan driven by Percy Smiley, Rand and Quintens rd., Palatine, was involved in a serious collision with a 1953 sedan driven by George Karpiel of Fox River Grove. Karpiel, whose car is a total loss, told police that Smiley smacked the left rear of his car at rte. 14 and Baldwin rd.

An hour later at rte. 62 and Busse, Nelson McCammon failed to see a stop sign and drove his car into a ditch.

At 4 a.m. Saturday four teenagers driving a 1949 sedan sheared off an electric pole and rolled over the car owned by Mike Stabila, 2112 S. 11th, Maywood. Stabila's son, who was hospitalized with a broken nose, said they were driving to Lake Zurich for hamburgers when they struck the pole at rte. 83 and McHenry rd.

The auto of Paul Simms, York Trailer court, Bensenville, was struck by a hit and run driver Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at rte. 62 and State rd. An estimated $150 was done to his car.

Girl Scouts To Restore Founder's Birthplace

Girl Scouts and Brownies recognize October 31 as more than the Halloween it is to everyone else. It is also known by them as the birthday of the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Girls of the troops within the area of the Council of Northwest Cook County have been celebrating this birthday by bringing as a gift the pennies which would represent the price of an ice cream cone. By October 31 they will turn the sums collected over to their neighborhood chairman so that they may be sent on to Savannah, Georgia, to help make a dream come true.

The birthplace and childhood home of Juliette Gordon Low the founder of the Girl Scouting movement in the United States, is in Savannah. Purchased by funds advanced by the national board of directors of the Girl Scout association, its restoration, maintenance and use in being planned for by a special committee.

To accomplish these plans a fund is necessary. All contributions from girls and adults all over the country added together, will build the fund which will build "a unique center for Girl Scouting in this country--a place where ideas for new troop activities can be tried out, where there will be records of the past and plans for the future of Girl Scouting where girls from all over the world may come together to find friendship and inspiration"—as Lilly MacIntosh, chairman of the Juliette Gordon Low Birthplace committee so well described it.

Junior High Receives Parents

For many parents of sixth grade children, an unusual treat was in store Monday night when they had the opportunity to follow, in abbreviated form, their child's schedule from classroom to classroom, and hear the teachers' explanations of courses of study, teaching methods, and other information relating to the child's first year in junior high. On the following night, seventh and eighth grade parents had the same opportunity to become acquainted with their children's instructors, and friendly relations became more firmly established over refreshments, which followed the classroom sessions. Hostesses Monday night were mothers of the first three sixth-grade sections, and for Tuesday night, mothers of the first three eighth grade sections.

Next Tuesday is Vital Day

Results at the polls next Tuesday will determine whether voters in suburban Cook County continue to be deprived of their full voice in Illinois legislation, or whether they will be represented by six state senators, instead of one, and by seven representatives, instead of one. The meager and totally unequal representation now given to suburban Cook County voters is the root, say civic leadersand responsible legislators, of the failure of many measures designed to combat the rising tide of crime, to modernize the judicial system, and to provide for the critical needs of our youth. Watch for your Blue Ballot when you go to the polls, and be sure to vote it!

"Gifted Child" Program November 3

The problems of children who have unusual talents or superior intelligence, and their handling in the public educational system will be discussed November 3 by a number of outstanding educators who are well-qualified in this field. Moderator for the program will be Paul A. Witty, Ph. D., professor of education at Northwestern; the other speakers are Dorothy E. Norris, supervisor, major works classes, department of instruction, Cleveland; Lloyd S. Michael, Ph. D., superintendent, Evanston Township high school; and James J. Gallagher, Ph. D., Institute for Research on the Exceptional Child, University of Illinois.

The program will be presented at 8:15 p.m. at the Logan school, Central and Prairie ave., Wilmette. Anyone with an interest in this subject will wish to hear this unusual presentation, which is being sponsored by District 21 of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Council Meeting November 4

An Opportunity for members and officers of PTA to receive an overall picture of the workings of the organization will be presented November 4, when the Northwest Suburban council will meet in Des Plaines, at the First Congregational church, Graceland and Marion sts. Beginning at 9:15 a.m., the morning session will have as its speaker Mrs. Harold R. Williams, a past president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, who will speak on "PTA Policies, Procedures and Objectives." The afternoon session will be addressed by Mrs. Harold Cole, parent education chairman for District 21, whose topic will be "Looking Ahead in Parent Education."

Both of these women have had outstanding experience in PTA work and educational problems, and any person who can attend this meeting will be assured of an interesting and informative program. The meeting is expected to adjourn at 2:15 p.m.

Pre-School Census To Be Taken

Arrangements are being made for a house-to-house canvass of the entire school district in an effort to gain some idea of the number of pre-school children who may be expected to enroll in Arlington Heights schools in the next few years. Since some interest has been expressed in the formation of a study group for parents of pre-school children, and not much information has been available on how many such families are now living here, the census will serve a 3-fold purpose providing a basis for the formation of such a group, furnishing helpful data to the health and summer round-up committee, and supplying the schools about future enrollment.

A representative from each elementary school has been asked to take charge of the census in her area, and to recruit volunteers for the job. Fifteen to 25 workers will be needed for each district. Mrs. Robert van Ee will handle the census for New South school, Mrs. William Ferry for Dryden school, Mrs. Victor Bedingfield for North school, and Mrs. Lyle Ewing Jr., for Ridge school.

Bundle Days Set Record

The biggest response ever given in Arlington Heights to the appeal for used clothing for bundle days was received last week, when 3500 pounds of clothing were collected, bagged, and sent to the Children's Federation for distribution to needy families in our country and others. The Federation had supplied 120 bags, but 132 bags were required to take care of the donations made by the generous citizens of Arlington Heights, reports Mrs. E. J. Roble, chairman of the welfare activities committee of the PTA. The PTA's thanks go to Joseph Pitzen, who donated his services and a cartage truck to help in the collection. Many volunteer workers, including school principals, also deserve a vote of thanks for their assistance, and a groan of sympathy for the lame backs they undoubtedly received as a reward. Local pharmacists no doubt wondered why the sales of liniment soared so abruptly Friday and Saturday.

Boots and Skates To Be Sold Next Week Nov. 6

Next Thursday and Friday are the days for outgrown boots, rubbers, ice skates and roller skates to be brought to each school, marked with the owner's name and the price desired. The footwear will be collected from the various schools and put on sale from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday, November 6, in the junior high gymnasium. Payment to sellers will be made only between 12 o'clock and 2 p.m., with the PTA retaining 20 per cent of the purchase price. Mrs. Albert Dunham, chairman of this event (telephone CL 3-5663) suggests that the exchange is an excellent way of turning outgrown footwear into profit, and at thd same time acquiring boots and skates to fit growing children. Purchasers are welcome to try on the items to be sure of a good fit.

Items offered for sale will be received at the various schools as follows: Dryden and North schools, 9 to 9:30 a.m., 1 to 1:30 p.m. Ridge and New South schools, 8 to 8:30 a.m., 12:30 to 1 p.m. Junior High, 8 to 8:30 a.m., 12 to 12:30 p.m.

"The Male Animal" Set For November 19-20

The Village Theatre production of "The Male Animal," which will be sponsored by the Arlington Heights PTA, will be given Friday and Saturday evenings, November 19 and 20, at the junior high school gymnasium. With such an excellent play as its vehicle, the Village Theatre is expected to chalk up another success in its long list of outstanding productions. Tickets will go on sale soon, and parents of school-age children will be contacted by their room-mothers.

Still Need Bridge Couples

Mrs. Raymong Driscoll reports that although two husband and wife teams responded to last week's appeal for couples to form another evening round robin, two more couples are needed to complete the round. Those who may have missed the original deadline for signing up are urged to call Mrs. Driscoll at CL 3-5314, in order that the new round robin may be started by November 1.

The Talent Show Needs You

Although many versatile and talented people have responded to the call for performers to appear in the adult talent show to be given in February, more volunteers are needed. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hawley, who are in charge of the production, suspect that a wholesale bushel-overturning would reveal many lights hidden thereunder, which could be put to better use in the talent show. Featured performers are not needed so much as people willing to take part, for instance, in a chorus line, or to sing in a group. Even a strong back can be found a place (scenery needs shifting, everyone knows), so crawl out of that bushel and call CL 3-5017. No Actors' Equity card is needed.

Safety Measures For Dryden and Ridge

Mrs. Howard Trendel, safety chairman, reports that a meeting was held Monday with Chief Skoog of the Arlington Heights police department, Dennis Malcolmson, principal of Ridge school, and Robert Campbell, principal of Dryden school, to discuss changes needed to protect children going to and from these schools. It was decided that the patrol officer stationed at Dryden place should be transferred to Lincoln, where traffic congestion seems to be heavier. Because of the lack of sidewalks in the Ridge school area, it was agreed to establish one-way traffic on Fernandez st. south to Vine, and east on Vine to Ridge ave. In addition, warning signs are to be placed in the center of each street crossing on Elm st.

Singing Grandmothers To Present Comedy

Chapeau Club of Fr. Linden Council Knights of Columbus will present "The Shining Hour," a 2-hour laugh hit with Kathryn Skeffington and Her Singing Grandmothers chorus November 6. Maine Township high school's auditorium has been reserved for this event.

All seats are unreserved, and tickets may be obtained from any member of Fr. Linden council. Free parking is available, and the show will start at 8:15 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend this comedy featuring stage, radio, and TV stars of yesterday and today.

'Singing Grandmothers Chorus, Inc.' is well known throughout the Chicagoland area and has received acclaim for several years. "The Shining Hour" is a brand new show for this season, with entertainment for the entire family. Ticket chairman Eugene Dupuis has distributed tickets among members of Fr. Linden council, and a sellout crowd is the goal of the committee.

Among the numbers to be presented will be "McNamera's Band," "Soft Shoe Waltz," and the "Charleston." (B4

This Week with PTA

Junior High Receives Parents

For many parents of sixth grade children, an unusual treat was in store Monday night when they had the opportunity to follow, in abbreviated form, their child's schedule from classroom to classroom, and hear the teachers' explanations of courses of study, teaching methods, and other information relating to the child's first year in junior high. On the following night, seventh and eighth grade parents had the same opportunity to become acquainted with their children's instructors, and friendly relations became more firmly established over refreshments, which followed the classroom sessions. Hostesses Monday night were mothers of the first three sixth-grade sections, and for Tuesday night, mothers of the first three eighth grade sections.

Next Tuesday is Vital Day

Results at the polls next Tuesday will determine whether voters in suburban Cook County continue to be deprived of their full voice in Illinois legislation, or whether they will be represented by six state senators, instead of one, and by seven representatives, instead of one. The meager and totally unequal representation now given to suburban Cook County voters is the root, say civic leadersand responsible legislators, of the failure of many measures designed to combat the rising tide of crime, to modernize the judicial system, and to provide for the critical needs of our youth. Watch for your Blue Ballot when you go to the polls, and be sure to vote it!

"Gifted Child" Program November 3

The problems of children who have unusual talents or superior intelligence, and their handling in the public educational system will be discussed November 3 by a number of outstanding educators who are well-qualified in this field. Moderator for the program will be Paul A. Witty, Ph. D., professor of education at Northwestern; the other speakers are Dorothy E. Norris, supervisor, major works classes, department of instruction, Cleveland; Lloyd S. Michael, Ph. D., superintendent, Evanston Township high school; and James J. Gallagher, Ph. D., Institute for Research on the Exceptional Child, University of Illinois.

The program will be presented at 8:15 p.m. at the Logan school, Central and Prairie ave., Wilmette. Anyone with an interest in this subject will wish to hear this unusual presentation, which is being sponsored by District 21 of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Registrations Reach Peak In YMCA Program

Thomas M. Blake, chairman of the Northwest Suburban YMCA and Earl Riley, vice chairman for Arlington Heights, announced that 947 persons responded to 32 program activities offered for the fall and winter by the Northwest Suburban YMCA. The response to the newly formed program was in many activities so large that it was necessary to disappoint many youngsters since a maximum enrollment was maintained in order to insure good standards in the program.

Many individuals, however, have made reservations for the next session of activities which will begin during the month of January. The staff and members of the board of directors will continue to work to establish adequate facilities so that all may participate. Any parent who would like to help in the program is encouraged to contact the YMCA office.

The YMCA has been functioning in the community from an office at 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines, since last January and will develop at a rate determined by the need and interest of the community. Because of the response to the program during the past year, consideration is now under way by the board of directors to the possibility of establishing a major YMCA building in the area. It has been indicated that the YMCA of Chicago will match dollar for dollar every cent raised in the community for such a building. So that they may make decisions that reflect the will of the community, members of the board of directors would appreciate opinions and help from the community residents who feel strongly that a YMCA would be a force for good in the northwest area.

Kathy Dreiling Becomes Bride Of George Raupp

(Community Camera

In a ceremony performed by Father Ballweber at the 10 a.m. mass at St. Mary's church, Buffalo Grove, Miss Kathy Drieling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dreiling, Penokee, Kan., became the bride of George L. Raupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Raupp, Schoenbeck road, Arlington Heights. White mums and pompons decorated the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white lace dress fashioned with scalloped neckline trimmed with rhinestones, long sleeves and a hooped skirt ending in a long train. Her finger tip veil was held to her head by a crown of lace with rhinestones and she carried a white orchid with white carnations.

Mrs. Marvin Horcher of Mount Prospect, served her sister as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Stanley Nordstrom of Waukegan, also a sister of the bride, Mrs. Teddy Raupp of Prairie View, sister-in-law of the groom and Miss Mary Lou Raupp, sister of the groom. The bride's 7-year-old niece, Donna Mae Weidner of Arlington Heights, served as flower girl. Mint green net over taffeta gowns were worn by the matron of honor and the flower girl and toast colored gowns by the bridesmaids. Their gowns were made with ballerina-length skirts and basque bodices. They wore crowns to match their gowns and carried bouquets of red and yellow carnations.

The groom's 7-year-old cousin, Tommy Mueller, served as ring bearer in a miniature tuxedo. He carried a lace-trimmed white velvet pillow with the rings.

Best man to the groom was his brother, Danny Raupp and ushers were the bride's brother, Elmer Dreiling and Teddy and Jerome Raupp, brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Dreiling received the wedding guests wearing a blue nylon dress with blue hat and blue accessories while the groom's mother wore a grey-blue dress with pink hat and blue accessories.

Six-hundred guests attended the wedding reception held in St. Mary's school. The reception was followed by a dinner for the family and close friends, after which the newlyweds left for a brief wedding trip to Wisconsin. They are now residing in Prairie View.

Elmer V. Milka Takes Wisconsin Bride

In an autumn wedding solemnized October 2 at 9 o'clock in St. Anthony's Catholic church, Athens, Wis., Miss Mary Ann Rausch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nic Rausch of Athens, exchanged vows in a double ring cerermony with Elmer V. Milka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Milka of Arlington Heights.

The solemn nuptial high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Frank Brickl, assisted by the Rev. Norbert Wilger, deacon and the Rev. Edward Roskos as sub deacon.

The bride was escorted down the white-carpeted aisle to the gladioli and mum-banked altar by her father. She was attired in a white satin cathedral-length gown with imported lace forming the bodice, long sleeves and a tunic effect on the skirt. Pearls and rhinestones edged the scalloped nylon yoke and tunic. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion, bordered with chantilly lace, fell from a coronation crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of two white purple-throated orchids and stephanotis intermingled with fern-tipped white streamers.

Mrs. Enos Gauerke, Athens, attired in a shrimp crystallete gown with fitted bodice and full skirt topped by a brief bolero, attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Clark Potlak, Chicago, cousin of the groom, Miss Rose Marie Rausch, Athens, and Mrs. Ray Writz, Des Plaines, cousins of the bride. They wore identical gowns in aqua and carried crescent bouquets centered with bronze chrysanthemums edged with yellow mums tied with ribbbons of shrimp and aqua. Tinted chrysanthemums made wreaths for their hair.

Carmen Bergs, 3-year-old niece of the bride, was attired in a replica of the bridal gown and wore a pompon wreath of white mums with a veil. She carried an all-white bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Raymond Nickey, Chicago, served as best man. Walter Rausch, cousin of the bride of Athens, and Ray Writz, Des Plaines, were groomsmen. Thomas Rausch, 6-year-old nephew of the bride, was ring bearer, dressed in a miniature midnight blue tuxedo. He carried the rings on a white satin and lace heart-shaped pillow.

The bride's mother chose a light blue lace over taffeta dress with navy and white accessories while the groom's mother was in a gray flecked faille ensemble with blue accessories. Their corsages were of pink rosebuds and white mums.

A reception attended by 300 guests was held throughout the day at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding breakfast and dinner were served in St. Anthony school hall.

The couple honeymooned at the Blackhills and Yellowstone national park and are now making their home in McHenry. The groom is a salesman for Oscar Meyer and company.

News of Rolling Meadows

HELENE BRISTOL, Editor 2104 South Street CLearbrook 3-8125

Election Day!

To make voting as easy and painless a process as possible, the Civic Committee of the Home Owners' Association has arranged to move the precinct polling place right here to Rolling Meadows. It will be in one of the sales offices of Kimball Hill and Associates at 2005 Campbell st. If, in spite of the nearness of the polling place, you find you will be unable to get out to vote because of small children or other reasons, special assistance has been provided. A roving team of "chauffeur baby-sitters" in the persons of Fred Schultz, Bill Hickey and Al Haase will be touring the subdivision in their cars ready to offer assistance to anyone needing it. They will gladly drive you to the polling place or baby-sit with your children while you vote, or both if you desire. With this "helping hand" a nearly perfect 100 per cent turnout of voters doesn't seem to be too much to hope for.

Hello World

A new "queen" has been crowned here in Rolling Meadows. She is now the reigning princess of the Al Bruno household at 2409 George st. That seems like a pretty fast rise in the world for a little lady who only entered it October 18, at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, but it's surprising what a little bit of femininity only 6 pounds 7 ounces can do occasionally. She has been named Laura.

Another "princess" recently arrived in Rolling Meadows, too. She is little Maryann Marczuk who arrived August 24. Maryann has three sisters at home to keep her company, however, and the four young ladies manage to keep their parents, the Edmond Marczuks, pretty busy most of the time in their new home at 2509 Meadow dr.

Card Clubs

The successful organization of a "Canasta Card Club" has been accomplished by Dolores Szwiec at 2504 Fremont st., and the first meeting of the club is planned for November 1. Anyone else interested in starting a card or hobby club of some sort be sure to let the reporter know, as she will gladly give all the help she can through the column.

That avid bridge player, Gene Farrell, is still trying to organize a bridge club of Rolling Meadows couples. While a "couples club" does pose more of a baby-sitter problem, it isn't unsurmountable — and a monthly evening of bridge certainly would prove stimulating as well as loads of good fun. Anyone interested in playing contract bridge by all means call Gene or Alice Farrell at Clearbrook 3-7558.

Blood Donors

Don Dahlquist of Sigwalt st. is still trying to organize a Rolling Meadows "Volunteer Blood Bank." Anyone who has ever been faced by the tremendous expense of paying for blood when blood donors have not been available, will certainly realize how important this activity can be. The donation of blood is practically painless, and can mean very much to those who have sickness in their families. Anyone who would like to place his name on call for this "good neighbor" activity please call Don Dahlquist at Clearbrook 3-0889.

Sympathy

Her many neighbors and friends have expressed their sympathy to Mrs. Dorothy Thompson of 2504 Sigwalt st. over the loss of her father. Mrs. Thompson's father, who had been ill for several months in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, was buried last October 21.

Block Party

Temporary Block Captains

Pending an opportunity to hold a block meeting for Fremont st., two of the new residents there have generously volunteered to act as temporary block captains to serve their neighbors. These civic-minded men are Bill Tully and Frank Braiske, and their neighbors should appreciate their generous service.

Christening

Exactly one month elapsed between the arrival September 3 of Mary Janet Rooney and her christening October 3. Mary Janet's proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rooney of 2307 Eastman st., held a real christening party for about 25 people following the christening at Our-Lady-Of-The-Wayside church in Arlington Heights.

Cub Scouts

A meeting November 4 has been planned for the entire pack committee, den mothers, and Robert Applehans of the Signal Hill district, who is assisting in the organization of the Rolling Meadows Cub Scout pack. The meeting is planned to arrange for the first pack meeting. A Rolling Meadowite has been found who has tentatively agreed to act as Cubmaster for the pack, and the announcement of his appointment will follow the November 4 meeting. In the meantime, the den meetings of the Cub Scouters will continue each Thursday evening between 7 and 8 p.m. under the guidance of Mrs. Eleanor Keller, assisted by Mrs. Grace Martin, and Mrs. George Sladek, assisted by Mrs. Ed Garrity. Any little boy from the ages of 8 to 11 is invited to join the Cub pack committee, at Clearbrook 5-0851.

Visitors

Joe and Jeannine Waldin of 2310 Dove st. have been the temporary hosts to Mrs. Waldin's family pending the completion of their home in McHenry. Jeannine's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Wachter, and her sister, Nadine, arrived in Rolling Meadows during our recent "slight" rainfall, and in the midst of the downpour moved in. They were a little anxious over their McHenry home, which is located near the Fox River, when they saw what a river Dove st. itself was, but everything proved to be all right— even Dove st.!

P.T.A.

Mrs. Gretchen White of 2507 Sigwalt st. has been appointed a member of the board of directors of the Palatine Parent-Teachers Association. Mrs. White attended her first meeting of the board in Palatine and was enthusiastically welcomed as a representative from Rolling Meadows. The PTA is currently engaged in a "Round-Up" membership drive, and the parents of all Rolling Meadows school children are being contacted through literature sent home from the school with the children. The regular PTA meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month, and every parent of a school child or others who are interested are invited to attend. Anyone with questions regarding the PTA organization or meetings Mrs. White will gladly do everything she can to assist you. Her number is Clearbrook 3-8332.

Birthday Celebrations

Little Kenny Heinrich of 2106 South st. really celebrated his eighth birthday — he had not one, but two, birthday parties. A family celebration was held Sunday, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Heinrich, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Heinrich Jr., were on hand for the important observance. The real "party" was held Monday, however, when Kenny was host to 15 of his young friends. The important feature of the party almost didn't show up though. A mix-up at the bakery sent Kenny's birthday cake to some other home, and after a two-hour search for it through country back roads, Kenny's father managed to get the bakery to decorate another. The young guests were unaware of the cake problems, however, since there was also plenty of ice cream, sandwiches, coke, candy and pop to assist with the cake-eating.

His fifth birthday was the occasion for little Emile Bouchez to treat his entire kindergarten class. Emile, the son of Alice and Emile (Frenchy) Bouchez of 2002 St. James st., brought a total of 28 cupcakes to his afternoon kindergarten class, to the delight of all of his classmates. The birthday surprises didn't end with the kindergarten party though — little Emile is now the proud owner of a new Mickey Mouse watch, too!

Sunday, October 17, was the occasion for the 11th birthday observance of Patricia Hoppock of 2313 Eastman st. Patty, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hoppock, was hostess to a large group of aunts and uncles as well as her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Doornbosch, and grandmother, Mrs. Effie Hoppock, at a birthday supper.

Accidents

A hunting accident brought near-tragedy to Clarence Paeglow of 2804 Meadow dr. Last week while on a hunting expedition, Clarence's shotgun backfired, and he received a blast of powder in his left eye. To date four operations have been performed to remove the powder from the eye, and the doctor is now very hopeful that his sight in the eye will be saved.

Little Maureen Mahoney, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mahoney of Wing st., fell off the kitchen table last week and was rushd to the doctor in Arlington Heights. Fortunately, no serious damage was done — other than the scare which her poor mother suffered!

Another young accident victim of Wing st. was Larry Geimer. Larry was bit by his own little puppy, Bimbo, and was taken for tetanus shots immediately. The little dog, who really is a "Bimbo" according to Larry's father, Ray Geimer, is now at the vets under observation, and everyone is very hopeful of the favorable outcome of the rabies check.

"Some people will do anything to get out of work" was the observation of a visiting group of Dick Dewar's neighbors "cheering" their "sick" friends. Dick, who lives at 2309 Wing st., dropped a door on his foot and broke his big toe in no less than four places. His neighbors claim that a toe isn't big enough to be broken that many times — but while they cheerfully "ride" him they are busy pitching in to lend a hand.

Tribute

For 22 years Mrs. Effie Hoppock was the faithful organist and choir director at the St. Paul Congregational church at Fullerton and Keeler aves in Chicago. Since moving to Rolling Meadows with her son and his family to their new home at 2313 Eastman st., Mrs. Hoppock has found it necessary to give up her duties, and Sunday, marked her last Sunday of service to her old church. In honor of her untiring devotion and selfless service to Christianity and to her church, a farewell party was held for her by the church. Many, many of her old friends were present, as well as many former members of the choirs which she has directed. The surprise tribute was climaxed by a gift of $125 to Mrs. Hoppock as a small remembrance from her old friends and fellow parishoners. Mrs. Hoppock, who has now "retired" from active church work, is looking forward to starting a new "career" teaching piano here in Rolling Meadows, certainly a wonderful enthusiasm for work which some of the younger oeople could well emulate.

Girl Scouts

Wednesday, marked the first "Investiture" ceremony for the Rolling Meadows Girl Scouts. Following the important observance, a Halloween party was held for the girls by their three leaders, Mrs. Ruthmary Jesperson, Mrs. Evelyn Zupan and Mrs. Gretchen White. The troop is growing by leaps and bounds, and the girls themselves are the most enthusiastic advertisements the Girl Scouts could possibly have. Any young girl from the ages of 10 to 14 is eligible for membership, and serious thought is being given to a Senior Group for girls over 14. If you are interested in joining the troop by all means contact Mrs. Gretchen White at Clearbrook 3-8332; she will be glad to talk to you.

The Girl Scout Fund Drive in Rolling Meadows, under the direction of Mrs. Peggy Schultz of George st., was extremely successful. The enthusiastic group of volunteers collected a total of $286.45 Monday evening, a good response for their first "try" here in Rolling Meadows. The group of Scout mothers and friends who traveled door-to-door canvassing the area were Shirley Johnson, Irene Sharples, Marge Kitterman, Mrs. Chester Person, Val Bozee, Lee Haase, Betty Bycroft, Mrs. Fred Griesman, Lucille Doyle, Florence Nyblin, Jane Self, Mrs. Amundson, Virginia Borgardt, Marrion Garrity, Evelyn Mahoney, Myrla Garrity, Peggy Eichorst, Dorothy Brettner and Lorraine VanWazer. The group would like to thank all of the Rolling Meadows residents for the courtesy and generous donations which made the success of the drive possible. Thanks should also go to the patient fathers who "baby sat" last Monday making it possible for the women to make their canvass.

The committee members, Gloria Campbell, chairman, Chris Pelletier, Arlette Klein, Ethel Larson, Ann Incinelli and Marilyn Peregrine organized plenty of mixer games and everyone entered in with enthusiasm. Refreshments were barbecues, relishes, salad, cake, pie and coffee From all reports it sounds like this will turn into an annual affair.

Feehanville School

At the October meeting of the Feehanville PTA there were two interesting speakers, C. J. Lauer of the C. J. Lauer Insurance agency, and Richard Kozel, chief of the Forest River Volunteer Fire department. Mr. Lauer said, in part:

"School boards are a business in themselves, and some of them get to be a complicated business. I think your board has had some pretty tough problems to solve. We were called in to lend our hand in the building program in that they felt it would be advisable to see what we could do in the way of recommending types of construction which would be helpful to you in your insurance costs. As a general thing these things are left out of the picture until it is over, and then boards do find to their disappointment that there were things they could have complied with very easily which would lighten their insurance costs. The board was interested in a certain type of construction—we took that type of construction and developed other possibilities, and cooperated with the architect in giving the insurance slant on it. At that time we considered eight types of construction and developed premium costs to show what the various types of construction would do . . . and with that, your lowest insurance cost. With that the board was able to make some decision."

(A member of the School Board made this comment — "While the fact that the low cost of insurance premium over the years will be a considerable saving of the taxpayers' money was a big factor in choosing this type of construction, another factor was equally important — and that is that the lower the premium cost, the safer the building — and the safety of the children was the first consideration.")

Mr. Lauer then went on to explain the various other types of insurance on the school, such as tornado, cyclone, liability, and so forth, and held a short question and answer period after the speech.

Mr. Kozel opened his speech with an amusing little story, and went on to say, "October is dedicated to fire prevention, and I think it is a good idea at least once every year that everybody be reminded of the hazards — everybody should take stock of their homes and see what is involved . . . rubbish, oil rags, open paint cans, anything of that nature. I thing we all get forgetful and careless, and carelessness, in my opinion, is probably the main cause of fires, whether it is a loose piece of wiring, a fuse that is overloaded or a frayed lamp cord that somebody intended to get around to. In 1953 there were more than 8 milion dollars in fire losses in the United States. That is a tremendous figure and includes loss of homes, loss of work, loss of income. Matches and cigarettes, together, are the greatest single reason for fires."

After his speech Mr. Kozel demonstrated a smoke mask and explained how it worked and why it is recommended that each fire department own two.

Mrs. Roberta Phar, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, thanked the assembly for the wonderful cooperation received on the last rummage sale, and intimated she was open for suggestions as to what and when the next fund-raising activity should be.

Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth as health chairman explained the various health programs coming up in the near future, including the dental check-up scheduled for last Wednesday.

Mrs. Rita Badalamenti, school board member, introduced the new teacher for the lower grades, Miss Dolores Levis.

Miss Idyl Nipper reported on the information she had received on the Soo Line crossing on Foundry road and urged as many as possible to attend the hearing. She also reported on the Arlington Heights Legislative meeting she attended, and explained a little why it was so important that everybody vote "Yes" on the Blue ballot this coming election.

Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth, program chairman, passed out the yearbook and received many compliments on its appearance as well as on the wealth of information it contains.

Social hour held after the business meeting was made especially festive by the clever work of the Hospitality committee, assisted by the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Bonnie Nowicki, Mrs. Bid Zschach and Mrs. Val Barton The Hospitality committee, Mrs Marguerite Broberg, Mrs. Helen Huege, Mrs. Marty Messner and Mrs. Genevieve Campbell, at their meeting during the week, planned the Halloween decorations — cats, witches, carved pumpkins, and pumpkin pie—on name cards. Mrs. Campbell brought the lovely asters that graced the speakers' table.

Newcomers

Two members of the Welcoming committee, Mrs. Marguerite Broberg and Mrs. Eva Anderson, called on and extended a welcome to the following new members of our community: Jerry Ehorn and wife, Jean, who live at 123 Anita st., with their little daughter Diane, 3½ months old. Eugene Ehorn and wife, Marty, who live on Lee and Hill sts., and have two children, Linda, 3½ years old, and Lester, 1 year. Forest River Church

"Wally" White of Gospel Tabernacle is going to be the principal speaker, and there will be an interesting master of ceremonies and at least one soloist.

The sponsors of the TFC are Ruth Pierson (Sorry, Ruth, I spelled your name "Levine" in last week's column) and Robert Roos. Mr. Roos is also sponsor of the Harper Hi-Cs at Harper high school, in Chicago.

Mrs. Anne Culp and Miss Jean Dick, with Margie Kirste assisting, took advantage of the beautiful weather we had last weekend and brought the Pilgrim girls to the forest preserves for a cook-out last Saturday. Their picnic lasted from 12 to 4:30, and they played games and enjoyed an interesting hike along the bridle path with its well-marked trees.

Ladies' Bible class meeting the last Wednesday of October was scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Betty Shimmin on Foundry road. Later in the evening the ladies planned to surprise Mrs. Ruth Bischof, Mrs. Ruth Levine and the Rev. Clara Pierson with birthday gifts as they had had birthdays during the month. Cake and coffee was also planned, for refreshments.

Last week Tuesday there was a unique stork shower held at the church—unique in that the two grandmothers-to-be. Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Evelyn Martens, opened the packages in the absence of the guest of honor, Mrs. Cynthia Martens, who is living in Tacoma, Wash., where her husband is stationed. After everyone had seen and admired the lovely gifts, each guest rewrapped her own package and they were all packed into one big box to be shipped to Cynthia. Among the guests who attended the shower were Mrs. Larson and a friend from Chicago, Mrs. Roos, Mrs. Marie Sandquist, Mrs. Mae Campbell, Miss Jean Dick, Mrs. Axel Brandt, Mrs. Ruth Bischof, Mrs. Helen Murphy, Mrs. Evelyn Martens, Mrs. Betty Shimmin, Mrs. Edna Gerstung, Mrs. Jeanne Kramer, Carol Larson and a friend, Mrs. Lois Kilroy, Mrs. Bud Larson, Rev. Hi C

Startled residents of Des Plaines did a "double-take" last Saturday when more than 30 members of the Maine Hi Cs (in every imaginable costume) streamed through the streets following the clues of a well-laid treasure hunt. Their Halloween party, held at the home of "Bud" Meyer, got off to a good start by having the guests go through "Spook House" before they could attend the party. Some of the teenagers from here who attended the party were Robert Levine, John Hanson, Bonnie Levine, Robert Martens, Ruth Levine, Phillip Roos, Bonnie Mitchell, Gail Wiltshire, Paul Meyer and Margie Kirste.

News of Rolling Meadows

HELENE BRISTOL, Editor 2104 South Street CLearbrook 3-8125

Election Day!

To make voting as easy and painless a process as possible, the Civic Committee of the Home Owners' Association has arranged to move the precinct polling place right here to Rolling Meadows. It will be in one of the sales offices of Kimball Hill and Associates at 2005 Campbell st. If, in spite of the nearness of the polling place, you find you will be unable to get out to vote because of small children or other reasons, special assistance has been provided. A roving team of "chauffeur baby-sitters" in the persons of Fred Schultz, Bill Hickey and Al Haase will be touring the subdivision in their cars ready to offer assistance to anyone needing it. They will gladly drive you to the polling place or baby-sit with your children while you vote, or both if you desire. With this "helping hand" a nearly perfect 100 per cent turnout of voters doesn't seem to be too much to hope for.

Hello World

A new "queen" has been crowned here in Rolling Meadows. She is now the reigning princess of the Al Bruno household at 2409 George st. That seems like a pretty fast rise in the world for a little lady who only entered it October 18, at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, but it's surprising what a little bit of femininity only 6 pounds 7 ounces can do occasionally. She has been named Laura.

Another "princess" recently arrived in Rolling Meadows, too. She is little Maryann Marczuk who arrived August 24. Maryann has three sisters at home to keep her company, however, and the four young ladies manage to keep their parents, the Edmond Marczuks, pretty busy most of the time in their new home at 2509 Meadow dr.

Card Clubs

The successful organization of a "Canasta Card Club" has been accomplished by Dolores Szwiec at 2504 Fremont st., and the first meeting of the club is planned for November 1. Anyone else interested in starting a card or hobby club of some sort be sure to let the reporter know, as she will gladly give all the help she can through the column.

That avid bridge player, Gene Farrell, is still trying to organize a bridge club of Rolling Meadows couples. While a "couples club" does pose more of a baby-sitter problem, it isn't unsurmountable — and a monthly evening of bridge certainly would prove stimulating as well as loads of good fun. Anyone interested in playing contract bridge by all means call Gene or Alice Farrell at Clearbrook 3-7558.

Blood Donors

Don Dahlquist of Sigwalt st. is still trying to organize a Rolling Meadows "Volunteer Blood Bank." Anyone who has ever been faced by the tremendous expense of paying for blood when blood donors have not been available, will certainly realize how important this activity can be. The donation of blood is practically painless, and can mean very much to those who have sickness in their families. Anyone who would like to place his name on call for this "good neighbor" activity please call Don Dahlquist at Clearbrook 3-0889.

Sympathy

Her many neighbors and friends have expressed their sympathy to Mrs. Dorothy Thompson of 2504 Sigwalt st. over the loss of her father. Mrs. Thompson's father, who had been ill for several months in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, was buried last October 21.

Block Party

Temporary Block Captains

Pending an opportunity to hold a block meeting for Fremont st., two of the new residents there have generously volunteered to act as temporary block captains to serve their neighbors. These civic-minded men are Bill Tully and Frank Braiske, and their neighbors should appreciate their generous service.

Christening

Exactly one month elapsed between the arrival September 3 of Mary Janet Rooney and her christening October 3. Mary Janet's proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rooney of 2307 Eastman st., held a real christening party for about 25 people following the christening at Our-Lady-Of-The-Wayside church in Arlington Heights.

Cub Scouts

A meeting November 4 has been planned for the entire pack committee, den mothers, and Robert Applehans of the Signal Hill district, who is assisting in the organization of the Rolling Meadows Cub Scout pack. The meeting is planned to arrange for the first pack meeting. A Rolling Meadowite has been found who has tentatively agreed to act as Cubmaster for the pack, and the announcement of his appointment will follow the November 4 meeting. In the meantime, the den meetings of the Cub Scouters will continue each Thursday evening between 7 and 8 p.m. under the guidance of Mrs. Eleanor Keller, assisted by Mrs. Grace Martin, and Mrs. George Sladek, assisted by Mrs. Ed Garrity. Any little boy from the ages of 8 to 11 is invited to join the Cub pack committee, at Clearbrook 5-0851.

Visitors

Joe and Jeannine Waldin of 2310 Dove st. have been the temporary hosts to Mrs. Waldin's family pending the completion of their home in McHenry. Jeannine's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Wachter, and her sister, Nadine, arrived in Rolling Meadows during our recent "slight" rainfall, and in the midst of the downpour moved in. They were a little anxious over their McHenry home, which is located near the Fox River, when they saw what a river Dove st. itself was, but everything proved to be all right—even Dove st.!

P.T.A.

Mrs. Gretchen White of 2507 Sigwalt st. has been appointed a member of the board of directors of the Palatine Parent-Teachers Association. Mrs. White attended her first meeting of the board in Palatine and was enthusiastically welcomed as a representative from Rolling Meadows. The PTA is currently engaged in a "Round-Up" membership drive, and the parents of all Rolling Meadows school children are being contacted through literature sent home from the school with the children. The regular PTA meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month, and every parent of a school child or others who are interested are invited to attend. Anyone with questions regarding the PTA organization or meetings Mrs. White will gladly do everything she can to assist you. Her number is Clearbrook 3-8332.

Birthday Celebrations

Little Kenny Heinrich of 2106 South st. really celebrated his eighth birthday — he had not one, but two, birthday parties. A family celebration was held Sunday, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Heinrich, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Heinrich Jr., were on hand for the important observance. The real "party" was held Monday, however, when Kenny was host to 15 of his young friends. The important feature of the party almost didn't show up though. A mix-up at the bakery sent Kenny's birthday cake to some other home, and after a two-hour search for it through country back roads, Kenny's father managed to get the bakery to decorate another. The young guests were unaware of the cake problems, however, since there was also plenty of ice cream, sandwiches, coke, candy and pop to assist with the cake-eating.

His fifth birthday was the occasion for little Emile Bouchez to treat his entire kindergarten class. Emile, the son of Alice and Emile (Frenchy) Bouchez of 2002 St. James st., brought a total of 28 cupcakes to his afternoon kindergarten class, to the delight of all of his classmates. The birthday surprises didn't end with the kindergarten party though — little Emile is now the proud owner of a new Mickey Mouse watch, too!

Sunday, October 17, was the occasion for the 11th birthday observance of Patricia Hoppock of 2313 Eastman st. Patty, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hoppock, was hostess to a large group of aunts and uncles as well as her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Doornbosch, and grandmother, Mrs. Effie Hoppock, at a birthday supper.

Accidents

A hunting accident brought near-tragedy to Clarence Paeglow of 2804 Meadow dr. Last week while on a hunting expedition, Clarence's shotgun backfired, and he received a blast of powder in his left eye. To date four operations have been performed to remove the powder from the eye, and the doctor is now very hopeful that his sight in the eye will be saved.

Little Maureen Mahoney, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mahoney of Wing st., fell off the kitchen table last week and was rushd to the doctor in Arlington Heights. Fortunately, no serious damage was done — other than the scare which her poor mother suffered!

Another young accident victim of Wing st. was Larry Geimer. Larry was bit by his own little puppy, Bimbo, and was taken for tetanus shots immediately. The little dog, who really is a "Bimbo" according to Larry's father, Ray Geimer, is now at the vets under observation, and everyone is very hopeful of the favorable outcome of the rabies check.

"Some people will do anything to get out of work" was the observation of a visiting group of Dick Dewar's neighbors "cheering" their "sick" friends. Dick, who lives at 2309 Wing st., dropped a door on his foot and broke his big toe in no less than four places. His neighbors claim that a toe isn't big enough to be broken that many times — but while they cheerfully "ride" him they are busy pitching in to lend a hand.

Tribute

For 22 years Mrs. Effie Hoppock was the faithful organist and choir director at the St. Paul Congregational church at Fullerton and Keeler aves in Chicago. Since moving to Rolling Meadows with her son and his family to their new home at 2313 Eastman st., Mrs. Hoppock has found it necessary to give up her duties, and Sunday, marked her last Sunday of service to her old church. In honor of her untiring devotion and selfless service to Christianity and to her church, a farewell party was held for her by the church. Many, many of her old friends were present, as well as many former members of the choirs which she has directed. The surprise tribute was climaxed by a gift of $125 to Mrs. Hoppock as a small remembrance from her old friends and fellow parishoners. Mrs. Hoppock, who has now "retired" from active church work, is looking forward to starting a new "career" teaching piano here in Rolling Meadows, certainly a wonderful enthusiasm for work which some of the younger oeople could well emulate.

Girl Scouts

Wednesday, marked the first "Investiture" ceremony for the Rolling Meadows Girl Scouts. Following the important observance, a Halloween party was held for the girls by their three leaders, Mrs. Ruthmary Jesperson, Mrs. Evelyn Zupan and Mrs. Gretchen White. The troop is growing by leaps and bounds, and the girls themselves are the most enthusiastic advertisements the Girl Scouts could possibly have. Any young girl from the ages of 10 to 14 is eligible for membership, and serious thought is being given to a Senior Group for girls over 14. If you are interested in joining the troop by all means contact Mrs. Gretchen White at Clearbrook 3-8332; she will be glad to talk to you.

The Girl Scout Fund Drive in Rolling Meadows, under the direction of Mrs. Peggy Schultz of George st., was extremely successful. The enthusiastic group of volunteers collected a total of $286.45 Monday evening, a good response for their first "try" here in Rolling Meadows. The group of Scout mothers and friends who traveled door-to-door canvassing the area were Shirley Johnson, Irene Sharples, Marge Kitterman, Mrs. Chester Person, Val Bozee, Lee Haase, Betty Bycroft, Mrs. Fred Griesman, Lucille Doyle, Florence Nyblin, Jane Self, Mrs. Amundson, Virginia Borgardt, Marrion Garrity, Evelyn Mahoney, Myrla Garrity, Peggy Eichorst, Dorothy Brettner and Lorraine VanWazer. The group would like to thank all of the Rolling Meadows residents for the courtesy and generous donations which made the success of the drive possible. Thanks should also go to the patient fathers who "baby sat" last Monday making it possible for the women to make their canvass.

Halloween Shindig Big Success

Last Saturday about 125 "Meadowites" joined in the fun of celebrating Halloween with a "bang-up" party. The majority came in costume of one sort or another and the winners for best costumes were Dorothy Doyle, as a Chinese girl, and Skeets Hoglund as a glamour girl. The committee members, Gloria Campbell, chairman, Chris Pelletier, Arlette Klein, Ethel Larson, Ann Incinelli and Marilyn Peregrine organized plenty of mixer games and everyone entered in with enthusiasm. Refreshments were barbecues, relishes, salad, cake, pie and coffee From all reports it sounds like this will turn into an annual affair.

Parade Details

Parents of the Meadows will be busy Saturday morning dressing their young ones in costume for the Halloween party. The affair starts with a parade beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the corner of Bob-O-Link and Prospect Manor. Three judges will be at the judge's stand (on Albion lane) to pick the winners for costumes. There will be balloons and a gift for all the children. In case of bad weather, the parade will be held Sunday, October 31--same time.

Scout News

The intermediate girl scouts met October 20. Mrs. Polly Herbert R.N., of the Meadows, gave first aid instruction She put particular emphasis on treatment of burns and different methods of bandaging injuries so that the girls would be well informed should the need arise on one of their hike-cookouts. The first aid lecture covered one of the requirements needed by the scouts in attaining their second-class badge.

The investiture of the brownies will take place Wednesday, November 3 at St. John's church, 201 N. Willie, Mount Prospect at 4:15 p.m. Mesdames LeForge, Werheim, DePasquale, Heckenback and Merritt have formed a committee to assist the leaders in planning and carrying out the program. Refreshments will be cider and brownies, donated by Mesdames Talo, Soduski, Tucker, Splithoff, and Warfsmen. The brownies to be invested are Dottie Ann Daniels, Diane DePasquale, Susan Drake, Dawn Hearl, Kristin Hendrickson, Nancy Kukulski, Christine Kukulski, Janice LeForge, Susan Merritt, Marilyn Murdock, Peggy Murdock, Susan Revus, Marie Rutkowski, Judith Soduski, Marilyn Talo, Patricia Tucker, Betty Jean Warfsmen and Christine Werheim.

Mishap

Little Gail LeBrun took a tumble off a swing last Thursday and came up with a broken collar bone. We understand that it's mending nicely now----sometimes girls will be boys!

Hellenic Club Meets; Hears Rev. N. Kesses

The Hellenic Northwest Suburban Women's club met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Poulos, 1225 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. Rev. N. Kesses spoke to the group and introduced the Rt. Rev. Exekiel, who addressed the group. Deacon Latto was also a speaker offering his services.

The group hopes to establish Sunday school classes before the holidays and also expects to organize a Greek school.

Residents of the northwest suburban area of Greek orthodox faith are urged to become members of this organization. Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Poulos, 1225 N. Dunton, Arlington Hts., Clearbrook 3-0727 or Mrs. George Demmie, 485 Elm st., Palatine Palatine 1766-J.

Feehanville School

At the October meeting of the Feehanville PTA there were two interesting speakers, C. J. Lauer of the C. J. Lauer Insurance agency, and Richard Kozel, chief of the Forest River Volunteer Fire department. Mr. Lauer said, in part:

"School boards are a business in themselves, and some of them get to be a complicated business. I think your board has had some pretty tough problems to solve. We were called in to lend our hand in the building program in that they felt it would be advisable to see what we could do in the way of recommending types of construction which would be helpful to you in your insurance costs. As a general thing these things are left out of the picture until it is over, and then boards do find to their disappointment that there were things they could have complied with very easily which would lighten their insurance costs. The board was interested in a certain type of construction—we took that type of construction and developed other possibilities, and cooperated with the architect in giving the insurance slant on it. At that time we considered eight types of construction and developed premium costs to show what the various types of construction would do . . . and with that, your lowest insurance cost. With that the board was able to make some decision."

(A member of the School Board made this comment — "While the fact that the low cost of insurance premium over the years will be a considerable saving of the taxpayers' money was a big factor in choosing this type of construction, another factor was equally important — and that is that the lower the premium cost, the safer the building — and the safety of the children was the first consideration.")

Mr. Lauer then went on to explain the various other types of insurance on the school, such as tornado, cyclone, liability, and so forth, and held a short question and answer period after the speech.

Mr. Kozel opened his speech with an amusing little story, and went on to say, "October is dedicated to fire prevention, and I think it is a good idea at least once every year that everybody be reminded of the hazards — everybody should take stock of their homes and see what is involved . . . rubbish, oil rags, open paint cans, anything of that nature. I thing we all get forgetful and careless, and carelessness, in my opinion, is probably the main cause of fires, whether it is a loose piece of wiring, a fuse that is overloaded or a frayed lamp cord that somebody intended to get around to. In 1953 there were more than 8 milion dollars in fire losses in the United States. That is a tremendous figure and includes loss of homes, loss of work, loss of income. Matches and cigarettes, together, are the greatest single reason for fires."

After his speech Mr. Kozel demonstrated a smoke mask and explained how it worked and why it is recommended that each fire department own two.

Mrs. Roberta Phar, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, thanked the assembly for the wonderful cooperation received on the last rummage sale, and intimated she was open for suggestions as to what and when the next fund-raising activity should be.

Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth as health chairman explained the various health programs coming up in the near future, including the dental check-up scheduled for last Wednesday.

Mrs. Rita Badalamenti, school board member, introduced the new teacher for the lower grades, Miss Dolores Levis.

Miss Idyl Nipper reported on the information she had received on the Soo Line crossing on Foundry road and urged as many as possible to attend the hearing. She also reported on the Arlington Heights Legislative meeting she attended, and explained a little why it was so important that everybody vote "Yes" on the Blue ballot this coming election.

Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth, program chairman, passed out the yearbook and received many compliments on its appearance as well as on the wealth of information it contains.

Social hour held after the business meeting was made especially festive by the clever work of the Hospitality committee, assisted by the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Bonnie Nowicki, Mrs. Bid Zschach and Mrs. Val Barton The Hospitality committee, Mrs. Marguerite Broberg, Mrs. Helen Huege, Mrs. Marty Messner and Mrs. Genevieve Campbell, at their meeting during the week, planned the Halloween decorations — cats, witches, carved pumpkins, and pumpkin pie—on name cards. Mrs. Campbell brought the lovely asters that graced the speakers' table.

Newcomers

Two members of the Welcoming committee, Mrs. Marguerite Broberg and Mrs. Eva Anderson, called on and extended a welcome to the following new members of our community: Jerry Ehorn and wife, Jean, who live at 123 Anita st., with their little daughter Diane, 3½ months old. Eugene Ehorn and wife, Marty, who live on Lee and Hill sts., and have two children, Linda, 3½ years old, and Lester, 1 year. Marty's chief enjoyment in her spare time is sewing, while Eugene enjoys fishing and hunting. Robert Larsen and wife, Margaret, whose address is River road and Morrison st. They have four children, Roy 6, Judy and Jackie, 4, and Jenny, 3 years old. Mr. Larsen teaches industrial arts at New Trier high school and is the football coach there, and for relaxation enjoys bowling and craftwork.

Forest River Church

Don't wait too long before you get your ticket for the annual fall banquet to be held November 4 at the Forest River church—only one hundred people can be served, and the tickets are going fast. Call Emert Roos at Va. 4-4656 and make reservations now! "Wally" White of Gospel Tabernacle is going to be the principal speaker, and there will be an interesting master of ceremonies and at least one soloist.

Miss Esther Pierson spoke at the TFC meeting last Sunday, as well as at the evening service, and the teenagers enjoyed very much the tales of her experinces in the land of the Popaloca Indians. The sponsors of the TFC are Ruth Pierson (Sorry, Ruth, I spelled your name "Levine" in last week's column) and Robert Roos. Mr. Roos is also sponsor of the Harper Hi-Cs at Harper high school, in Chicago.

Mrs. Anne Culp and Miss Jean Dick, with Margie Kirste assisting, took advantage of the beautiful weather we had last weekend and brought the Pilgrim girls to the forest preserves for a cook-out last Saturday. Their picnic lasted from 12 to 4:30, and they played games and enjoyed an interesting hike along the bridle path with its well-marked trees.

Ladies' Bible class meeting the last Wednesday of October was scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Betty Shimmin on Foundry road. Later in the evening the ladies planned to surprise Mrs. Ruth Bischof, Mrs. Ruth Levine and the Rev. Clara Pierson with birthday gifts as they had had birthdays during the month. Cake and coffee was also planned, for refreshments.

Last week Tuesday there was a unique stork shower held at the church—unique in that the two grandmothers-to-be, Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Evelyn Martens, opened the packages in the absence of the guest of honor, Mrs. Cynthia Martens, who is living in Tacoma, Wash., where her husband is stationed. After everyone had seen and admired the lovely gifts, each guest rewrapped her own package and they were all packed into one big box to be shipped to Cynthia. Among the guests who attended the shower were Mrs. Larson and a friend from Chicago, Mrs. Roos, Mrs. Marie Sandquist, Mrs. Mae Campbell, Miss Jean Dick, Mrs. Axel Brandt, Mrs. Ruth Bischof, Mrs. Helen Murphy, Mrs. Evelyn Martens, Mrs. Betty Shimmin, Mrs. Edna Gerstung, Mrs. Jeanne Kramer, Carol Larson and a friend, Mrs. Lois Kilroy, Mrs. Bud Larson, Rev. Clara Pierson, Miss Ruth Pierson, Mrs. Dorothy Hartwig, Mrs. F. Schauer, Mrs. Ida Belle Devinger, Mrs. Dorothy Levine, Bonnie Levine, Mrs. Marilyn Roos, Ruth Levine, Janet Sandquist, Miss Olga Perschon, Mrs. I. A. Hanson and Lynn Martens.

Hi C

Startled residents of Des Plaines did a "double-take" last Saturday when more than 30 members of the Maine Hi Cs (in every imaginable costume) streamed through the streets following the clues of a well-laid treasure hunt. Their Halloween party, held at the home of "Bud" Meyer, got off to a good start by having the guests go through "Spook House" before they could attend the party. Some of the teenagers from here who attended the party were Robert Levine, John Hanson, Bonnie Levine, Robert Martens, Ruth Levine, Phillip Roos, Bonnie Mitchell, Gail Wiltshire, Paul Meyer and Margie Kirste.

Community News

Mrs. J. Perschon has been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Marie Marsh, in Sycamore. Mrs. Marsh is just home from the hospital with her baby son, who was born October 13—six pounds, 11 ounces and 19 inches tall.

A. Certainly it is the most courteous thing to do.

Q. When a man brings a guest to his home and presents him to his wife, does she make use of the customary acknowledgment, "How do you do?"

A. In this instance, it is better if the wife shows a little more cordiality and adds, "I am very glad to see you," or some such similar expression.

Q. Is it proper to invite the minister and his wife to the wedding reception?

A. Certainly it is the most courteous thing to do.

Q. When a man brings a guest to his home and presents him to his wife, does she make use of the customary acknowledgment, "How do you do?"

A. In this instance, it is better if the wife shows a little more cordiality and adds, "I am very glad to see you," or some such similar expression.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How God's infinite love for man redeems man from sin by destroying sin and revealing man's divine, sinless nature, will be explained at Christian Science services, Sunday, October 31. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Everlasting Punishment."

Among the passages from the Bible will be read the story of the Prodigal Son, including his forgiveness and his welcome back to his father's house, as told in Chapter 15 of Luke's gospel.

The following selection on the overcoming of sin will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (327:9-13):

"Evil is sometimes a man's highest conception of right, until his grasp on good grows stronger. Then he loses pleasure in wickedness, and it becomes his torment. The way to escape the misery of sin is to cease sinning. There is no other way."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (130:7): "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy and with him is plenteous redemption."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How God's infinite love for man redeems man from sin by destroying sin and revealing man's divine, sinless nature, will be explained at Christian Science services, Sunday, October 31. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Everlasting Punishment."

Among the passages from the Bible will be read the story of the Prodigal Son, including his forgiveness and his welcome back to his father's house, as told in Chapter 15 of Luke's gospel.

The following selection on the overcoming of sin will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (327:9-13):

"Evil is sometimes a man's highest conception of right, until his grasp on good grows stronger. Then he loses pleasure in wickedness, and it becomes his torment. The way to escape the misery of sin is to cease sinning. There is no other way."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (130:7): "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy and with him is plenteous redemption."

The Silent Killer

In its early stages tuberculosis usually has no symptoms. A person may have it, not know it, and be spreading it to others — people he is in close contact with. It can be detected early by chest x-ray.

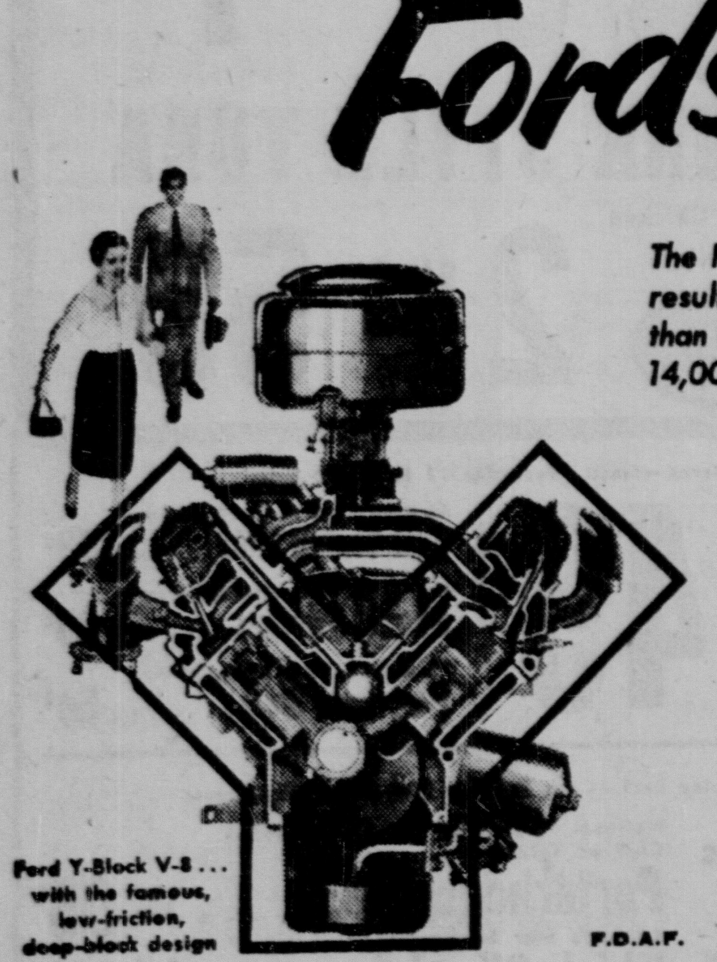
Ford's Victoria V-8 ... the car for those who want something special

When it comes to V-8 experience

Ford's got it!

The Ford Y-block V-8 is the fully perfected result of Ford's experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined—more than 14,000,000 V-8 engines.



Ford Y-Block V-8 ... with the famous, low-friction, deep-block design

It took years of evolution for Ford to arrive at the wonderful V-8 engine it has today. An engine with deep-block design for added smoothness—longer life . . . with short-stroke, low-friction design to reduce wear—to increase gas mileage.

And so it goes in feature after feature. Ford was first in its field with Ball-Joint Front Suspension—with suspended pedals—with truly modern styling—with a host of other features which set the trend in the industry. This means that you can have as modern a car as money can buy—a car that commands the highest resale value in its field.

Up to 40 extra miles per tankful with Veedol 10-30. There's less engine drag, so you start faster, run smoother and save gasoline wherever you drive...whatever the weather. And double detergency keeps your engine new-car clean.

Ford's Victoria V-8 . . . the car for those who want something special

When it comes to V-8 experience

Ford's got it!

The Ford Y-block V-8 is the fully perfected result of Ford's experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined—more than 14,000,000 V-8 engines.

It took years of evolution for Ford to arrive at the wonderful V-8 engine it has today. An engine with deep-block design for added smoothness—longer life . . . with short-stroke, low-friction design to reduce wear—to increase gas mileage.

And so it goes in feature after feature. Ford was first in its field with Ball-Joint Front Suspension—with suspended pedals—with truly modern styling—with a host of other features which set the trend in the industry. This means that you can have as modern a car as money can buy—a car that commands the highest resale value in its field.

LENORE PORGES

Next regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Heights Woman's club will be held next Wednesday at 1:15 p.m. at the field house. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. C. W. Desgrey and Mrs. Lawrence Austin.

Club president, Mrs. C. A. Hendrickson, will report on the national convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs which she attended in Denver last summer.

Lenore Porges, a popular dramatist and songstress, will present "Chicago Sentimental," an historical sketch in song and story, for the program.

Mrs. Porges is a graduate of the Kansas City Conservatory of Music and furthered her studies in singing and dramatics in Chicago and the east. She has appeared as soloist in Chicago at Kimball hall, Curtis hall, Fullerton hall and Orchestra hall, and has done extensive radio and club work.

Club members are reminded to bring jam and jelly to the meeting for the Park Ridge school for girls. Mrs. Gordon Gullickson, and her committee will deliver the jam and jelly to the school.

The Woman's club is going all out to have a 100 per cent vote by its members at the election November 2. At a district meeting October 13, a motion was made to support the "blue ballot." The club is cooperating with the D.A.R. in getting out the voting and voting YES on the "blue ballot."

If 100 per cent of the club members vote Tuesday, the club will receive a state merit of award.

COOT HASSENFEFFER

If you like hassenfeffer, you will relish coot prepared by a hassenfeffer recipe. Place the breasts and legs of 3 coots in a stone jar and cover with equal parts of vinegar and water to which have been added 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon tarragon, ⅛ teaspoon garlic salt, 2 bay leaves, 6 whole cloves and 2 small onions sliced. Set in a cool place and let meat soak for 48 hours.

Remove and brown the pieces of coot in butter in a deep skillet, then add 2 cups of the strained pickling liquid and simmer until tender. Stir in 1 cup sour cream and serve immediately.

This is the standard receipe for hassenfeffer, of which there are a dozen and probably more variations. It works equally well for any other game birds or animals you may have at hand.

Q. When attending a dinner dance, what should be done with the napkin when one leaves the table to dance?

Not Enough To Keep A Bird Alive Proves Fallacious

"Not enough to keep a bird alive" is a misleading statement. Many birds consume half their weight in food each day, while young birds frequently eat more than their weight a day. If you watch a brood of young pheasants going after grasshoppers this time of year you will appreciate the value of birds to the farmer.

The largest reptile in modern times is the leatherback, a marine turtle. Specimens have weighed almost 1,500 pounds and measured eight feet in length.

WHILE THE OWL cannot move its eyes in their sockets, it does have a great area of vision because it can rotate its head in a large arc of 273 degrees.

There are 75 species of North American violets found in this country.

The Trumpeter Swan, with a maximum weight of 40 pounds, is the heaviest flying bird in North America.

The Mackerel has a different swimming apparatus than other fish. It has no air bladder to give it buoyancy, but strong muscles along its spinal column enable it to tuck its fins in close to the body for maximum swimming efficiency.

LIKE THE CHAMELEON, the tree toad can change its color to blend with tree bark or the bright green of leaves.

Michigan and Connecticut protect the Hawk and Owl year round except for rare occasions when the farmer can kill either when actually in the act of destroying domestic stock.

Rabbits have been practically wiped out in France, Germany, England, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg by a virus disease Myxomatosis, spread from an inoculation of wild rabbits on the estate of Professor Delillie A test suit is being brought against Professor Delillie for a loss that is estimated to exceed six million dollars. The good professor might as well have used an atom bomb to bring down a couple of pheasants.

'Guatemala' Next Travel Topic

"Guatemala" is the subject of the third in the series of Travel and Adventure films to be shown at the Arlington Heights high school in the Adult Evening school. Anne and Albert Johannsen bring this color film with its beautiful musical background to the stage of the girls gym at 8 p.m., November 2.

Mrs. Johannsen wears a brilliant native costume of Guatemala as she narrates the film. The first scenes are of Guatemala City, the immaculate and beautiful. From there the cameras travel on a jungle waterway down the Polochic River to Lake Izabal and the Rio Dulce. Coffee raising is shown, from the flowering stage to the preparation of the product for market. From this modern sequence the Johannsen's take the viewer to visit the ruins of the mysterious and brilliant Mayan civilization, to Antiqua with its magnificent Spanish ruins. In Antiqua one sees the doll making for which this section is famous.

THE VISIT in Totonocopan provides brilliant contrasts in color, with the views of the pottery makers at work. Throughout the film the camera brings into view the strange costumes of the people from various sections of the country.

In Chichicastenango the dazzling Indian market is shown with all its color and gaiety. The final sequences show the Mayan Indians describing how they work, play and worship. Breath-taking scenic views throughout the country make the entire film one of unusual interest and beauty.

Mrs. C. W. Strother Elected President Of Newcomers' Club

Mrs. C. W. Strother was elected president of Arlington Heights Newcomers' club at its last meeting. Other officers elected were Mrs. Robert E. Coller, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Renner, secretary and Mrs. T. Roger Girard, treasurer.

The club's monthly luncheon will be held at Simson's restaurant at 12:45 p.m. November 10. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Nicol, chairman, at CLearbrook 3-8868 before noon November 9.

The bowling group meets every Thursday at 1:15 p.m. at Hi-Way Recreation, 945 Northwest highway. Anyone wishing to bowl may call Mrs. Richard Hoppe at Clearbrook 3-0323.

COOT HASSENFEFFER

If you like hassenfeffer, you will relish coot prepared by a hassenfeffer recipe. Place the breasts and legs of 3 coots in a stone jar and cover with equal parts of vinegar and water to which have been added 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon tarragon, ⅛ teaspoon garlic salt, 2 bay leaves, 6 whole cloves and 2 small onions sliced. Set in a cool place and let meat soak for 48 hours.

Remove and brown the pieces of coot in butter in a deep skillet, then add 2 cups of the strained pickling liquid and simmer until tender. Stir in 1 cup sour cream and serve immediately.

This is the standard receipe for hassenfeffer, of which there are a dozen and probably more variations. It works equally well for any other game birds or animals you may have at hand.

Not Enough To Keep A Bird Alive Proves Fallacious

"Not enough to keep a bird alive" is a misleading statement. Many birds consume half their weight in food each day, while young birds frequently eat more than their weight a day. If you watch a brood of young pheasants going after grasshoppers this time of year you will appreciate the value of birds to the farmer.

The largest reptile in modern times is the leatherback, a marine turtle. Specimens have weighed almost 1,500 pounds and measured eight feet in length.

'Guatemala' Next Travel Topic

"Guatemala" is the subject of the third in the series of Travel and Adventure films to be shown at the Arlington Heights high school in the Adult Evening school. Anne and Albert Johannsen bring this color film with its beautiful musical background to the stage of the girls gym at 8 p.m., November 2.

Mrs. Johannsen wears a brilliant native costume of Guatemala as she narrates the film. The first scenes are of Guatemala City, the immaculate and beautiful. From there the cameras travel on a jungle waterway down the Polochic River to Lake Izabal and the Rio Dulce. Coffee raising is shown, from the flowering stage to the preparation of the product for market. From this modern sequence the Johannsen's take the viewer to visit the ruins of the mysterious and brilliant Mayan civilization, to Antiqua with its magnificent Spanish ruins. In Antiqua one sees the doll making for which this section is famous.

THE VISIT in Totonocopan provides brilliant contrasts in color, with the views of the pottery makers at work. Throughout the film the camera brings into view the strange costumes of the people from various sections of the country.

In Chichicastenango the dazzling Indian market is shown with all its color and gaiety. The final sequences show the Mayan Indians describing how they work, play and worship. Breath-taking scenic views throughout the country make the entire film one of unusual interest and beauty.

There is an easy way to send your child to college!

This simple plan will do the trick—if you start right now!

Are you determined to give your child the benefits of a college education—yet worried about money? Then why not do what more and more farsighted parents are doing? Start getting that money together now—the safe, sure, automatic way—through the Payroll Savings Plan!

It's simple! Just tell your company's pay office how much you want to save—anywhere from just a few dollars a payday up to as much as you want. This sum is then saved for you every payday. It is invested in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds which are bought in your name and turned over to you. These Bonds earn good interest for you—an average of 3% per year, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity.

It's systematic! Just think—if you sign up to save $3.75 a week, in 5 years you'll have $1,025.95—in 9 years 8 months, $2,137.30—and in 19 years 8 months you'll have $5,153.72.

It's sure! Once you join the Payroll Savings Plan, your saving is automatically done for you before you draw your pay. You don't have to do a thing. And your child's education will be provided for by money you don't even miss now.

Eight million working people are now on the Plan—saving for a home of their own, a college education for their children, or any of those things made possible only through systematic saving. So join the Payroll Savings Plan right now—or, if you are self-employed, join the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Do it today!

FOOTBALL

MAC SAYS - By G. A. McELROY

BOB NOLAN, who made all-conference in football at tackle one year and end another at Wauconda high school, has come into his own as a junior end at Miami university in Florida. Last Saturday a Chicago daily carried a two column head, "Bob Nolan leads Miami in upset of Maryland." Nolan caught a pass in the last 10 seconds of the first half to score a touchdown and later tackled a Maryland back behind the goal line for a safety which beat a team (9-7) which had a national championship and two bowl games in the last two years.

In Northwest conference circles Nolan is remembered more for basketball in which he was all-league two years and set a scoring record.

Wauconda has an athlete who is ahead of Nolan at this stage, his junior year, in Gene Jaskot. This lad, a six-foot-two 180 pound athlete, was one of the best ends in the league last year as a soph and one of the best basketball players. This year Jaskot plays quarterback or halfback on offense, and end on defense.

He is one of the best pass catchers in the league, a hard runner, and a very tough defensive player.

Watching the Palatine-Wauconda game Saturday Jaskot of Wauconda and Doug Hildebrandt of Palatine were the boys who looked like good college football material for schools in the upper bracket.

THE SCORING in the Northwest conference from here on in is a two man contest between Bob Boyd of Glenbrook and Alan Eck of Palatine with 45 and 43 points, respectively, at this point. And what is more, neither team has made any special effort to help these boys get extra touchdowns. Near the goal line they have not been called on to carry the ball. Both boys have done most of their scoring on long runs.

There seems no chance Glenbrook will lose another game and give Antioch and Palatine a crack at a tie for first in their final game November 5.

We reason it this way. These three are far and away the best in the league, just as we predicted at the start of the season. The Glenbrook line outplayed the forwards of both Antioch and Palatine and that was why both were defeated. It stands to reason they will outplay, in the line, Grayslake and Ela and a decided edge in line play pretty well insures victory.

Before the season opened we picked Glenbrook first, Palatine second, Antioch third, and Ela-Vernon fourth. That is the way they rank now, except that Antioch and Palatine are tied. We are picking Palatine to break that tie in the big game next week, Friday night, November 5, at Palatine Community park.

GRANT'S HOMECOMING CROWD Saturday night of 3,000 spectators was close to the high in league history. They say the Barrington game of a few years ago when the Bulldogs were pressing the Bronchos for the championship may have drawn slightly more paid admissions. Grant's new field has bleachers to handle 3,000, with the best field layout in the league.

Glenbrook has the biggest traveling crowd in the circuit when the Spartans play away from home at night.

They have really boosted gate receipts at Palatine, Antioch, and Grant when they traveled to these schools. In fact, they paid out more away from home than the total gate receipts at home, for their afternoon games have drawn small crowds.

Rumor has it that Glenbrook was offered a lighting system as a gift but the board of education turned it down and prefers to play daytime ball.

We will grant daytime ball has advantages in many ways but fewer parents can see their boys play and the receipts cannot compare with football under the arcs.

When high school athletics are expected to be self supporting, night football is needed to balance the budget. Football and basketball must, besides paying their own costly expenses, finance cross country, wrestling, track, baseball, golf, etc., which have no income. So a good expanded program of sports with teams at all grade levels depends on good receipts at the sports which draw the crowds.

Generally speaking the North Shore schools have held out against night football except Waukegan, an industrial community.

Glenbrook is following the lead of New Trier, Lake Forest, Highland Park, and Evanston in choosing to play Saturday afternoons. These communities are rich enough for board subsidization of any athletic deficits. Six schools of the West Suburban league follow the same policy with only Arlington Heights and Maine having lights.

AT THE MEETING last week of the association of suburban conferences the realignment committee was made active once more to study the future growth, alignment desires, and athletic philosophies of the schools of the area. Wheaton, North Chicago, Elmwood Park, and Round Lake are the schools at the moment desiring league affiliations.

A shifting of memberships will be needed if these schools are to be freed from the problems of free lance competition.

A short time ago the Northwest principals asked the North Suburban group to join in a study of the future alignment of the two leagues in view of the pressure from Round Lake and North Chicago for membership. The North Suburban agreed to study the situation, but as a group expressed the feeling they were well satisfied with the present setup. Only one North Suburban member is giving any thought to future change, and that school is very luke warm on the question at the present time.

Arlington Has Same Records As Visitors

by BOB PADDOCK

The sun will be gone, the lights will be on, but Friday night on the Arlington Heights high school football field will be Dad's day. To be honored are the fathers of all members of frosh-soph and varsity football teams with York the opponent.

York's record isn't too far above Arlington's and the spirit of performing before their dads on the bench may prove a winning force for Heights. The Elmhurst varsity has won just two games, Heights one. With the frosh-sophs, the Cardinals have lost four, York five.

PASS DEFENSE was the main order of study this week for the Arlington varsity after that stinging defeat at Riverside Saturday. By stressing defense this week, the offense may suffer but the coaches are hoping "forward motion" will be automatic.

That 33-7 affair wasn't as bad as it sounds. The last two touchdowns were scored after Coach "Bus" Ormsbee gave the entire bench a chance to play. The way the game was going, victory was beyond grasp, anyway.

"THEY TRIED too hard," stated Heights mentor "Bus" Ormsbee. "I don't think the boys gave up, they were just trying so hard to win this one they were over-anxious. Letting the kickoff go through two boys is something that happens in the pro ranks, but at our level it set the stage for a poor performance all the way around!"

Tackling wasn't sharp at Riverside, blocking was poor. Arlington's pass defense was found wanting, though possibly this was the first time the locals had been up against a pass conscious eleven.

SEVENTEEN SENIORS will be playing on the home field for the last time, including backs Denny Maher, Wayne Brumm, Jim Laughlin and Dick Malcomson; ends Floyd Burns, Jack Johnston, Harrison Kenicott and Stan Fletcher; tackles Bruce Wilkerson and Bob Burgess; guards Ron Dritlein, Tom Wagner, Tom Hanson and John Lukan; and centers Bob Dahlquist, Dave Lynk and Jim Knaus.

The dads of members of both frosh-soph and varsity squads will be seated on the bench, wearing the numbers of their sons.

Cagers To Sign In Monday At Arlington High

Basketballs will take the spotlight in the Arlington Heights high school gym Monday afternoon and evening, November 1, when the first call for the cage sport takes effect.

The varsity will report to Coach Howard Lester Monday night after supper. The frosh-sophs will sign in with Coach Maurice Klotz Monday afternoon, as will the freshmen to Coach Ken Schaller Monday afternoon.

EXCLUDED from these first calls are cage candidates-to-be out for football and cross country. And on this point, varsity coach Howard Lester is smiling.

"Ninety per cent of all boys on all squads have shown the proper spirit this year by going out for football and cross country. They are already in shape and will be a big help in getting ready for the first doubleheader at Woodstock November 19."

That expression of satisfaction by Coach Lester was echoed by other coaches who remember days of spending the first six weeks of basketball just getting the boys in physical shape.

Heights Frosh Still Improving; Beat R-B

Arlington Heights freshman football squad won its second game of the season Monday afternoon against Riverside-Brookfield on the home field, 19-6, and looked good doing it. Previous win was over Palatine, 13-6. Final game is slated for Monday, Nov. 1, at York.

Coach Curtis Larsen's Heights yearlings showed they had come a long way since the start of the season. They ran hard, blocked better, tackled well, and had good drive the entire game. Play was in the Riverside side of the field most of the contest.

OPENING KICKOFF, received by Heights, started things off with the young Cardinals driving eighty yards in straight ground plays for the TD. Bjorklund went the final five yards with Kelley taking a short pass from Bjorklund for the extra point.

Two passes set up the second touchdown for Arlington in the second period. Starting from the locals' 30, Bjorklund threw a pass to Thill good for 30 yards. Webber then tossed one to Farleigh for 20 yards and it was first and ten on the R-B 20. Power plays paid off with Thill covering the final three yards on a quarterback sneak.

IN THE THIRD quarter Arlington's frosh moved from midfield to pay dirt in straight ground plays, Bjorklund covering the final 12 yards through the middle. Hayford came back with a TD for the losers on a 15 yard run to make the final 19-6.

Arlington led in first downs, 13-7, and in penalties, 45-30. Ironically, the varsity led Riverside by the same margin of first downs, 13-7, Friday night, but lost, 33-7.

LAST WEEK, Tuesday, the frosh lost to Glenbard, 13-12. Heights frosh scored their first touchdown on a fake end run with a 20 yard pass from Webber to Farleigh, instead.

Second Arlington tally was by Thill on a quarterback-keep-it play good for 20 yards. Glenbard tallied twice, also in the first two quarters, on two short passes to Hald who went through the middle. A plunge through center provided the winning margin.

Expect Strong Reserves To Win Over Bensenville

First division meets second division as the Northwest teams square off in the next to the last weekend of football for the season. Glenbrook (5-0) is homecoming host to last place Grayslake (0-5) at Northbrook. Grayslake has lost all their games but has the best defensive record outside the Big Three leaders.

Ram playing errors both in ball handling and judgment cost them at least two games they should have won. However, Coach Pat Rooney's boys are not expected to have very much chance against the big fast Glenbrook line.

Antioch (4-1) takes on Wauconda (1-4) in a home double bill Saturday night which the Sequoits should take in stride. Antioch should go into the final game next week at Palatine tied with the Pirates for second place. Though McMillan, Blake, and Floyd were out of the lineup Antioch soundly trounced Bensenville 43-0 in the most one sided contest of the season on the Bison field last Friday night.

ELA-VERNON (3-2) will be host to Grant (2-3) Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in a game which is a toss up. Ela-Vernon after losing 26-0 to both Palatine and Antioch has come back with three straight victories over Wauconda, Bensenville, and Grayslake. A victory for Coach Bill Lehmann's green but willing Bears would insure Ela finishing in the first division for the season. On paper Grant should be the winner but Ela has a knack for taking the close ones. The team which wins should take fourth in the final standings.

Palatine-Bensenville game at Palatine Community Park Friday night should be a good drawing card.

Pirates and Bisons have had a lot of spirited games in the past and while Bensenville has won only one in four starts they annually point for the Palatine game. Coach Charley Feutz of Palatine appears to have too many good boys and too many capable reserves for the Bensenville team to stage an upset.

PALATINE HAS won four out of five in the league and five out of six for the season. They hold a 25-6 victory over Libertyville, currently leading the North Suburban Conference.

Coach Tom Meneguin has hopes of injured Ken Sirotzki and Dick D'Hooge, his backfield aces, getting back into action against the Pirates. Without them the Bisons were an easy mark for Antioch a week ago.

This could be one of Palatine's toughest games for past records mean nothing when Bisons and Pirates tangle. The double bill opens at 6:30.

Antioch Intercepts Bison Pass, Goes On To Win 43-0

by ELI WHITNEY

Bensenville Bisons were defeated Friday under the lights bv the visiting Antioch gridders, 43-0.

An exchange of fumbles prevented either team from scoring in the opening quarter. But in the following period Antioch started a drive which, except for a short time in the third quarter, continued through the entire game.

THE SEQUOIT rally started as they intercepted a pass on Bensenville's 31 yard line. The next play D. Schroeder, fullback, found an opening and raced to the goal zone. Davis missed the conversion.

A 30 yard dash by halfback Gallagher and a pass from quarterback Brownlee to Huml, end, found Antioch again in scoring position. Gallagher ran three yards around right end to score and Davis made the extra point.

INTERCEPTING a pass and completing a pass from Brownlee to W. Layton, substitute back, was good for another touchdown by the Sequoits. Davis completed the conversion. On the following kickoff Jerry Graumann, Bison quarterback, ran the ball into the end zone and downed it, thinking this would bring the ball out to the 20. But since he carried the ball into the end zone, it scored an automatic safety for Antioch.

DIRECTLY AFTER intermission, Bensenville threatened to score with three quick first downs, but fumbled and lost possession on Antioch's 20. The Sequoits took to the air lanes from there and passed to the Bensenville 32. Gallagher caught a pitch from Brownlee and tallied with Davis supplying the extra point.

In the fourth quarter Gallagher racked up his third TD with an 18 yard sprint. Substitute Van Patten plunged three yards after a 52 yard punt return by Gallagher to score the final touchdown. Davis completed a conversion after each tally.

Palatine High has extended the straightaway on their track to make possible the running of the 220 dash and the 180 yard low hurdles without the handicap of a sharp curve. In aonther year the addition to the track should be in fair shape for dual meets.

By the time Palatine again holds the Northwest meet the 220 straightaway should greatly aid runners in breaking records. The conference meet will be held at Glenbrook next year. The addition is not used in any events on the Palatine Relays program for the hurdle shuttles use only 110 yards of track at the most. The grading of the field and making of the track addition is the work of the Vogt excavating company at Palatine.

Arlington's Bill Miles On Winning Polo Team Sunday

Bill Miles, Arlington Heights' sole entry in the field of polo was a member of the championship polo team for the third year in a row as his squad took the four team title at Rollin' Rock polo field Sunday.

The tourney was restricted to 8-goal aggregations at the Dee road, Park Ridge, field, with the Arlington team winning both matches Sunday. Members of the winning group were given individual trophies, as well as a large cup to the club.

FOOTBALL
MAC SAYS - By G. A. McELROY

BOB NOLAN, who made all-conference in football at tackle one year and end another at Wauconda high school, has come into his own as a junior end at Miami university in Florida. Last Saturday a Chicago daily carried a two column head, "Bob Nolan leads Miami in upset of Maryland." Nolan caught a pass in the last 10 seconds of the first half to score a touchdown and later tackled a Maryland back behind the goal line for a safety which beat a team (9-7) which had a national championship and two bowl games in the last two years.

In Northwest conference circles Nolan is remembered more for basketball in which he was all-league two years and set a scoring record.

Wauconda has an athlete who is ahead of Nolan at this stage, his junior year, in Gene Jaskot. This lad, a six-foot-two 180 pound athlete, was one of the best ends in the league last year as a soph and one of the best basketball players. This year Jaskot plays quarterback or halfback on offense, and end on defense.

He is one of the best pass catchers in the league, a hard runner, and a very tough defensive player.

Watching the Palatine-Wauconda game Saturday Jaskot of Wauconda and Doug Hildebrandt of Palatine were the boys who looked like good college football material for schools in the upper bracket.

THE SCORING in the Northwest conference from here on in is a two man contest between Bob Boyd of Glenbrook and Alan Eck of Palatine with 45 and 43 points, respectively, at this point. And what is more, neither team has made any special effort to help these boys get extra touchdowns. Near the goal line they have not been called on to carry the ball. Both boys have done most of their scoring on long runs.

There seems no chance Glenbrook will lose another game and give Antioch and Palatine a crack at a tie for first in their final game November 5.

We reason it this way. These three are far and away the best in the league, just as we predicted at the start of the season. The Glenbrook line outplayed the forwards of both Antioch and Palatine and that was why both were defeated. It stands to reason they will outplay, in the line, Grayslake and Ela and a decided edge in line play pretty well insures victory.

Before the season opened we picked Glenbrook first, Palatine second, Antioch third, and Ela-Vernon fourth. That is the way they rank now, except that Antioch and Palatine are tied. We are picking Palatine to break that tie in the big game next week, Friday night, November 5, at Palatine Community park.

GRANT'S HOMECOMING CROWD Saturday night of 3,000 spectators was close to the high in league history. They say the Barrington game of a few years ago when the Bulldogs were pressing the Bronchos for the championship may have drawn slightly more paid admissions. Grant's new field has bleachers to handle 3,000, with the best field layout in the league.

Glenbrook has the biggest traveling crowd in the circuit when the Spartans play away from home at night.

They have really boosted gate receipts at Palatine, Antioch, and Grant when they traveled to these schools. In fact, they paid out more away from home than the total gate receipts at home, for their afternoon games have drawn small crowds.

Rumor has it that Glenbrook was offered a lighting system as a gift but the board of education turned it down and prefers to play daytime ball.

We will grant daytime ball has advantages in many ways but fewer parents can see their boys play and the receipts cannot compare with football under the arcs.

When high school athletics are expected to be self supporting, night football is needed to balance the budget. Football and basketball must, besides paying their own costly expenses, finance cross country, wrestling, track, baseball, golf, etc., which have no income. So a good expanded program of sports with teams at all grade levels depends on good receipts at the sports which draw the crowds.

Generally speaking the North Shore schools have held out against night football except Waukegan, an industrial community.

Glenbrook is following the lead of New Trier, Lake Forest, Highland Park, and Evanston in choosing to play Saturday afternoons. These communities are rich enough for board subsidization of any athletic deficits. Six schools of the West Suburban league follow the same policy with only Arlington Heights and Maine having lights.

AT THE MEETING last week of the association of suburban conferences the realignment committee was made active once more to study the future growth, alignment desires, and athletic philosophies of the schools of the area. Wheaton, North Chicago, Elmwood Park, and Round Lake are the schools at the moment desiring league affiliations.

A shifting of memberships will be needed if these schools are to be freed from the problems of free lance competition.

A short time ago the Northwest principals asked the North Suburban group to join in a study of the future alignment of the two leagues in view of the pressure from Round Lake and North Chicago for membership. The North Suburban agreed to study the situation, but as a group expressed the feeling they were well satisfied with the present setup. Only one North Suburban member is giving any thought to future change, and that school is very luke warm on the question at the present time.

Arlington Has Same Records As Visitors

by BOB PADDOCK

The sun will be gone, the lights will be on, but Friday night on the Arlington Heights high school football field will be Dad's day. To be honored are the fathers of all members of frosh-soph and varsity football teams with York the opponent.

York's record isn't too far above Arlington's and the spirit of performing before their dads on the bench may prove a winning force for Heights. The Elmhurst varsity has won just two games, Heights one. With the frosh-sophs, the Cardinals have lost four, York five.

PASS DEFENSE was the main order of study this week for the Arlington varsity after that stinging defeat at Riverside Saturday. By stressing defense this week, the offense may suffer but the coaches are hoping "forward motion" will be automatic.

That 33-7 affair wasn't as bad as it sounds. The last two touchdowns were scored after Coach "Bus" Ormsbee gave the entire bench a chance to play. The way the game was going, victory was beyond grasp, anyway.

"THEY TRIED too hard," stated Heights mentor "Bus" Ormsbee. "I don't think the boys gave up, they were just trying so hard to win this one they were over-anxious. Letting the kickoff go through two boys is something that happens in the pro ranks, but at our level it set the stage for a poor performance all the way around!"

Tackling wasn't sharp at Riverside, blocking was poor. Arlington's pass defense was found wanting, though possibly this was the first time the locals had been up against a pass conscious eleven.

SEVENTEEN SENIORS will be playing on the home field for the last time, including backs Denny Maher, Wayne Brumm, Jim Laughlin and Dick Malcomson; ends Floyd Burns, Jack Johnston, Harrison Kenicott and Stan Fletcher; tackles Bruce Wilkerson and Bob Burgess; guards Ron Dritlein, Tom Wagner, Tom Hanson and John Lukan; and centers Bob Dahlquist, Dave Lynk and Jim Knaus.

The dads of members of both frosh-soph and varsity squads will be seated on the bench, wearing the numbers of their sons.

Cagers To Sign In Monday At Arlington High

Basketballs will take the spotlight in the Arlington Heights high school gym Monday afternoon and evening, November 1, when the first call for the cage sport takes effect.

The varsity will report to Coach Howard Lester Monday night after supper. The frosh-sophs will sign in with Coach Maurice Klotz Monday afternoon, as will the freshmen to Coach Ken Schaller Monday afternoon.

EXCLUDED from these first calls are cage candidates-to-be out for football and cross country. And on this point, varsity coach Howard Lester is smiling.

"Ninety per cent of all boys on all squads have shown the proper spirit this year by going out for football and cross country. They are already in shape and will be a big help in getting ready for the first doubleheader at Woodstock November 19."

That expression of satisfaction by Coach Lester was echoed by other coaches who remember days of spending the first six weeks of basketball just getting the boys in physical shape.

Palatine High has extended the straightaway on their track to make possible the running of the 220 dash and the 180 yard low hurdles without the handicap of a sharp curve. In aonther year the addition to the track should be in fair shape for dual meets.

By the time Palatine again holds the Northwest meet the 220 straightaway should greatly aid runners in breaking records. The conference meet will be held at Glenbrook next year. The addition is not used in any events on the Palatine Relays program for the hurdle shuttles use only 110 yards of track at the most. The grading of the field and making of the track addition is the work of the Vogt excavating company at Palatine.

Glenbrook Defeats Grant, 25-0 To Near Northwest Championship

Glenbrook moved a step closer to an undefeated Northwest championship Saturday night by beating Grant, 25-0. Bob Boyd, brilliant junior halfback, scored three touchdowns to pace the Spartans. Glenbrook scored a touchdown in each quarter.

In the opening period Duane Harms tossed an 11 yard pass to Boyd for a touchdown and he kicked the extra point. In the second quarter Boyd circled Grant's left end for a 21 yard touchdown run. In the third period Boyd returned a punt 66 yards to the end zone. Glenbrook's final tally was a five yard plunge by Dave Corso.

The Glenbrook team coached by Walter Sherman had too much size and reserve strength for the Grant boys along with outstanding line play.

Little League Board Of Directors Meeting

The Arlington Heights Little League, Inc. will hold its board of directors and committee chairman meeting Monday, November 1, at the field house.

Arlington Gridders Fall At Riverside, 33-7, 13-0

The ride was beautiful, the sun was warm, but the happy thoughts of Arlington Heights high school football fans were interrupted when Riverside-Brookfield played anything but a gracious host and trampled "our boys," 33-7. The frosh-sophs lost, too, 13-0.

The kickoff ball rolling between two Cardinals, with both thinking the other was going to catch it, started the local eleven off on the wrong foot. The same thing happened later in the game, coupled with poor blocking and tackling, thin pass defense, and it was strictly a "should have stayed in bed" affair.

THE GAMES were rough affairs for the coaching staff, who saw their best laid plans forgotten in the anxiety of a Heights team over-anxious to "win this one." A long weekend of thought gave the boys the benefit of doubt. It seems the locals look best at home, and when they feel they don't have much chance of winning.

Then come the alleged easy ones and the harder the team tries, the harder they fall.

FIRST QUARTER of the varsity game was played in the Heights end of the field until Denny Maher's pass to Stan Fletcher carried from the 43 to the enemy 25. Two plays later a pass was intercepted on the 19 and Riverside began to move.

Rhind moved up 12 yards. A pass, Nelson to Anderson, moved the ball to the 45. Then came Rhind's 44 yard jaunt to the 11. Six plays later Rhind carried over from the two. A pass to Anderson was good, 7-0.

A Heights fumble set up a Riverside TD from the Cardinal 44, aided by a 25 yard pass play, Nelson to Cerwin.

THE CARDINALS struck back soon after, moving from their own 32 to pay dirt. Maher passed to Laughlin for 23 yards. Malzahn carried 19 yards to the 26. Maher passed to Laughlin to the 16. Sujack carried to the five.

Malzahn plunged across from the four, and it was 13-7 after Lew Green kicked the point. An 81 yard Riverside drive was stopped by a fumble just before the half ended.

AFTER ARLINGTON kicked off the second half, Riverside was not to be stopped, scoring TD number three on a 38 yard pass play. The winners had recovered their own fumble just a moment before.

R-B scored again in the third period, starting from their own 22, and taking nine plays for the job, including a 17 yard pass and two sprints by Rhind covering 33 yards.

Final tally was chalked up in the final stanza when Rhind went 41 yards on a quarterback sneak. Arlington led in first downs, 13-7, believe it or not, and in passing yardage, 133-116. But otherwise it was all-Riverside, including the score.

BIGGEST DISAPPOINTMENT around the West Suburban league over the weekend was the play of Arlington's varsity against Riverside-Brookfield Saturday. A team that looked like varsity material the week before showed anything but that against Riverside. Coach Ormsbee attributes it to over-anxiousness, though, in a game the Cardinals could have won. They lost, 33-7, in spite of leading in first downs, 13-7.

At any rate, it's the Arlington alums and yearling teams who are providing the good news for local fans, including Marv Berschet, John Eakins, Dick McAuliffe, and others who escaped notice of this column.

Berschet has started as offensive guard with the Washington Redskins in pro ball the past six games, playing all of the offensive time except for a time when his ankle gave out. He'll be seen in action November 21 at Comiskey Park when the Redskins meet the Cardinals. Eakins once again helped Carthage win, this time about 56-6, as did McAuliffe, another "fulltimer" with Carleton. The latter school is undefeated through six games.

Back on the home front, though, both Cardinal JV and frosh gridders looked good in winning against Riverside Monday.

The frosh played their best game of the year. The junior-varsity also looked good, providing good thought for Heights fans in an otherwise disappointing season.

Then came the realization there is no penalty attached to shooting another hunter.

Bison Sophs Trip Antioch

by BILL RIPPERGER

Bensenville's sophs smashed Antioch, 14-0, under the lights on the victors' field Friday. Highlighting the evening was the Bison passing attack as they gained eighty yards via the air.

Late in the first half, the young Bisons, with the aid of a penalty, moved the ball to the two. Bill Emory then carried for the first tally of the game. Wayne Langguth converted, making the halftime score 7-0.

EARLY IN the second half, Ken Cooper of the Bisons took a punt on his own 30 yard line and returned it seventy yards to score. The play was called back however, because of a clipping penalty against Bensenville.

The junior Bisons scored again in the fourth quarter when Lars Henriksen took a short pass from Emory in the end zone. Langguth's conversion was good once more, making the score 14-0.

LATER IN THE GAME, Langguth blocked an Antioch punt but the Bisons weren't able to take advantage of the situation and the final count found the Bisons ahead, 14-0.

Speed, Power And Reserves Win For Palatine, 27-7

Palatine speed, power, and reserve strength helped them hand Wauconda a 27-7 defeat Saturday for their fourth triumph in five league games in a contest featured by long runs Palatine's frosh-sophs took their first victory of the season 33-0 from the Wauconda eleven in the preliminary.

Alan Eck had runs from scrimmage of 51 and 85 yards for touchdowns and Douglas Hildebrandt ran the second half kickoff back 70 yards for a score. Bob Pintozzi ran a kick off for an 85 yard touchdown for the only Wauconda tally.

LATE IN FIRST period Palatine put on a touchdown drive which carried them 77 yards from their own 23. The series of nine plays which produced the score were as follows: Lorden eight yards, Penning four, Eck four, McClung lost one, Dilks 42 on end run, Lorden seven, Eck seven, Lorden six, D. Cornwell over from one foot line on first play of second quarter. An attempted pass by Lorden for the extra point failed.

On the kickoff which followed, Bob Pintozzi of Wauconda took the ball on his own 15, cut to the opposite side line, and ran all the way for a game tying touchdown. The Wauconda Bulldogs took a 7-6 lead when Gene Jaskot ran the ball from a fake kick for the extra point.

LATER IN PERIOD Alan Eck ran to his right on an end run and raced 51 yards to give Palatine the lead and Ray Lorder plunged for the ertra point for a half time score of 13-7. On the opening kickoff of the second half Douglas Hildebrandt took the ball on the 30 and behind superb blocking ran straight down the field for a touchdown. The big Pirate end did some good side stepping of tacklers. Ray Lorden again plunged for the point to make it 20-7.

Early in the fourth period Eck got away on a double reverse play for an 85 yard touchdown sprint and again Lorden converted by a line plunge. Late in the final quarter Coach Charley Feutz sent in a complete lineup of juniors and they chalked up four first downs in a row moving from their own 19 yard line to the Wauconda 16 before the game ended.

PALATINE HAD a big edge edge on total net gain from scrimmage with Alan Eck having a net of 165, John Dilks 95, Ray Lorden 52, and Jim Penning 28. Douglas Hildebrandt at end, as in previous games, broke through on numerous occasions to tackle opposing ball carriers for losses.

Whitman's punting for Wauconda was exceptionally good and the all round play of Gene Jaskot in the backfield on offense and at end on defense was outstanding. Wauconda's starting lineup included three sophomores: Beyer at end, Wisnuski at center, and Weinberg at quarterback.

Sophs Lose To Riverside

A Riverside fumble postponed the execution of Arlington's frosh-sophs Saturday afternoon at the southern school, but R-B was not to be denied when Paloucek of the hosts intercepted Jacobsen's pass on the 34 and dashed 77 yards for the touchdown. The conversion was good, 7-0, at the half.

Riverside's other TD came in the fourth quarter on a series of ground plays, with the aid of a 19 yard pass and a 15 yard penalty. Otherwise the second half was fairly even with Brown's 50 yard interception of a Riverside pass being the bright light.

A 30 yard return of an R-B punt by Ashley Haase also helped in statistics.

ONLY OTHER sustained drive by Coach John Ligon's sophomores was in the second period, including a 29 yard pass play, Jacobsen to Vittum, but the interception two passes later nullified the gain.

Outstanding for Riverside were Paloucek and Steinhaus. The locals were on the short end of first downs, 11-2.

Touchdowns were scored by Knitter. Schwenk, Nordin, and two by Eldridge. Conversions were by Hodgson and Peterson. Wauconda gained little through the Palatine line but found the pass defense not so tough.

Heights Midget Football Teams To Play Friday

All four teams of midget football players in Arlington Heights will see action under the lights Friday when they put on a double exhibition between halves of the frosh-soph game.

Showing fans what they have learned in their restricted practice of once a week will be the Lions and Bears, plus Cards and Packers.

The two exhibition, short games will be played between the fifty yard stripe and the two end zones to a large Dad's Day crowd.

MOTHERS and fathers are cautioned not to expect too much from these boys. With the exception of the Lions, the boys have been holding just a two hour session each week since early September.

Footing the bill has been the Arlington Heights park district in an effort to provide youngsters with as complete a recreation program as possible.

Directing instruction have been high school coaches Ormsbee, Beckman, Mudge and Kellogg. "Civilian" Tom Kouros, always interested in sports, has been helping with the Lions, including some extra practice sessions.

THE PARK BOARD has provided all of the boys with jerseys and helmets, with as many youngsters as possible bringing their own equipment.

The exhibition Friday night will not affect the regular Saturday morning workout scheduled at the high school practice field. Hours will be 9-11.

Football Dads To Wear Sons' Numbers At York-Arlington Game

Attention, varsity and frosh-soph football dads.

You will call at a table at the south end of the field for your son's jersey number and sit as a group along the sideline Friday night at the game with York.

Frosh-soph dads are asked to report between 6 and 6:15, if possible. Frosh-soph dads are also asked to turn in their numbers immediately following the frosh-soph game so they can be used by varsity dads.

Heights Midget Football Teams To Play Friday

All four teams of midget football players in Arlington Heights will see action under the lights Friday when they put on a double exhibition between halves of the frosh-soph game.

Showing fans what they have learned in their restricted practice of once a week will be the Lions and Bears, plus Cards and Packers.

The two exhibition, short games will be played between the fifty yard stripe and the two end zones to a large Dad's Day crowd.

MOTHERS and fathers are cautioned not to expect too much from these boys. With the exception of the Lions, the boys have been holding just a two hour session each week since early September.

Footing the bill has been the Arlington Heights park district in an effort to provide youngsters with as complete a recreation program as possible.

Directing instruction have been high school coaches Ormsbee, Beckman, Mudge and Kellogg. "Civilian" Tom Kouros, always interested in sports, has been helping with the Lions, including some extra practice sessions.

THE PARK BOARD has provided all of the boys with jerseys and helmets, with as many youngsters as possible bringing their own equipment.

The exhibition Friday night will not affect the regular Saturday morning workout scheduled at the high school practice field. Hours will be 9-11.

Subject:
Ceramics

Having long been interested in Indian and Mexican pottery, it is not surprising that our approach to this hobby would be directed to the more primitive forms - and not at all toward "commercial" ceramics in the usual sense of that word . . . From a practical standpoint, we felt that the first obstacle to overcome was the problem of "firing" - and about a year ago when we read that a big Studio in the east had come out with a "kitchen-oven" clay, we immediately sent for some of it . . We experimented several times and either because we expected too much - or didn't exactly follow directions - we were not too happy with the results . . . too many air holes and difficult to model. At about the same time, having received some "plastic clay" from a Los Angeles concern, we also experimented with that - and, again, were disappointed with the end products . . . Cleaning out odds and ends in the workroom, the other day, we came across what was left out of both packages - and - (you've guessed it!) we combined them (East meets West!) and now we're all excited about pottery, again - the kind you can bake in your own oven - and we're right up to here, in a very satisfactory mess!

We don't know about the alchemy of the mixture - but this particular combination (Yes, we did keep track of proportions used) can be molded, poured, pressed and thrown! It takes the glazes easily, is not hard to decorate - and the base color of pale gray is quite pleasing to the eye. And of course, best of all, no kiln is required . . . Buying a kiln - (even the tiny ones are expensive) - or trying to get work fired outside, somewhere, presents a lot of problems to the would-be-ceramist - and keeps lots of people from trying out this fascinating means of creative expression . . . We feel that the time to make a real expenditure should come after experimentation - and puttering around with all the various steps that go into the making of finished items.

We made a small vase mold, several jewelry molds and a small cup mold. Then we turned our hand to modeling "free form" ash trays, pin trays, etc. . . One item - a "Spoon Tray" was made in the shape of a mitten ("The Helping Hand") and the "thumb" is sort of a lip-spout which can be utilized to save any liquid residue out of the tray.

Now, to set the record straight, none of these articles would give the Haegers the slightest competition. They are obviously handmade and have faults. But we like 'em - they all "Work", hold liquids and are washable - and they are originals from the ground up (so to speak - and without intending a pun.) They've given us ideas for a dozen other projects - and that is the real point of a hobby-art: - to always feel there is something interesting ahead, just out of reach! . . . If anyone is interested, this is one of the subjects available at our big Make It Yourself work table, seats available any afternoon from 1:00 to 3:00 o'clock.

One of our neighbors has turned his woodcarving hobby into a part-time business. He makes a very attractive night (or TV) light by carving different designs on a square of plastic. A metal base uses a tiny bulb that throws light upward into the carved design (resembles expensive lalique work) giving a 3-dimensional effect. You can choose the color effect you want, so that the light becomes dramatically decorative in a darkened room - and it also gives off enough illumination to allow one to move freely about . . . We've sold several and think it is well worth the $5.95 price tag.

Illinois Fifth In Number Of Cars

Illinois held its position as one of the top six automobile-owning states in the nation this year according to the Chicago Motor Club. The club said car registration figures for 1954 showed a four-and-a-half per cent jump, or 116,000 more cars, in Illinois in the last 12 months.

The Illinois figures are part of a general trend around the country.

There are now 2,696,000 registered cars in Illinois. The nation as a whole has 58,129,000, which is a gain of a little over three per cent over last year. That means the Illinois auto increase is slightly ahead of the national average.

The five states owning more cars than Illinois are: California, 4,879,000; New York, 3,834,000; Pennsylvania, 4,036,000; Texas, 2,745,000, and Ohio, 2,893,000.

Largest gains in car ownership were in the northeastern states Southern states trailed the country.

In Greenland

Ruddy A. Vergin Jr., Mount Prospect, now serving with the air force at Thule, Greenland, has been promoted to the rank of airman first class. He is the on of Mr. and Mr. R. A. Vergin. 19 N. Pine st., Mount Prospect.

Airman Virgin is assigned to the 74th fighter - interceptor squadron, world-famous as the Flying Tigers. Arriving here in August with his organization, he will spend one year at this huge installation only 700 miles from the North Pole.

As a jet aircraft mechanic, Airman Vergin's duties are vitally important in carrying out the squadron mission. Due to the extreme Arctic weather conditions encountered here, the aircraft must be maintained in top condition at all times.

Airman Vergin graduated from Arlington Heights high school in 1950. He worked for Bell and Howell for one year as a tool and die apprentice before entering the air force in November, 1951. He completed the aircraft and engine course at Sheppard air force base, Texas, and the engine specialist school at Chanute air force base, prior to being assigned to the 74th in September 1952.

Thule air base, established as a permanent installation in 1951, is a gleaming aluminum city only 700 miles south of the Pole on the northwest coast of Greenland. Flying the twin-jet F-89 all-weather interceptor, the 74th stands as the topmost arm of the 64th air division and is the world's only fighter squadron operating north of the Arctic Circle.

Polar Bears, seals and walruses occasionally are found near Thule Air Base where the great Greenland Ice Cap juts seaward. Eskimos and Danish settlers live near this vast Arctic airdrome. At Thule, the present winter months are totally dark and the midnight sun shines during the summer.

At about the same time, having received some "plastic clay" from a Los Angeles concern, we also experimented with that - and, again, were disappointed with the end products . . . Cleaning out odds and ends in the workroom, the other day, we came across what was left out of both packages - and - (you've guessed it!) we combined them (East meets West!) and now we're all excited about pottery, again - the kind you can bake in your own oven - and we're right up to here, in a very satisfactory mess!

We don't know about the alchemy of the mixture - but this particular combination (Yes, we did keep track of proportions used) can be molded, poured, pressed and thrown! It takes the glazes easily, is not hard to decorate - and the base color of pale gray is quite pleasing to the eye. And of course, best of all, no kiln is required . . Buying a kiln - (even the tiny ones are expensive) - or trying to get work fired outside, somewhere, presents a lot of problems to the would-be-ceramist - and keeps lots of people from trying out this fascinating means of creative expression . . . We feel that the time to make a real expenditure should come after experimentation - and puttering around with all the various steps that go into the making of finished items.

We made a small vase mold, several jewelry molds and a small cup mold. Then we turned our hand to modeling "free form" ash trays, pin trays, etc. . . One item - a "Spoon Tray" was made in the shape of a mitten ("The Helping Hand") and the "thumb" is sort of a lip-spout which can be utilized to save any liquid residue out of the tray.

Now, to set the record straight, none of these articles would give the Haegers the slightest competition. They are obviously handmade and have faults. But we like 'em - they all "Work", hold liquids and are washable - and they are originals from the ground up (so to speak - and without intending a pun.) They've given us ideas for a dozen other projects - and that is the real point of a hobby-art: - to always feel there is something interesting ahead, just out of reach! . . . If anyone is interested, this is one of the subjects available at our big Make It Yourself work table, seats available any afternoon from 1:00 to 3:00 o'clock.

One of our neighbors has turned his woodcarving hobby into a part-time business. He makes a very attractive night (or TV) light by carving different designs on a square of plastic. A metal base uses a tiny bulb that throws light upward into the carved design (resembles expensive lalique work) giving a 3-dimensional effect. You can choose the color effect you want, so that the light becomes dramatically decorative in a darkened room - and it also gives off enough illumination to allow one to move freely about . . . We've sold several and think it is well worth the $5.95 price tag.

Illinois Fifth In Number Of Cars

Illinois held its position as one of the top six automobile-owning states in the nation this year according to the Chicago Motor Club. The club said car registration figures for 1954 showed a four-and-a-half per cent jump, or 116,000 more cars, in Illinois in the last 12 months.

The Illinois figures are part of a general trend around the country.

There are now 2,696,000 registered cars in Illinois. The nation as a whole has 58,129,000, which is a gain of a little over three per cent over last year. That means the Illinois auto increase is slightly ahead of the national average.

The five states owning more cars than Illinois are: California, 4,879,000; New York, 3,834,000; Pennsylvania, 4,036,000; Texas, 2,745,000, and Ohio, 2,893,000.

Largest gains in car ownership were in the northeastern states Southern states trailed the country.

In Greenland

Ruddy A. Vergin Jr., Mount Prospect, now serving with the air force at Thule, Greenland, has been promoted to the rank of airman first class. He is the on of Mr. and Mr. R. A. Vergin. 19 N. Pine st., Mount Prospect.

Airman Virgin is assigned to the 74th fighter - interceptor squadron, world-famous as the Flying Tigers. Arriving here in August with his organization, he will spend one year at this huge installation only 700 miles from the North Pole.

As a jet aircraft mechanic, Airman Vergin's duties are vitally important in carrying out the squadron mission. Due to the extreme Arctic weather conditions encountered here, the aircraft must be maintained in top condition at all times.

Airman Vergin graduated from Arlington Heights high school in 1950. He worked for Bell and Howell for one year as a tool and die apprentice before entering the air force in November, 1951. He completed the aircraft and engine course at Sheppard air force base, Texas, and the engine specialist school at Chanute air force base, prior to being assigned to the 74th in September 1952.

Thule air base, established as a permanent installation in 1951, is a gleaming aluminum city only 700 miles south of the Pole on the northwest coast of Greenland. Flying the twin-jet F-89 all-weather interceptor, the 74th stands as the topmost arm of the 64th air division and is the world's only fighter squadron operating north of the Arctic Circle.

Polar Bears, seals and walruses occasionally are found near Thule Air Base where the great Greenland Ice Cap juts seaward. Eskimos and Danish settlers live near this vast Arctic airdrome. At Thule, the present winter months are totally dark and the midnight sun shines during the summer.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

"Thank you, Steve Allen."

"The other day, 'The Saturday Review" published a hilarious article by Harold Flender, one of the Garry Moore writers, on the Deibel situation, 'Nickel-Plated Tidal Wave'."

"Flender writes for a comedian and he writes in a humorous vein. But his last two paragraphs indicate that he has been greatly troubled by the development.

"HE QUOTES a psychoanalyst who fears that the 'nickel-plated tidal wave' suggests the potentialities of something terrible. 'The Orson Welles episode could be dwarfed by the kind of Mars aberration that television could produce.'

"Then he quotes a sociologist who specializes in mass response. The sociologist compares the response to a post-hypnotic suggestion—the hearer would not respond if he were fundamentally opposed to what was requested.

"But it was you, Steve Allen, who put the whole sitlation to the experimental test. I read the Flender article on the same day that you reported on the response to your appeal on that Sunday night spectacular.

"YOU HAD said that if everyone listening would send you one dollar, you could be one of the richest men in America. Thursday night, four days later, you had received exactly eight dollars

"For all the people who may have feared the possible consequences of television appeals for money or other response, thank you, Steve Allen, for proving that there is enough intelligence in the viewing public to recognize a joke and to respond in kind.

"You deserve every one of those eight dollars."

By George E. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The proposed amendment to the Illinois constitution to be voted upon at the election November 2 regarding the Illinois-Michigan canal may do some good and won't hurt the taxpayers. This is the conclusion of Roger Henn, director of state government research of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, after several months spent in checking every possible way that the proposed amendment could affect the taxpayers of Illinois.

The Illinois-Michigan canal, the only canal or waterway owned by the state today, has not been used as a canal since 1915. The canal as it now exists has been described as: "North of Joliet the canal is a cesspool, southwest, a drainage ditch." The canal bed, and a strip of land 90 feet wide on each side thereof, is owned by the state of Illinois subject to the provision that, if any of the land shall ever cease to be used for a public purpose, then the ownership of such land shall revert to the United States of America.

UNDER THE PRESENT constitution, the state cannot sell or lease any portion of the land without approval of each proposed lease or sale by a majority of the voters at an election. Under the proposed amendment the general assembly could provide for lease or sale by the state of canal propsale would have to be for a public purpose, such as a park, recreational area, or public parking lot, unless the federal act of 1947 is amended to remove this federal restriction.

The proposed amendment also gives the general assembly power to appropriate for the operation and maintenance of canals and waterways owned by the state, a power now expressly prohibited. This was the provision that caused apprehension on the part of the Taxpayers' Federation. However, the Illinois-Michigan canal is the only canal or waterway owned by the state.

THERE IS NO possibility that it will be operated as a canal. Under court decisions, the state is already responsible for maintaining drainage facilities for certain areas of this canal, subject to damage suits if it doesn't. Other areas along the canal could now be designated as state parks, with state money spent on such areas. Accordingly, after exploration of all suggested possibilities, Henn concluded that passage of the proposed amendment would not in fact result in any increased power of the General Assembly to authorize spending of taxpayers' money for new purposes.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By Georg[illegible] Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The proposed amendment to the Illinois constitution to be voted upon at the election November 2 regarding the Illinois-Michigan canal may do some good and won't hurt the taxpayers. This is the conclusion of Roger Henn, director of state government research of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, after several months spent in checking every possible way that the proposed amendment could affect the taxpayers of Illinois.

The Illinois-Michigan canal, the only canal or waterway owned by the state today, has not been used as a canal since 1915. The canal as it now exists has been described as: "North of Joliet the canal is a cesspool, southwest, a drainage ditch." The canal bed, and a strip of land 90 feet wide on each side thereof, is owned by the state of Illinois subject to the provision that, if any of the land shall ever cease to be used for a public purpose, then the ownership of such land shall revert to the United States of America.

UNDER THE PRESENT constitution, the state cannot sell or lease any portion of the land without approval of each proposed lease or sale by a majority of the voters at an election. Under the proposed amendment the general assembly could provide for lease or sale by the state of canal propsale would have to be for a public purpose, such as a park, recreational area, or public parking lot, unless the federal act of 1947 is amended to remove this federal restriction.

The proposed amendment also gives the general assembly power to appropriate for the operation and maintenance of canals and waterways owned by the state, a power now expressly prohibited. This was the provision that caused apprehension on the part of the Taxpayers' Federation. However, the Illinois-Michigan canal is the only canal or waterway owned by the state.

THERE IS NO possibility that it will be operated as a canal. Under court decisions, the state is already responsible for maintaining drainage facilities for certain areas of this canal, subject to damage suits if it doesn't. Other areas along the canal could now be designated as state parks, with state money spent on such areas. Accordingly, after exploration of all suggested possibilities, Henn concluded that passage of the proposed amendment would not in fact result in any increased power of the General Assembly to authorize spending of taxpayers' money for new purposes.

Vote Tuesday on Redistricting Amendment

THURSDAY, OCT. 28, 1954

All Political Parties Endorse Equal Representation Plan

Residents of the northwest country towns have an important stake in the success of the Blue Ballot Tuesday.

The campaign for its approval was climaxed Sunday when religious leaders used pulpit announcements, sermons, and church bulletins to remind voters of the moral implications of the proposed amendment.

Despite its wide discussion, many voters are still confused by the amendment controversy. Here, briefly, is what the amendment is all about.

The "Blue Ballot" is a new constitutional approach to the problem of equalizing representation in the legislative districts of Illinois.

Since 1901 Cook county and other heavily-populated areas in Illinois have not been fairly represented in Springfield. This has meant that in many cases, hoodlum elements from small districts in Chicago have held tremendous power in the legislature.

The proposed Blue Ballot reapportionment amendment provides the long-needed compromise giving the downstate and rural communities control of the Senate on a geographical basis while continuing representation in the House on a population basis.

At present, 26 percent of the population elects a majority of both houses in the General Assembly. This means that the minority in the assembly is actually representing nearly three-fourths of the state's population.

The approval of the "Blue Ballot" will also assure citizens that future legislatures will obey the amendment, because it will be required to prepare a new map in 1963 and at 10-year intervals thereafter to conform with population shifts downstate, in Chicago, and in suburban Cook county.

It is agreed by civic leaders and responsible legislators that the major problems of Illinois are rooted in this 50-year failure to remap the districts. The needed modernization of the judicial system, the failure of Illinois cities to serve their people, the rising tide of crime, the critical needs of the youth of the state — these problems demand legislative action. Legislation on these and other important problems have been repeatedly vetoed by small blocs of legislators from Chicago and elsewhere.

The amendment is Illinois' gateway to better government.

Opposition to the amendment comes only from personal and selfish interest. Some legislators may lose their seats, others may have their districts enlarged which will increase their work load.

A Chicago newspaper reported Monday that if the Blue Ballot is defeated, the question of Illinois' refusal to redistrict may be taken to the United States Supreme court. On the basis of historic decisions, the court will be compelled to decide only in favor of redistricting.

Thus it would seem that a vote for the Blue Ballot is not only a vote for better government, but also a vote against chaos and corruption.

Under the plan, the present 7th senatorial district which comprises all suburban towns of Cook county will be divided into six senatorial districts, which will mean an addition of five senators to represent that area. The present three representatives in the assembly will be increased to 21. Thus, northwest Cook county, with its increased population, will have its own residents representing them in the general assembly.

DuPage county, now joined with Will county in the legislature, will be established as an independent district.

Township School Treasurers Endorse Noble J. Puffer

At a meeting of Cook County Township School Treasurers Sept. 30 the following resolution, endorsing Noble J. Puffer for county superintendent of schools was passed:

Whereas, Noble J. Puffer, who is just completing his fourth term as County Superintendent of Schools, has rendered twenty-four years of faithful public service in said office; and

Whereas, he is a man of unquestioned ability, who in the conduct of his office has shown Dignity, Character, Leadership, and Understanding, and has at all times rendered helpful cooperation to the various Township School Treasurers, School Trustees, Boards of Education and to the Teachers of the Public Schools of Cook County; and

Whereas, he has fulfilled the duties of County Superintendent of Schools with Honor and Distinction and has clearly demonstrated his fitness and ability and so demeaned himself in said office so as to warrant our respect, confidence and admiration; and

Whereas, he is a firm believer in Good Schools and the maintenance of High Standards in Education, and a strong opponent of politics in the Public School System, and is deserving of the support of all men and women in Cook County who have at heart the welfare of our Schools;

Therefore be it resolved, by the School Treasurers' Association of Cook County, that we earnestly support and endorse Noble J. Puffer for re-election to the Office of County Superintendent of Schools and urge all voters interested in the Public Schools, to give him their unqualified support.

Hurl Flares Through Windows

Two Des Plaines teenagers were scheduled to appear before the Park Ridge justice of the peace after police of that suburb arrested them and two other Des Plaines boys for hurling 3-pound kerosene flares thru the windows of six Park Ridge homes early last week, causing an estimated $1000 in damages.

'Congressman's Duties Are A Full Time Job,' Church

A Congressman always seems to be busy, says Marguerite Stitt Church, Congressman from the 13th district. Not only does she keep her office open with a permanent secretary in Washington, but her office in her home is equally busy. "There is practically no vacation for a member of Congress, unless one runs away," says Mrs. Church, and she is not one to run away from her obligations to her constituents. She is so busy doing just that that she has little time to do any campaigning.

Mrs. Church serves on foreign affairs committee with special jurisdiction over the Far East and Pacific. She flew over 31,000 miles in that territory last November and December on a study mission, whose report was so factual and realistic that it was used as a basis not only by the executive branch and the Congress, but by colleges and policy making associations throughout the country.

She also is a member of the committee on government operations and on the subcommittee dealing with reorganization of the executive branch as recommended by the Hoover commission and the president.

Sen. Douglas To Speak In Heights Sunday

Senator Paul H. Douglas will cap his campaign — locally — for re-election with a climactic appearance in Arlington Heights Sunday. He will speak at a rally beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The senator's address, coming as it does just two days before the election, will give residents of the northwest suburbs their last — and best — opportunity to judge his merits for themselves.

All civic minded residents, independents and Republicans, as well as Democrats, are invited to attend. Admission is free and no tickets are necessary.

The rally is also the climax for the efforts of Arlington Heights Citizens for Douglas, the independent organization of voters that has been working in the senator's behalf. Their work will be wound up with a flurry on election day when members will provide free taxi and baby-sitting service for citizens going to the polls.

To get a ride to the polls, a sitter for the baby, or both, just call the Citizens for Douglas at CLearbrook 5-0025 or CLearbrook 5-0045.

Richard T. McClaughry and Mrs. Paul Moore, co-chairmen of the Citizens for Douglas here, ask all members of the organization to meet at the headquarters, 17 W Campbell, immediately after Sunday's rally to complete planning for the taxi and sitting service.

Also invited are citizens who have not up to now worked with the group but who would like to be of service on election day to their fellow citizens.

Bill Erickson Is A Good Neighbor To Northwest Towns

There has probably never been a president of the county board in as close touch with the northwest country towns as William N. Erickson, who is a candidate for reelection as president and member of the board.

A frequent visitor to this area, he is familiar with its needs. Under his leadership, the county reduced the tax levy and placed county funds in solvent condition. Erickson also has financed entirely with motor fuel taxes the construction of highways, as well as created the Cook county Traffic Safety commission, organized a citizens committee to stop pollution of natural streams and waterways, and modernized County hospital.

Erickson's running mates are men who also know the northwest area. They are John Mackler, Jr., of Proviso; Jerry Dolezal, Charles F. Chaplin, of Northbrook; and Fred A. Fulle, of Des Plaines.

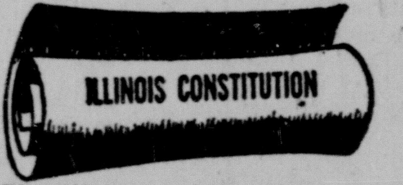
How ALL Votes Can Be Equal In Illinois

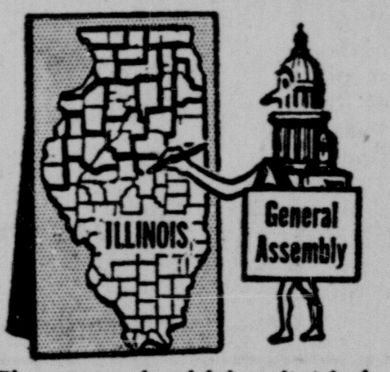
Thousands of Illinois voters are unfairly represented in the General Assembly because state has not been redistricted in the last 53 years.

ILLINOIS HAS THIS IN CONSTITUTION



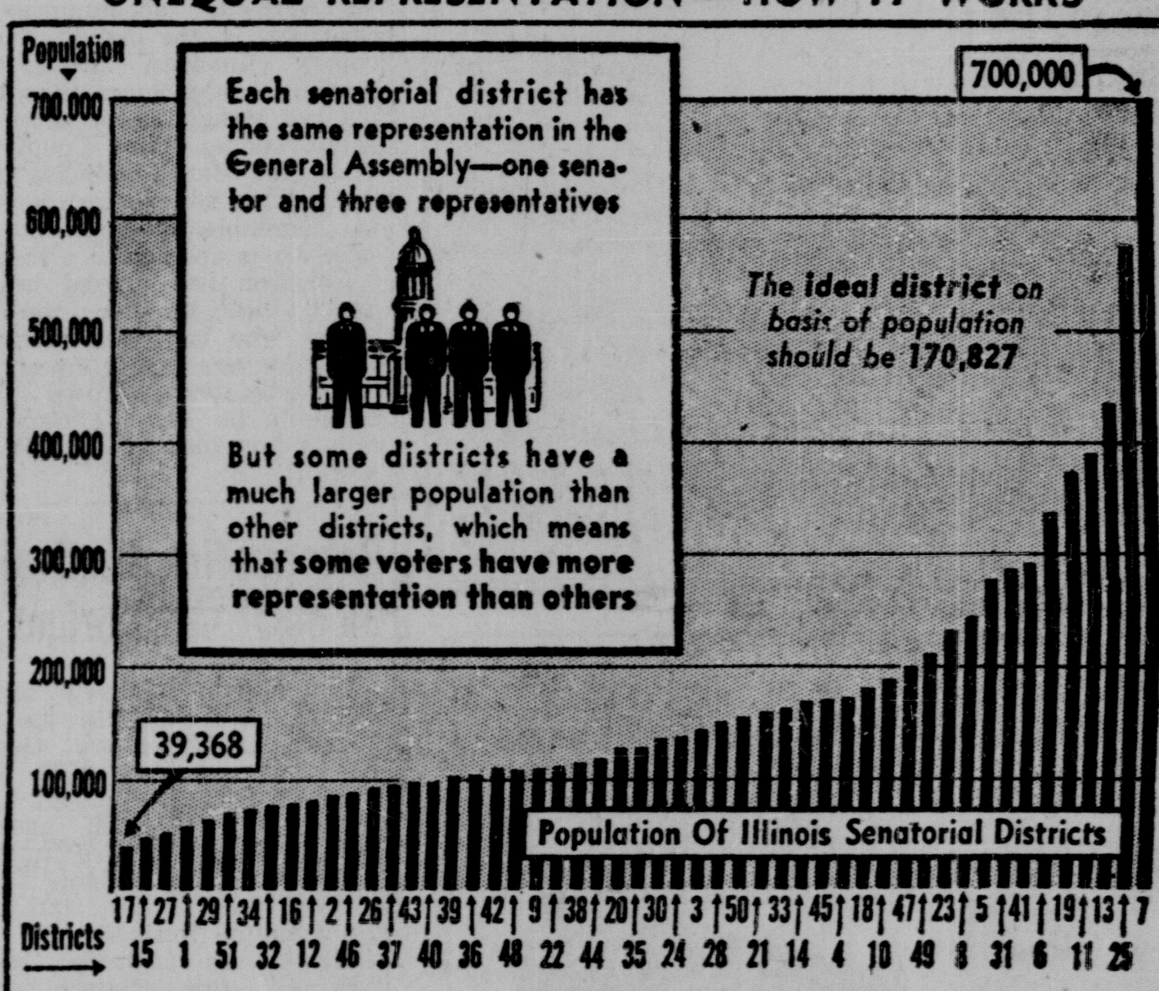
The Illinois constitution provides: "The General Assembly shall apportion the state every 10 years, beginning with the year 1871, by dividing the population of the state, as ascertained by the federal census, by the number 51, and the quotient shall be the ratio of representation in Senate . . .

WHAT THIS MEANS



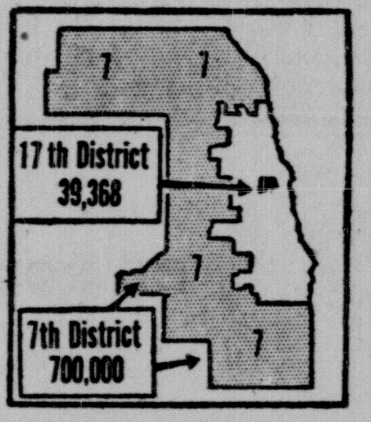
The state should be divided into new senatorial districts EVERY 10 YEARS. Each district should have about the same population, to provide for equal representation in General Assembly. State was last reapportioned in 1901.

UNEQUAL REPRESENTATION—HOW IT WORKS

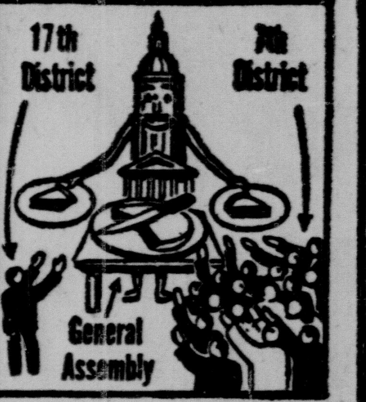


This chart gives a graphic picture of unequal representation in Illinois. Population of the largest district is almost 18 times that of the smallest. There is a wide range of population in between. Shifting of population, and failure of General Assembly to redistrict state, have resulted in great inequalities in legislative districts. This is unfair to voters.

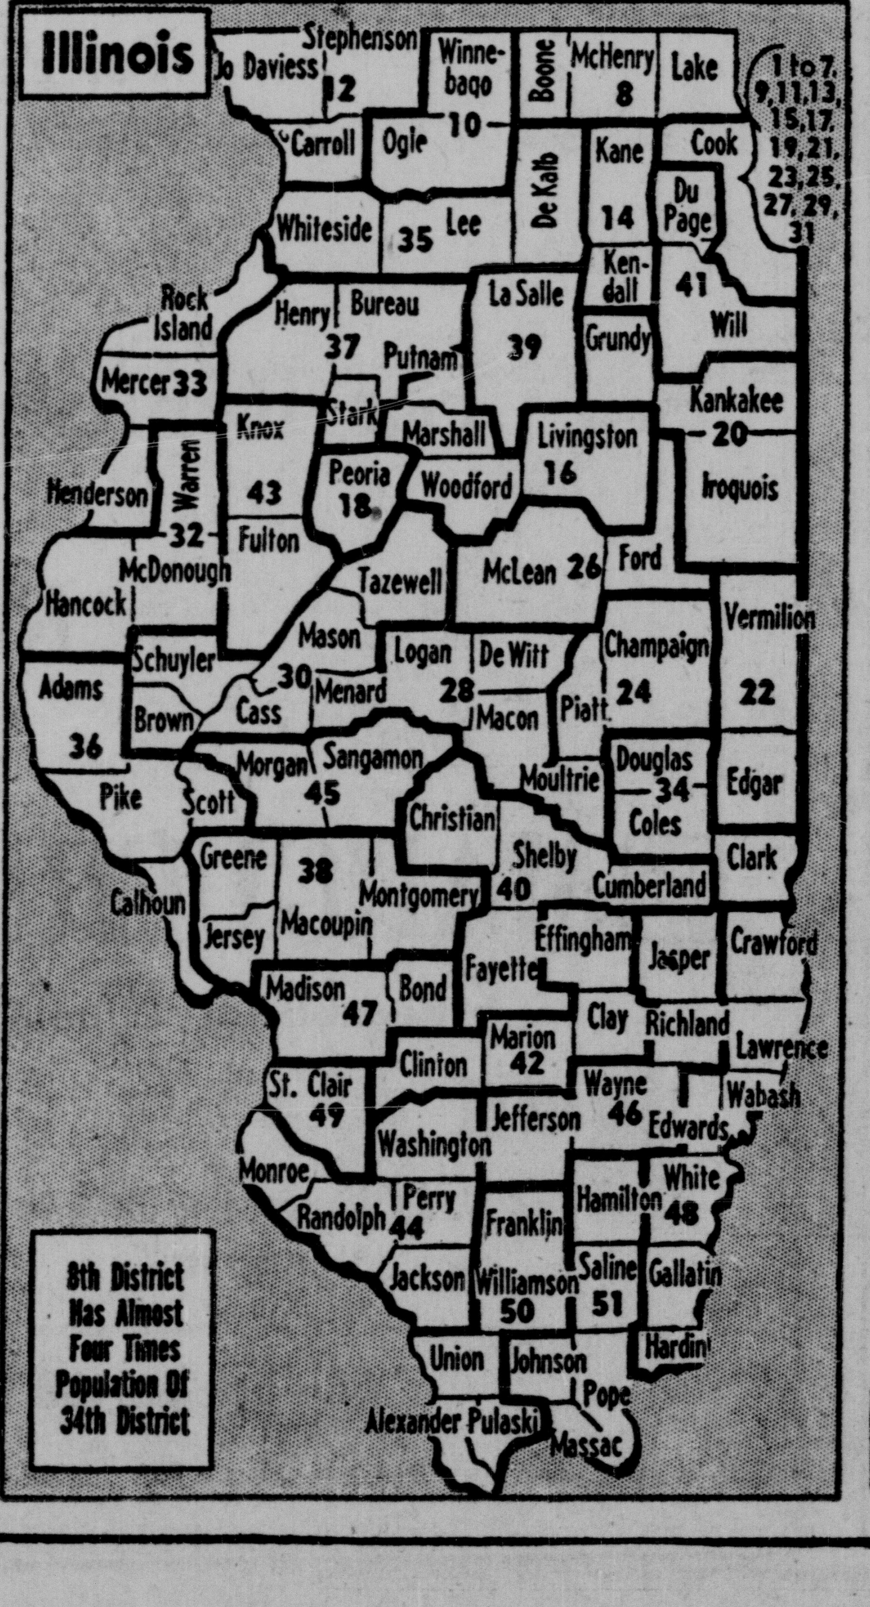
EXAMPLE OF WHAT THIS DOES TO VOTERS



An example of unfair representation is in Cook County. The 7th district has population of about 700,000, while 17th district has more than 39,000. But each has EQUAL representation in the General Assembly. This means that the vote of a resident in the 7th district is worth about one-eighteenth as much as the vote of resident in the 17th district. Some get more from legislative pie.

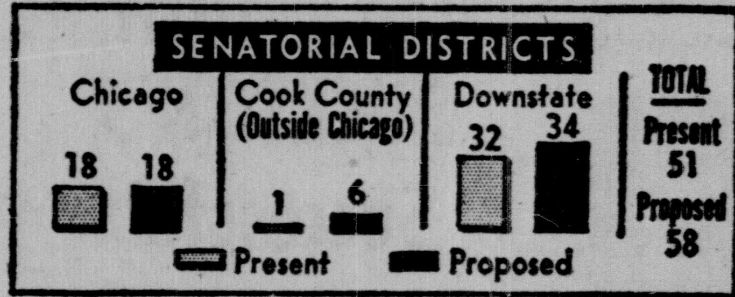


51 ILLINOIS SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

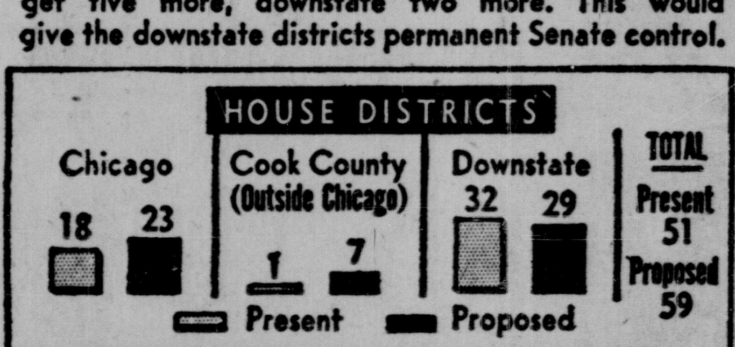


HERE IS SOLUTION OF PROBLEM

On Nov. 2, Illinois voters will have opportunity to get fair representation by voting for Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment to bring these improvements:

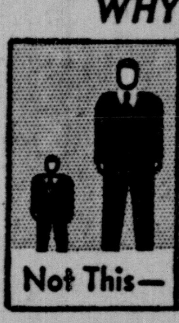


Amendment calls for 58 permanent Senate districts instead of 51. Cook County, outside Chicago, would get five more, downstate two more. This would give the downstate districts permanent Senate control.



House districts would be increased from 51 to 59. Each would be outlined on basis of population, and boundaries would be redrawn every 10 years, beginning in 1963. This would place votes on equal basis.

WHY THIS IS FAIR TO VOTERS



1—New districts would be outlined, each with almost equal population.

2—Each district would elect candidates to the state legislature by almost the same number of votes.

Legislation on these and other important problems have been repeatedly vetoed by small blocs of legislators from Chicago and elsewhere.

The amendment is Illinois' gateway to better government.

Opposition to the amendment comes only from personal and selfish interest. Some legislators may lose their seats, others may have their districts enlarged which will increase their work load.

A Chicago newspaper reported Monday that if the Blue Ballot is defeated, the question of Illinois' refusal to redistrict may be taken to the United States Supreme court. On the basis of historic decisions, the court will be compelled to decide only in favor of redistricting.

Thus it would seem that a vote for the Blue Ballot is not only a vote for better government, but also a vote against chaos and corruption.

Under the plan, the present 7th senatorial district which comprises all suburban towns of Cook county will be divided into six senatorial districts, which will mean an addition of five senators to represent that area. The present three representatives in the assembly will be increased to 21. Thus, northwest Cook county, with its increased population, will have its own residents representing them in the general assembly.

DuPage county, now joined with Will county in the legislature, will be established as an independent district.

Township School Treasurers Endorse Noble J. Puffer

At a meeting of Cook County Township School Treasurers Sept. 30 the following resolution, endorsing Noble J. Puffer for county superintendent of schools was passed:

Whereas, Noble J. Puffer, who is just completing his fourth term as County Superintendent of Schools, has rendered twenty-four years of faithful public service in said office; and

Whereas, he is a man of unquestioned ability, who in the conduct of his office has shown Dignity, Character, Leadership, and Understanding, and has at all times rendered helpful cooperation to the various Township School Treasurers, School Trustees, Boards of Education and to the Teachers of the Public Schools of Cook County; and

Whereas, he has fulfilled the duties of County Superintendent of Schools with Honor and Distinction and has clearly demonstrated his fitness and ability and so demeaned himself in said office so as to warrant our respect, confidence and admiration; and

Whereas, he is a firm believer in Good Schools and the maintenance of High Standards in Education, and a strong opponent of politics in the Public School System, and is deserving of the support of all men and women in Cook County who have at heart the welfare of our Schools;

Therefore be it resolved, by the School Treasurers' Association of Cook County, that we earnestly support and endorse Noble J. Puffer for re-election to the Office of County Superintendent of Schools and urge all voters interested in the Public Schools, to give him their unqualified support.

'Congressman's Duties Are A Full Time Job,' Church

A Congressman always seems to be busy, says Marguerite Stitt Church, Congressman from the 13th district. Not only does she keep her office open with a permanent secretary in Washington, but her office in her home is equally busy. "There is practically no vacation for a member of Congress, unless one runs away," says Mrs. Church, and she is not one to run away from her obligations to her constituents. She is so busy doing just that that she has little time to do any campaigning.

Mrs. Church serves on foreign affairs committee with special jurisdiction over the Far East and Pacific. She flew over 31,000 miles in that territory last November and December on a study mission, whose report was so factual and realistic that it was used as a basis not only by the executive branch and the Congress, but by colleges and policy making associations throughout the country.

She also is a member of the committee on government operations and on the subcommittee dealing with reorganization of the executive branch as recommended by the Hoover commission and the president.

Sen. Douglas To Speak In Heights Sunday

Senator Paul H. Douglas will cap his campaign — locally — for reelection with a climactic appearance in Arlington Heights Sunday. He will speak at a rally beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The senator's address, coming as it does just two days before the election, will give residents of the northwest suburbs their last — and best — opportunity to judge his merits for themselves.

All civic minded residents, independents and Republicans, as well as Democrats, are invited to attend. Admission is free and no tickets are necessary.

The rally is also the climax for the efforts of Arlington Heights Citizens for Douglas, the independent organization of voters that has been working in the senator's behalf. Their work will be wound up with a flurry on election day when members will provide free taxi and baby-sitting service for citizens going to the polls.

To get a ride to the polls, a sitter for the baby, or both, just call the Citizens for Douglas at CLearbrook 5-0025 or CLearbrook 5-0045.

Richard T. McClaughry and Mrs. Paul Moore, co-chairmen of the Citizens for Douglas here, ask all members of the organization to meet at the headquarters, 17 W Campbell, immediately after Sunday's rally to complete planning for the taxi and sitting service.

Also invited are citizens who have not up to now worked with the group but who would like to be of service on election day to their fellow citizens.

Bill Erickson Is A Good Neighbor To Northwest Towns

There has probably never been a president of the county board in as close touch with the northwest country towns as William N. Erickson, who is a candidate for reelection as president and member of the board.

A frequent visitor to this area, he is familiar with its needs. Under his leadership, the county reduced the tax levy and placed county funds in solvent condition. Erickson also has financed entirely with motor fuel taxes the construction of highways, as well as created the Cook county Traffic Safety commission, organized a citizens committee to stop pollution of natural streams and waterways, and modernized County hospital.

Erickson's running mates are men who also know the northwest area. They are John Mackler, Jr., of Proviso; Jerry Dolezal, Charles F. Chaplin, of Northbrook; and Fred A. Fulle, of Des Plaines.

GRAPHICHART

How ALL Votes Can Be Equal In Illinois

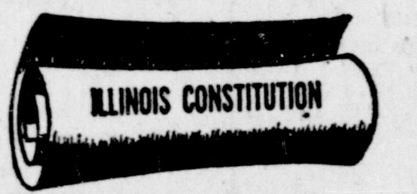
ILLINOIS HAS THIS IN CONSTITUTION



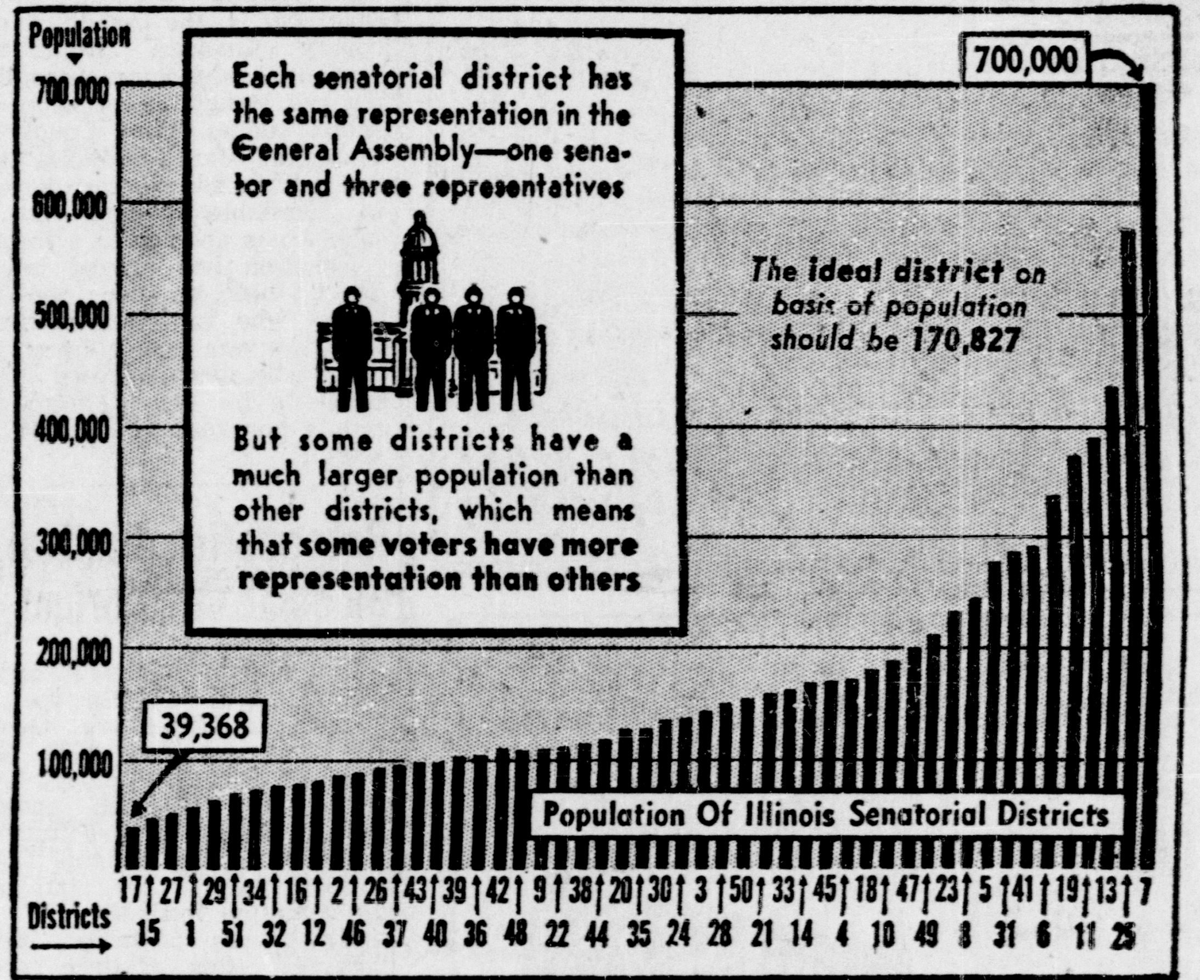
The Illinois constitution provides: "The General Assembly shall apportion the state every 10 years, beginning with the year 1871, by dividing the population of the state, as ascertained by the federal census, by the number 51, and the quotient shall be the ratio of representation in Senate . . .

WHAT THIS MEANS

ILLINOIS
General Assembly

The state should be divided into new senatorial districts EVERY 10 YEARS. Each district should have about the same population, to provide for equal representation in General Assembly. State was last reapportioned in 1901.

UNEQUAL REPRESENTATION—HOW IT WORKS



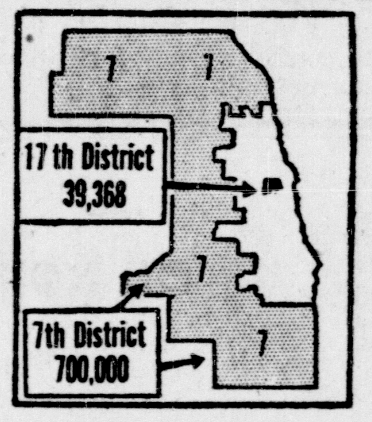
Each senatorial district has the same representation in the General Assembly—one senator and three representatives

But some districts have a much larger population than other districts, which means that some voters have more representation than others

The ideal district on basis of population should be 170,827

This chart gives a graphic picture of unequal representation in Illinois. Population of the largest district is almost 18 times that of the smallest. There is a wide range of population in between. Shifting of population, and failure of General Assembly to redistrict state, have resulted in great inequalities in legislative districts. This is unfair to voters.

EXAMPLE OF WHAT THIS DOES TO VOTERS

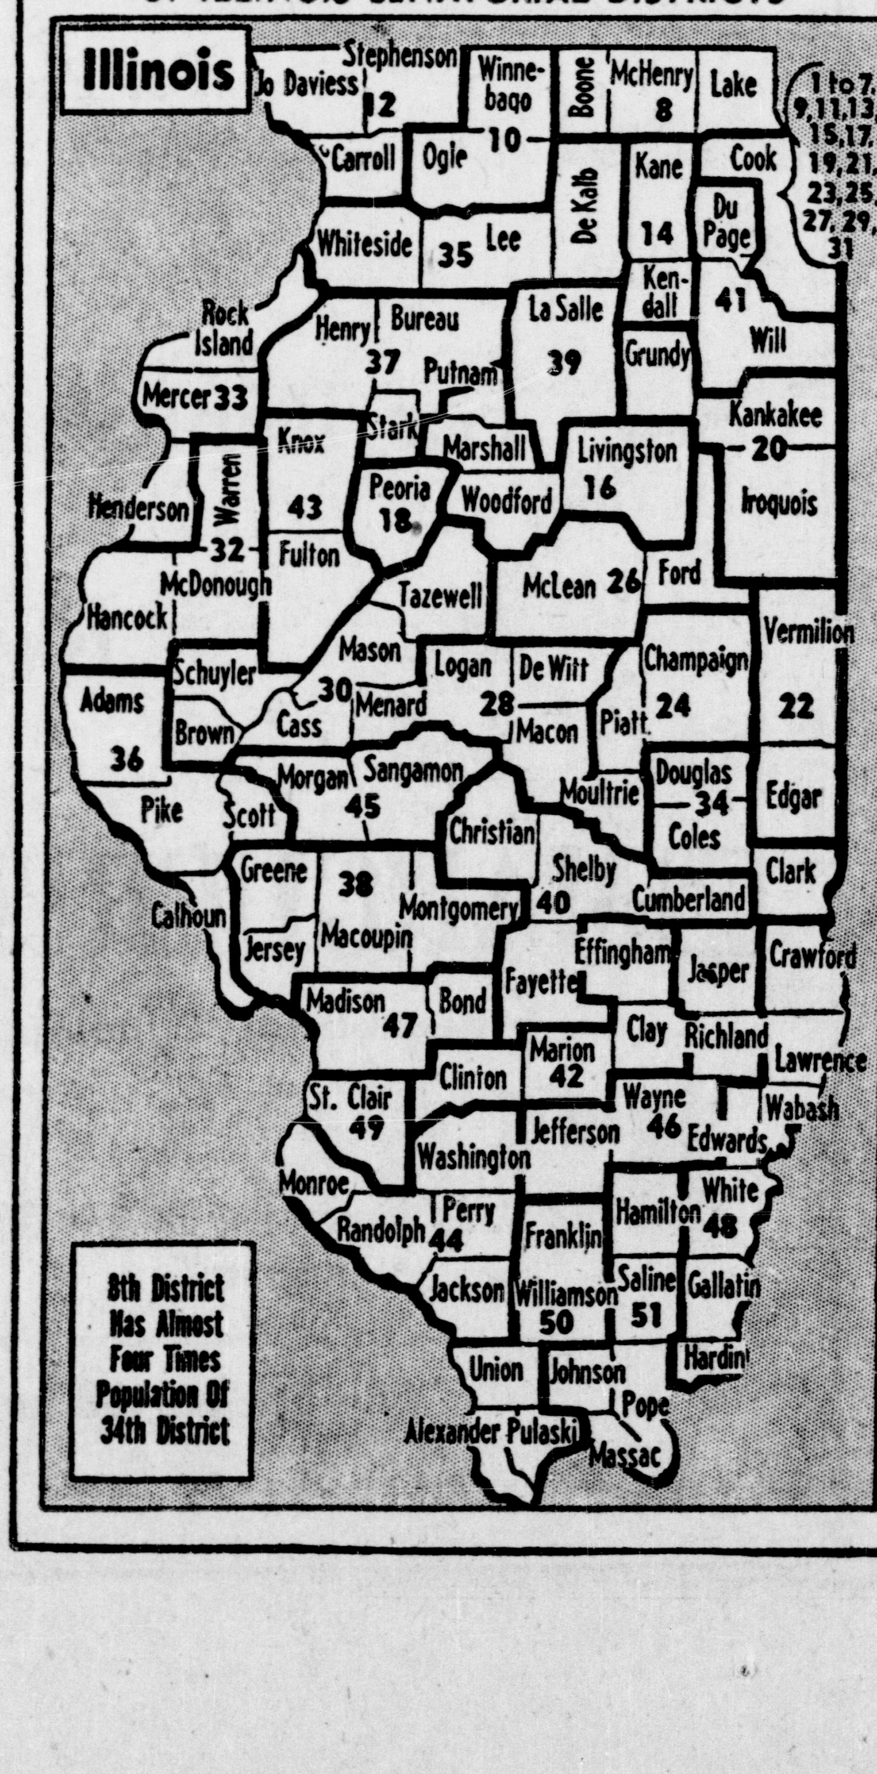


An example of unfair representation is in Cook County. The 7th district has population of about 700,000, while 17th district has more than 39,000. But each has EQUAL representation in the General Assembly.

This means that the vote of a resident in the 7th district is worth about one-eighteenth as much as the vote of resident in the 17th district. Some get more from legislative pie.

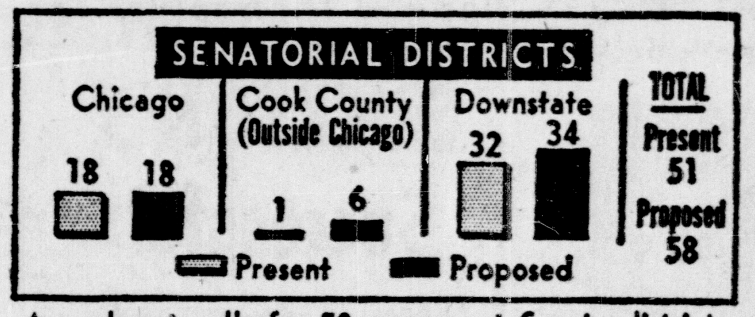
17th District
7th District
General Assembly

51 ILLINOIS SENATORIAL DISTRICTS

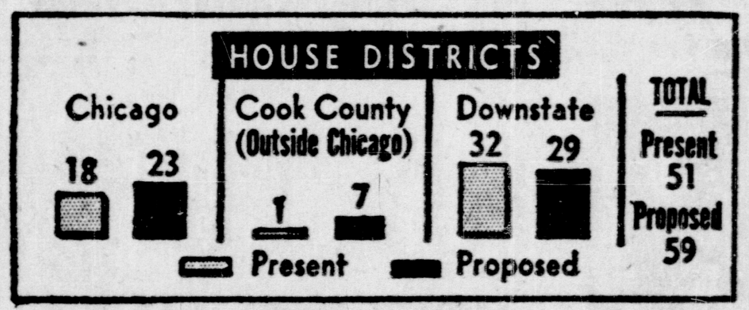


HERE IS SOLUTION OF PROBLEM

On Nov. 2, Illinois voters will have opportunity to get fair representation by voting for Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment to bring these improvements:



Amendment calls for 58 permanent Senate districts instead of 51. Cook County, outside Chicago, would get five more, downstate two more. This would give the downstate districts permanent Senate control.



House districts would be increased from 51 to 59. Each would be outlined on basis of population, and boundaries would be redrawn every 10 years, beginning in 1963. This would place votes on equal basis.

WHY THIS IS FAIR TO VOTERS

1—New districts would be outlined, each with almost equal population.

Teachers Visit Cal-Sag Channel Artery Of Lake-to-the-Gulf Waterway

Suburban high school teachers from all parts of Cook County yesterday toured the narrow Cal-Sag channel, through which nearly 4 million tons of freight squeezed last year, and emerged with the conviction that a series of such educational trips should be made available to all Chicagoland students and teachers.

Sanitary District Trustee John A Cullerton, who hosted the trip with his colleagues, Trustees Casimir Griglik and Frank W. Chesrow, promised the educators that the plan would be called to the attention of Anthony Olis, president of the Sanitary District

"This trip has been a revelation, and I wouldn't have missed it," declared Noble J. Puffer, Cook County superintendent of schools who headed the educator's group. "Civics and social science students and teachers would benefit greatly from more of these field trips."

The educators traveled the 16-mile, mud-colored bottle-neck in the Illinois Waterway. Nicknamed "Destiny's Ditch," it is sometimes called the "Sad Sag." It is the vital artery in the Great-Lakes-to-the-Gulf Waterway. At the mouth of the Calumet River at 92nd Street, where teachers boarded an Army launch, they noted the many foreign vessels docked there.

"When the Sag is widened, this international traffic will be multiplied enormously," predicted Trustee Cullerton. He gave the teachers a preview of the future—the vast undeveloped shoreline of Lake Calumet covered with warehouses, docks and business establishments; new industrial developments extending through the entire Great Lakes area and the Mississippi; and ships arriving with cargo from Europe and the Orient.

Erickson Campaigns On Record

William N. Erickson, who is a candidate to succeed himself as President of the Cook County Board of Commissioners is offering his record of accomplishments as the platform upon which he seeks the approval of the voters.

Mr. Erickson, who has served the board as a Commissioner for six consecutive terms and two as its president has well earned the slogan which has been adopted by his followers that "Erickson Means Accomplishment."

The record confirms this assertion for since taking command of the largest county government in the world he has forged to the front as a governmental administrator and a humanitarian of national repute. Leading in the numerous achievements which have been accomplished under Erickson's direction is the success of his efforts to modernize, streamline and enlarge the charitable institutions under his jurisdiction. He has gained nationwide acclaim for his efforts to reduce traffic fatalities and help solve knotty traffic problems through forming the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission.

Most outstanding of the many achievements accomplished by Erickson is the handling of the county finances. While most municipal and governmental bodies are struggling to keep a balanced budget. Cook County is in a solvent state financial at all times. Expenditures are kept within available income, and overhead costs are cut to a minimum.

Erickson has proved beyond a doubt that he can work with others who have the interests of the taxpayers at heart and he has repeatedly demonstrated his sincerity in his efforts to make the county government the best in the world.

Reformation Festival At Medinah Auditorium

Dr. Martin Luther's order of worship first used in the Town Church in Wittenberg, Germany, on Christmas Day, 1523, will be used at 4 p.m. Sunday, October 31, at the Medinah auditorium when members of 200 Chicagoland churches of the national Lutheran council join in the sixth annual Reformation festival.

Known as Luther's "Formula Missae," this historic order of service is the result of Dr. Luther's revision of the prevalent order of worship and his translation of it from the Latin into the German language. The service has since been translated into English.

Stanley C. Petersen, 209 N Parkway, Prspect Heights, is serving as a member of the central committee arranging for the Reformation festival.

Meek Attacks Douglas As Campaign Ends

Joseph T. Meek, Republican nominee for U. S. Senator, leveled new blasts this week at his opponent, Sen Paul H. Douglas, as Nov. 2 loomed only a few days away.

Winding up his Cook county campaign, Meek declared that Douglas was "a sorrowful spectacle of a man who would rather be re-elected than right."

"In his entire career," charged the Republican, "Paul Douglas has never cast a vote that could bring criticism from a socialist."

Defending McCarthy, Meek said that Douglas, "who calls himself a defender of civil rights," voted "no" in the Senate when it decided whether or not McCarthy was to have a "fair hearing" on charges made against him.

On 17 important issues before the Senate, Douglas rang up a perfect record of voting in accordance with the C. I. O., challenged Meek. "Are we witnessing the triumph of selfish interests?"

"Douglas wants so badly to be present when January comes and the opportunity might present itself for him to vote for Democratic organization of the Senate," said Meek, "and for a searing, crippling opportunity to block the crusade of Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Puffer Has Made Our Schools Outstanding

Voters who are familiar with what Noble J. Puffer has meant to the schools of Cook county do not need to be told what he has done for those schools.

However, those who have recently moved from Chicago will be interested in his activities in education for the State of Illinois and especially Cook county.

Under his administration as superintendent of schools, Cook county was one of 15 Illinois counties originally completing a survey of county schools and was a leader in a successful movement to revamp the county's educational system, modernizing it in terms of present needs on a basis of more efficient and better financed units.

During his terms as superintendent, he raised teachers' standards for certification in Cook county to the accepted minimum professional level, which were finally matched by the State of Illinois in state-wide legislation in 1941; required a surety bond of all township treasurers of schools under his jurisdiction, the first time in Illinois that such a step was taken to safeguard public funds; and required an audit by certified public accountants at least twice a year for all township treasurers of schools under his supervision.

He was named director of the state department of registration and education by Gov. Adlai Stevenson in 1949 and resigned in 1951 to again become Cook county superintendent of schools.

Noble J. Puffer has served as national president of the County Superintendent of Schools division of the National Education association. At Arlington Heights high school, he was formerly assistant principal.

His work in education was taken at Illinois Wesleyan university, Northwestern university, and the University of Chicago. In 1950 he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Illinois Wesleyan.

Illinois Average Income Highest In Midwest

Illinois has maintained its position as the highest income state in the midwest, according to a study of government figures by the National Association of Manufacturers. Yearly income per person in Illinois is $2,088, compared to the midwest average of $1,884 and the national average of $1,709.

However, in the percentage increase of personal income since 1939, Illinois has lagged behind the other states in the region. Income in Illinois has risen by 211 per cent since 1939, while the average increase for the entire midwest has been 233 per cent.

The significance of the trend is that the spread between high and low income regions has grown markedly smaller during the past 15 years. In 1939 the highest figure for the seven regions was 2.3 times the lowest; in 1953 the highest was only 1.7 times the lowest.

COUNTY JUDGE

● Indorsed by the Chicago Bar Association

● Veteran of World War II

ELECTION TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2

Kerner Has Remarkable Background

If a remarkable biography has any bearing on the election of a man to public office, Otto Kerner, who recently resigned as U. S. District Attorney to become a candidate for county judge in the coming election, should be inducted into that office on December 6.

Kerner was chosen by the Democratic party as one of their "Blue Ribbon" candidates because of the almost fantastic record he made for himself since he graduated from Oak Park High School 28 years ago.

Kerner is a member of the American Bar Assn., the Illinois Bar, the Chicago Bar, the Federal Bar, the West Suburban Bar, the Bohemian Bar, the Seventh Circuit Bar, and the Law and Legal Clubs of Chicago, and has been admitted to practice in the Federal District Court, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, the U.S. Supreme Court, and the Treasury Department.

Kerner enlisted in the Illinois National Guard's 106th Cavalry (Black Horse Troop) as a private, and held every rank in the guard to major.

He reorganized the 33rd Division, National Guard, and was appointed a brigadier general in 1951. He is a member of the Executive committee of the Boy Scouts of America and vice-president of the Chicago Council. He is chairman of the camping activities committee and is chairman of the 1954 fund drive. He is a member of the lawyers division of the Red Cross, a campaigner for the Community, Cancer, Heart Fund, and Red Cross organizations. He is also a member of the John Howard Assn. and a member of its board of directors.

Lohman Denies Statements Of Gov. Stratton

Joseph D. Lohman, candidate for sheriff, has made the following statement with reference to Governor Stratton's press conference on October 22:

"Governor Stratton and his cohorts are guilty of a criminal hoax unparalleled in political history. I deny categorically that the alleged recording of my voice is a bona fide reproduction of any speech of mine."

The playing of a tape rather than wire is prima facie evidence of a doctored recording since the machine originally used was a wire recorder. The playback of selected excerpts with words and statements lefted out of context, the omission and addition of selected words and the garbling of phrases created a twisted and truly monstrous falsehood.

"By use of individual words, phrases, or edited sentences stolen from remarks I have made, Stratton has visited upon me and my family, the law enforcement officers of the United States and their good wives and children an unbelievable indignity for which it is impossible for him to compensate.

"There is only one explanation for such a monstrous and totally un-American act. It is the deliberately contrived "Big Lie" of the Nazis and the Communists.

"Stratton has pulled this calculated viciousness out of the grab bag of tricks he learned while involved with George Sylvester Viereck, the convicted Nazi agent, to whom Stratton extended the privilege of his congressional frank His values and methods are alien to the American political tradition. He has besmirched the high office of governor for the sake of cheap political advantage.

"The fact that the sounds of words uttered by me have been appropriated and spread upon the the public record in such a way as to create meanings wholly foreign and distasteful to me is of deepest heartfelt concern to me. Were it within my power to compel Stratton to offer the apology which the injured so justly deserve I would do so. He must apologize for this monstrous misuse of my words to convey meanings contrary to the ideals and the professional standards I have lived by and stood for.

Probate Court Candidate Experienced In Estate Matters

Bernard J. Korzen, the candidate of the Democratic party for Clerk of the Probate Court of Cook County, is a lawyer who has more than the average knowledge of problems relating to real estate.

Having been graduated in Law by Northwestern University in 1932, Mr. Korzen first specialized in trial work and then became an employee in the Office of the Registrar of Title of Cook County. He became an examiner of titles and later a hearing officer with the duty of untangling the more knotty title problems in which position he was most adept.

Mr. Korzen continued his work in the Torren's office until he enlisted as a private in the Army of the United States. He attended officers' training school and at the close of the hostilities, was discharged as a commissioned officer

Since his honorable discharge from the Armed Forces, Mrs. Korzen has engaged in the general practice of law, specializing in real estate. He was appointed attorney for the Election Commissioners of the City of Chicago, from which position he immediately resigned upon being named the Democratic candidate for Clerk of the Probate Court.

Mr. Korzen resides at 6161 North Lemont Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. with his wife and two children.

Too Much Cooking, Too Many Baths Make Roof 'Leak'

Think your roof might be leaking? Maybe it's not. Maybe you take too many baths

The fact is that often, when a roof appears to be leaking, condensation on the under surface of the roof deck, not holes in the roofing material, is actually the cause.

Asphalt roofing shingles have a long service life and high "weathering" ability. If an inspeciton of the roofing shows it to be sound, any moisture on the inside of the roof is probably the result of condensation. Moisture from cooking, baths, or air-conditioning, rises with warm air and condenses when it reaches the cold roof sheathing.

Condensation may be minimized by ventilating the underroof area Louvers placed high in gables are the customary way of doing this.

Kerner Has Remarkable Background

If a remarkable biography has any bearing on the election of a man to public office, Otto Kerner, who recently resigned as U. S. District Attorney to become a candidate for county judge in the coming election, should be inducted into that office on December 6.

Kerner was chosen by the Democratic party as one of their "Blue Ribbon" candidates because of the almost fantastic record he made for himself since he graduated from Oak Park High School 28 years ago.

Kerner is a member of the American Bar Assn., the Illinois Bar, the Chicago Bar, the Federal Bar, the West Suburban Bar, the Bohemian Bar, the Seventh Circuit Bar, and the Law and Legal Clubs of Chicago, and has been admitted to practice in the Federal District Court, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, the U.S. Supreme Court, and the Treasury Department.

Kerner enlisted in the Illinois National Guard's 106th Cavalry (Black Horse Troop) as a private, and held every rank in the guard to major.

He reorganized the 33rd Division, National Guard, and was appointed a brigadier general in 1951. He is a member of the Executive committee of the Boy Scouts of America and vice-president of the Chicago Council. He is chairman of the camping activities committee and is chairman of the 1954 fund drive. He is a member of the lawyers division of the Red Cross, a campaigner for the Community, Cancer, Heart Fund, and Red Cross organizations. He is also a member of the John Howard Assn. and a member of its board of directors.

Lohman Denies Statements Of Gov. Stratton

Joseph D. Lohman, candidate for sheriff, has made the following statement with reference to Governor Stratton's press conference on October 22:

"Governor Stratton and his cohorts are guilty of a criminal hoax unparalleled in political history. I deny categorically that the alleged recording of my voice is a bona fide reproduction of any speech of mine."

The playing of a tape rather than wire is prima facie evidence of a doctored recording since the machine originally used was a wire recorder. The playback of selected excerpts with words and statements lefted out of context, the omission and addition of selected words and the garbling of phrases created a twisted and truly monstrous falsehood.

"By use of individual words, phrases, or edited sentences stolen from remarks I have made, Stratton has visited upon me and my family, the law enforcement officers of the United States and their good wives and children an unbelievable indignity for which it is impossible for him to compensate.

"There is only one explanation for such a monstrous and totally un-American act. It is the deliberately contrived "Big Lie" of the Nazis and the Communists.

"Stratton has pulled this calculated viciousness out of the grab bag of tricks he learned while involved with George Sylvester Viereck, the convicted Nazi agent, to whom Stratton extended the privilege of his congressional frank His values and methods are alien to the American political tradition. He has besmirched the high office of governor for the sake of cheap political advantage.

"The fact that the sounds of words uttered by me have been appropriated and spread upon the the public record in such a way as to create meanings wholly foreign and distasteful to me is of deepest heartfelt concern to me. Were it within my power to compel Stratton to offer the apology which the injured so justly deserve I would do so. He must apologize for this monstrous misuse of my words to convey meanings contrary to the ideals and the professional standards I have lived by and stood for.

"I shall expose the Stratton criminal hoax on television Saturday evening. The time is 6:00 p.m. Station WBKBTV."

Selling Your Hand Cheap? Be Careful

Have you tried putting a price on your hand?

Chances are, says Wendell Bowers, University of Illinois agriculture engineer, that you'd think anyone who asked you to put a selling price on your hand was joking. But to a farmer who has "sold" a hand to a corn picker accident, it's no joke.

The sad facts are these: you not only lose a finger, hand or arm when you get caught in the snapping or husking rolls, but it costs you money to get rid of it.

FARMERS WHO have learned from experience know that such an accident costs several hundred dollars in doctor and hospital bills, and even more if they want an artificial hand or hook to "fill in" for the missing hand. And while they're laid up, they have to hire extra help to do their farm work.

The price is so high, Bowers says, that it's hard to see why so many farmers pay it each year. Probably the biggest reason is that they have taken chances before and not had to pay. Eventually, though, the law of averages catches up with them.

Record Cow

A registered Guernsey cow, Riverdale Doreen's Empress, owned by Buren R. Anderson & Son, Palatine, produced 8,172 pounds of milk and 443 pounds of fat. This production represents approximately 3974 quarts of high-quality milk. This is according to the official herd improvement registry record released by the American Guernsey cattle club. "Empress" was a junior two-year-old and was milked two times daily for 305 days, while on test.

"Empress" is the daughter of the registered Guernsey sire, Riverdale May's Sonny, that has one tested daughter in the Performance Register of The American Guernsey Cattle club.

This record was supervised by the University of Illinois.

Give a farmer some spare time and look what he does with it

By IRA MILLER
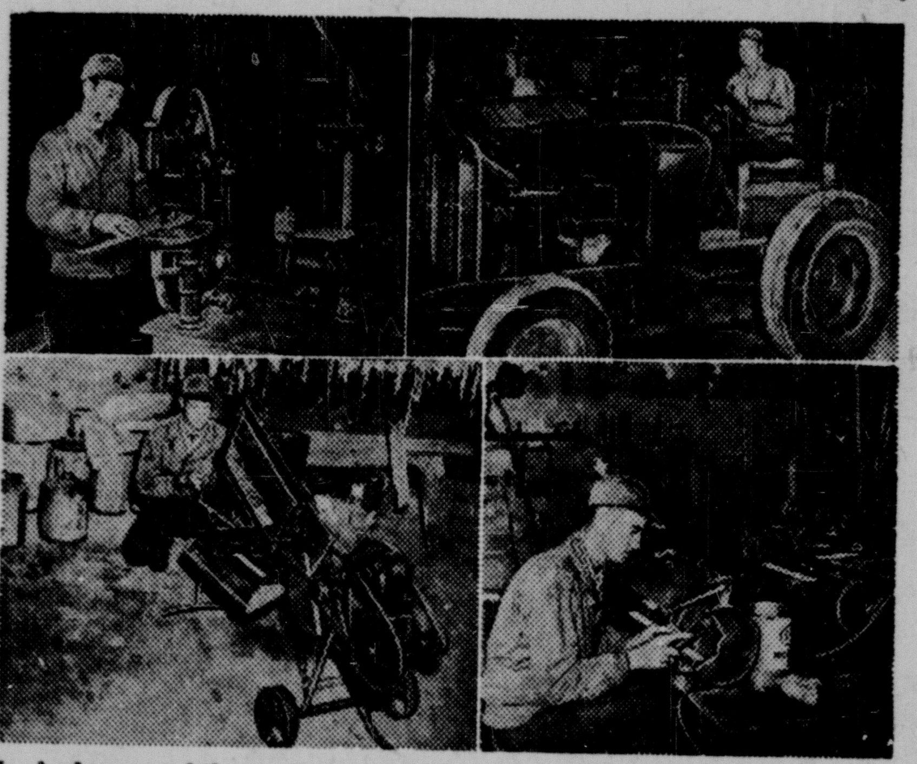
Farm Electrification Bureau

Give an industrious farmer some spare time and a free hand with his transformer type electric arc welder and he's liable to come up with all manner of home-made devices. Examples of what one young southern farmer "cobbled" up during an off season are shown below.

Hack saw—1/6 horsepower motor; 3 plywood pulleys, 4 roller bearings, ¾" pipe, angle and flat iron—from discarded farm equipment. Grinder—1/3 horsepower motor; automobile windshield; section of metal fence post; scrap metal. Table—pipe and scrap metal. Seat, used with grinder but not shown, can be adjusted to various heights. Parts came mainly from an old riding cultivator. The base is a discarded brake drum. Pipes, of different circumferences, fit one inside the other to form the standard. Holes are drilled through both so that a metal peg can be inserted to raise or lower the seat to height desired.

In addition to enabling farmers to make new equipment, electric welders are invaluable tools to have at hand when machinery breakdowns occur and emergency repairs are necessary.



Junked automobiles and pipe left over after the installation of a home hot water heating system provided most of the materials for these workable and useful farm tools. In general, here are some of the "scraps" and power units used:

Drill press—stand and frame of ¾" pipe, connecting rod from old car and wooden pulleys. (Pulleys were made on a home-made bandsaw, also constructed of scrap metal parts welded electrically.) Auxiliary farm tractor—junked auto chassis with motor, transmission and differential; steering mechanism, axles and wheels from two other wrecked cars and one transfer truck; plus 800 pounds of concrete dumped under seat on reinforced floorboards to heavy up tractor.

Census Bureau Asks Farmers About Crops And Machinery

America's more than 5 million farmers are being asked to cooperate with the bureau of census, department of commerce, in the 1954 census of agriculture now under way. This census is the 16th in a series of nationwide farm canvasses since the first farm census in 1840, over 100 years ago.

In most states, copies of the census questionnaire are being mailed to farm operators in advance of the enumeration which began early in October and will continue in to December. The starting date for the census has been set for the close of the normal crop harvesting season in each area.

QUESTIONNAIRES to be used in different areas have been designed to cover crops commonly produced in these areas, while a number of questions common to all farms will be included in each variation of the questionnaire. In seven southern states where the sharecropper system is followed, the questionnaires will be delivered in person by the enumerators to assure the consolidation of reports for multiple-unit farms.

The mail questionnaire used in most of the states is accompanied by a letter from director Robert W. Burgess of the bureau of the census. This letter requests each individual farm operator to fill in the answers and have the completed questionnaire ready for the census enumerator when he calls at the farm a few days later. The enumerator will assist the farmer in filling out the form, if he requires assistance.

THE CENSUS questionnaire is designed to collect information about the number and size of farms, tenure, acreage of land in various uses, crops harvested, livestock inventory and production, expenditures for selected items (labor hire, machine hire, feed, fertilizers and lime, gasoline and other petroleum fuels and oil), inventory of selected facilities and equipment (televisions, food freezer, piped running water, tractor, harvesting machines, automobile, truck, etc) irrigation, conservation practices, farm value, mortgage debt, and cash rent.

Regional variations of the questionnaire will be used so that inquiries about crops, for instance, will be limited in each area to the crops common in that area. On an average, each farmer will be asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by checking "yes" or "no".

Farm Advisor Mees Takes First Vacation In Five Years

Carl F. Mees, county farm advisor, returned to Arlington Heights this week after a monthlong vacation trip which included participation in the national convention of county agents at Salt Lake City, Utah.

The convention, October 11 to 14, was attended by 900 agents from all over the nation. They compared mutual problems and farm economies and listened to an address by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who told them that county agents must help farmers achieve more independence from federal control.

Next year's meeting will be held in East Lansing, Mich., in honor of the centennial of the establishment of the nation's first land grant college.

Accompanying Mees on his first vacation in five years were his wife and two children. They motored through California, Grand Canyon, Bryce and Zion national parks, and 50 miles into Mexico.

In the southwest, Mees said he found much land that could be successfully cultivated with irrigation. He was pleased at the good job of farming the Mexicans are doing in the northern regions, and Mees expressed surprise at the fine crops in Nebraska.

"Northern Illinois has Iowa's corn crop beat this year," concluded Mees.

Curtiss Farm Sold; Cows To Highest Bidders

The Maxon construction co. of Barrington, was revealed as the purchaser of the 860-acre Curtiss Candy Co. farm, famed for its blue blood dairy herd.

Don C. Maxon, the purchaser, expects to plot the farm site as a subdivision and to construct homes selling from $20,000 to $75,000. Sites and acreages at the farm at Cary's west side and about 40 miles from Chicago, will be offered immediately. Construction of the first homes designed by Norman Maxon, an architect, and associates, of Barrington, will be completed next spring.

The 860-acre farm was the last segment of a fabulous 11,000-acre farming operation started in 1942 by the late Otto Schnering, founder of the company and father of its present president. The farm once had units at Dundee, Arlington Heights, Grayslake and Marengo.

THE FARM was developed as a dairy breeding center, and its herds have won 600 championships and 1,600 blue ribbons in major show competition.

Schnering said the prize dairy herd — now composed of about 250 head of heifers and cows of five major dairy breeds — will be auctioned at four sales at the farm in November and December. First two of the sales will be held November 1 and 22. December sales will be scheduled later.

But the 125 bulls will be kept and moved to another location in Northern Illinois, where the company will continue to operate its Curtiss Improved Stud Service for farmers.

Small Eggs May Be Better Buy At Lower Prices

You can easily save yourself some money at the grocery store if you stop to compare weight with price when you buy eggs of a given quality.

Jim Roush, egg marketing specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says the supply of medium and small eggs is heavy at this time of year. The larger supply has lowered the price of these eggs in relation to the price of large and extra large eggs.

FOR INSTANCE, Roush points out that one local store is selling Grade A large eggs (24 ounces) for 59 cents a dozen, Grade A medium eggs (21 ounces) for 43 cents a dozen, and Grade A small eggs (18 ounces) for 29 cents a dozen.

With one dollar, then, at this store you can buy 62 ounces of small eggs, 49 ounces of medium eggs and 41 ounces of large eggs of the small quality. A similar situation exists in most Illinois stores that sell graded eggs.

YOU WON'T FIND this difference all year, Roush warns. As this year's pullets mature and start to lay larger eggs, the supply of large eggs will increase and the supply of small and medium eggs will decrease until the price advantage may even swing to the large eggs.

Supply and demand for various egg sizes regulate their price, Roush emphasizes. You can use this to your advantage by comparing price with weight when you shop for eggs of a given quality.

Junked automobiles and pipe left over after the installation of a home hot water heating system provided most of the materials for these workable and useful farm tools. In general, here are some of the "scraps" and power units used:

Drill press—stand and frame of ¾" pipe, connecting rod from old car and wooden pulleys. (Pulleys were made on a home-made bandsaw, also constructed of scrap metal parts welded electrically.) Auxiliary farm tractor—junked auto chassis with motor, transmission and differential; steering mechanism, axles and wheels from two other wrecked cars and one transfer truck; plus 800 pounds of concrete dumped under seat on reinforced floorboards to heavy up tractor.

In addition to enabling farmers to make new equipment, electric welders are invaluable tools to have at hand when machinery breakdowns occur and emergency repairs are necessary.

Census Bureau Asks Farmers About Crops And Machinery

America's more than 5 million farmers are being asked to cooperate with the bureau of census, department of commerce, in the 1954 census of agriculture now under way. This census is the 16th in a series of nationwide farm canvasses since the first farm census in 1840, over 100 years ago.

In most states, copies of the census questionnaire are being mailed to farm operators in advance of the enumeration which began early in October and will continue in to December. The starting date for the census has been set for the close of the normal crop harvesting season in each area.

QUESTIONNAIRES to be used in different areas have been designed to cover crops commonly produced in these areas, while a number of questions common to all farms will be included in each variation of the questionnaire. In seven southern states where the sharecropper system is followed, the questionnaires will be delivered in person by the enumerators to assure the consolidation of reports for multiple-unit farms.

The mail questionnaire used in most of the states is accompanied by a letter from director Robert W. Burgess of the bureau of the census. This letter requests each individual farm operator to fill in the answers and have the completed questionnaire ready for the census enumerator when he calls at the farm a few days later. The enumerator will assist the farmer in filling out the form, if he requires assistance.

THE CENSUS questionnaire is designed to collect information about the number and size of farms, tenure, acreage of land in various uses, crops harvested, livestock inventory and production, expenditures for selected items (labor hire, machine hire, feed, fertilizers and lime, gasoline and other petroleum fuels and oil), inventory of selected facilities and equipment (televisions, food freezer, piped running water, tractor, harvesting machines, automobile, truck, etc) irrigation, conservation practices, farm value, mortgage debt, and cash rent.

Regional variations of the questionnaire will be used so that inquiries about crops, for instance, will be limited in each area to the crops common in that area. On an average, each farmer will be asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by checking "yes" or "no".

Farm Advisor Mees Takes First Vacation In Five Years

Carl F. Mees, county farm advisor, returned to Arlington Heights this week after a month-long vacation trip which included participation in the national convention of county agents at Salt Lake City, Utah.

The convention, October 11 to 14, was attended by 900 agents from all over the nation. They compared mutual problems and farm economies and listened to an address by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who told them that county agents must help farmers achieve more independence from federal control.

Next year's meeting will be held in East Lansing, Mich., in honor of the centennial of the establishment of the nation's first land grant college.

Accompanying Mees on his first vacation in five years were his wife and two children. They motored through California, Grand Canyon, Bryce and Zion national parks, and 50 miles into Mexico.

In the southwest, Mees said he found much land that could be successfully cultivated with irrigation. He was pleased at the good job of farming the Mexicans are doing in the northern regions, and Mees expressed surprise at the fine crops in Nebraska.

"Northern Illinois has Iowa's corn crop beat this year," concluded Mees.

Curtiss Farm Sold; Cows To Highest Bidders

The Maxon construction co. of Barrington, was revealed as the purchaser of the 860-acre Curtiss Candy Co. farm, famed for its blue blood dairy herd.

Don C. Maxon, the purchaser, expects to plot the farm site as a subdivision and to construct homes selling from $20,000 to $75,000. Sites and acreages at the farm at Cary's west side and about 40 miles from Chicago, will be offered immediately. Construction of the first homes designed by Norman Maxon, an architect, and associates, of Barrington, will be completed next spring.

The 860-acre farm was the last segment of a fabulous 11,000-acre farming operation started in 1942 by the late Otto Schnering, founder of the company and father of its present president. The farm once had units at Dundee, Arlington Heights, Grayslake and Marengo.

THE FARM was developed as a dairy breeding center, and its herds have won 600 championships and 1,600 blue ribbons in major show competition.

Schnering said the prize dairy herd — now composed of about 250 head of heifers and cows of five major dairy breeds — will be auctioned at four sales at the farm in November and December.

First two of the sales will be held November 1 and 22. December sales will be scheduled later.

But the 125 bulls will be kept and moved to another location in Northern Illinois, where the company will continue to operate its Curtiss Improved Stud Service for farmers.

Small Eggs May Be Better Buy At Lower Prices

You can easily save yourself some money at the grocery store if you stop to compare weight with price when you buy eggs of a given quality.

Jim Roush, egg marketing specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says the supply of medium and small eggs is heavy at this time of year. The larger supply has lowered the price of these eggs in relation to the price of large and extra large eggs.

FOR INSTANCE, Roush points out that one local store is selling Grade A large eggs (24 ounces) for 59 cents a dozen, Grade A medium eggs (21 ounces) for 43 cents a dozen, and Grade A small eggs (18 ounces) for 29 cents a dozen.

With one dollar, then, at this store you can buy 62 ounces of small eggs, 49 ounces of medium eggs and 41 ounces of large eggs of the small quality. A similar situation exists in most Illinois stores that sell graded eggs.

YOU WON'T FIND this difference all year, Roush warns. As this year's pullets mature and start to lay larger eggs, the supply of large eggs will increase and the supply of small and medium eggs will decrease until the price advantage may even swing to the large eggs.

Supply and demand for various egg sizes regulate their price, Roush emphasizes. You can use this to your advantage by comparing price with weight when you shop for eggs of a given quality.

Ex-Conductor, 82, Has Pass But Hikes From Chicago To Cary

It was a brisk, beautiful day Tuesday of last week so George Sprague, 82, retired Chicago and North Western railway conductor thought he'd like to see the fall colors along the old familiar line.

He had his railway pass in his pocket but he didn't need it. He walked from his home at 6940 North Ozark ave., Edison Park, to Cary to visit friends. Sprague is a third cousin of Mrs. Wilfred Kelsey of Shady Hill.

Starting out at 4 a.m. he followed Northwest highway, and his wife, who is 83, saw him hiking along the highway just west of Barrington when she passed on the train at about 1:30 p.m.

The couple visited Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Weaver and other friends at Cary, where they made their home for a number of years. Sprague was rested from the trek, but he willingly accompanied his wife back to Edison Park on the 5 o'clock train.

The hale Mr. Sprague said he stopped along the way to eat breakfast.

"I had to step off the highway several times before daylight," he said, "because those cars came pretty close as they whizzed by."

Encourage Farmers To Join In Rat Control

IAA Makes Special Appeal For Blue Ballot

The Illinois Agricultural Association issued a special appeal today in connection with the observance of Blue Ballot Week in Illinois for adoption of the Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment at the November 2 general election.

Pointing out that Senatorial reapportionment is long overdue and is bound to come either by vote of the people or by court action, the association warned that Illinois voters on November 2 will vote for senatorial reapportionment either way they vote on the Blue Ballot Amendment.

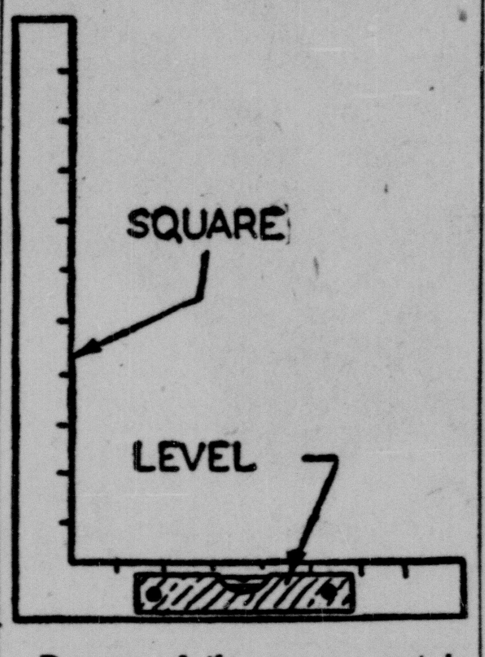
"If they vote against the Reapportionment Amendment or fail to vote on it at all, they automatically cast their vote for reapportionment under the Constitution as now written which would give control of both houses of the State Legislature to Cook County," John K. Cox, secretary of general services of the Illinois Agricultural Association stated. "If they vote for the Reapportionment Amendment, they vote for reapportionment on the basis that is generally considered to be a fair compromise between population and area."

Downstate voters should welcome this opportunity to settle this potentially dangerous issue by voting YES on the Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment," Mr. Cox said.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Two-in-One Tool

THIS two-in-one tool was fixed up in his workshop by a California home craftsman. It's an inexpensive level which is bolted to the short leg of a T-Square.



Purpose of the arrangement is to provide a handy tool for laying out horizontal lines and plumb lines in closets and in other close quarters where the level ordinarily used is too long to be handled easily.

This idea was published in American Builder, leading trade publication for contractors.

Owners To Cut Dahlia Stalks After First Frost

When you dig your dahlias this fall, store them so that you can grow your own plants from the ones you have.

J. R. Kamp, horticulture specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, suggests, that you cut dahlia stalks after a hard frost has blackened the tops.

Leave only a few inches of the basal stem. Wash the soil off the roots, and let them dry thoroughly for a few days before you put them into dry sand, peat or vermiculite for winter storage. Kamp recommends a storage temperature of 40 to 50 degrees F.

THE SPECIALIST explains that although the trick, fleshy roots of dahlias are full of stored food they are unable to start a new plant unless buds develop. These buds will grow on the old stem in spring.

Easiest way to propagate dahlias, Kamp says, is to cut the root clumps apart as soon as the buds appear. Leave one bud to each root section.

If you want many more plants start watering the root clumps and take them to a warm, light place in late February or March. The buds will develop shoots which you can cut from the root clumps after the leaves have developed.

PUT THE SHOOTS in moist sand until they have grown roots.

Then handle them as you would any other young plant. The rooted cuttings will grow into fully developed plants by next fall, and you can again store the root systems over the next winter and repeat the cycle.

Ex-Conductor, 82, Has Pass But Hikes From Chicago To Cary

It was a brisk, beautiful day Tuesday of last week so George Sprague, 82, retired Chicago and North Western railway conductor thought he'd like to see the fall colors along the old familiar line.

He had his railway pass in his pocket but he didn't need it. He walked from his home at 6940 North Ozark ave., Edison Park, to Cary to visit friends. Sprague is a third cousin of Mrs. Wilfred Kelsey of Shady Hill.

Starting out at 4 a.m. he followed Northwest highway, and his wife, who is 83, saw him hiking along the highway just west of Barrington when she passed on the train at about 1:30 p.m.

The couple visited Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Weaver and other friends at Cary, where they made their home for a number of years. Sprague was rested from the trek, but he willingly accompanied his wife back to Edison Park on the 5 o'clock train.

The hale Mr. Sprague said he stopped along the way to eat breakfast.

"I had to step off the highway several times before daylight," he said, "because those cars came pretty close as they whizzed by."

Words Often Misused

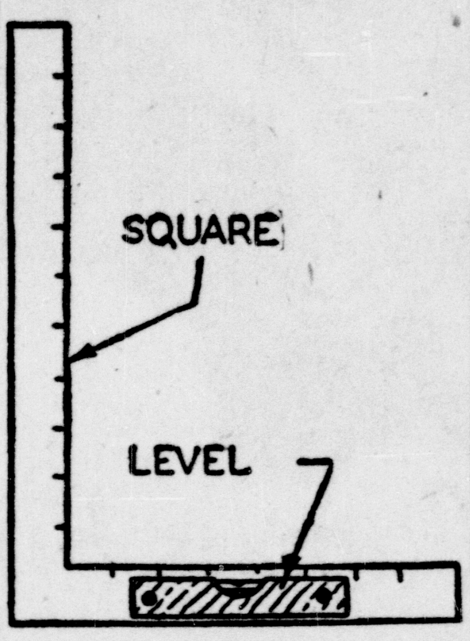
Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Two-in-One Tool

THIS two-in-one tool was fixed up in his workshop by a California home craftsman. It's an inexpensive level which is bolted to the short leg of a T-Square.



Purpose of the arrangement is to provide a handy tool for laying out horizontal lines and plumb lines in closets and in other close quarters where the level ordinarily used is too long to be handled easily.

This idea was published in American Builder, leading trade publication for contractors.

Encourage Farmers To Join In Rat Control

Lake County farmers again will be encouraged to participate in the annual rat control campaign by the Farm Bureau, Ray Nicholas, county farm adviser, announced. An especially prepared warfarin bait similar to that which proved so effective in past years again will be available to those who order from the McHenry county farm bureau.

IAA Makes Special Appeal For Blue Ballot

The Illinois Agricultural Association issued a special appeal today in connection with the observance of Blue Ballot Week in Illinois for adoption of the Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment at the November 2 general election.

Pointing out that Senatorial reapportionment is long overdue and is bound to come either by vote of the people or by court action, the association warned that Illinois voters on November 2 will vote for senatorial reapportionment either way they vote on the Blue Ballot Amendment.

"If they vote against the Reapportionment Amendment or fail to vote on it at all, they automatically cast their vote for reapportionment under the Constitution as now written which would give control of both houses of the State Legislature to Cook County," John K. Cox, secretary of general services of the Illinois Agricultural Association stated. "If they vote for the Reapportionment Amendment, they vote for reapportionment on the basis that is generally considered to be a fair compromise between population and area."

Downstate voters should welcome this opportunity to settle this potentially dangerous issue by voting YES on the Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment," Mr. Cox said.

Owners To Cut Dahlia Stalks After First Frost

When you dig your dahlias this fall, store them so that you can grow your own plants from the ones you have.

J. R. Kamp, horticulture specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, suggests, that you cut dahlia stalks after a hard frost has blackened the tops.

Leave only a few inches of the basal stem. Wash the soil off the roots, and let them dry thoroughly for a few days before you put them into dry sand, peat or vermiculite for winter storage. Kamp recommends a storage temperature of 40 to 50 degrees F.

THE SPECIALIST explains that although the trick, fleshy roots of dahlias are full of stored food they are unable to start a new plant unless buds develop. These buds will grow on the old stem in spring.

Easiest way to propagate dahlias, Kamp says, is to cut the root clumps apart as soon as the buds appear. Leave one bud to each root section.

If you want many more plants start watering the root clumps and take them to a warm, light place in late February or March. The buds will develop shoots which you can cut from the root clumps after the leaves have developed.

PUT THE SHOOTS in moist sand until they have grown roots.

Then handle them as you would any other young plant. The rooted cuttings will grow into fully developed plants by next fall, and you can again store the root systems over the next winter and repeat the cycle.

4-Lane Northwest Hwy. At Barrington Now Open To Traffic

The rebuilt 4-lane Northwest highway is now open to travel from Hough st., Barrington, to the end of the reconstruction near Fox River Grove.

The 4-lane span ends at a point approximately four-tenths of a mile this side of the route 22 intersection. An eight-tenths of a mile span from East Main st. to Hough st. was opened a month and a half ago.

Some 500 tons of sod has been used to finish the parkway separating the north and south-bound lanes and road shoulders.

First units of Rolling Meadows school nearing completion. The units now under construction provide 18 regular classrooms and two double-sized kindergarten rooms. Five additional units will be added in the spring. Kimball Hill & Associates are providing the school building without cost to the school district and will erect additional school units as the property grows.

He anticipates a total of three forty room schools. When the seriousness of school housing for such a large project was realized by Kimball Hill & Associates, they increased cost of homes $200, which goes in the school building fund. Turning those $200 into school facilities meant that a new method of cost construction would be required. Kimball Hill has done just that.

Building school rooms at a cost of about or less per room has probably never before been attempted. The above school building does not have some of the frills, but the costs are in line with what a developer can afford to pay and which meets the needs of the children in a project as large as Rolling Meadows.

Among the savings in building costs are elimination of hallways, direct entrances to school rooms from out-of-doors, individual room heating and individual sanitary facilities.

GOURMET HAMBURGER SPREAD

When you're planning an informal supper party either on the patio or in the dining room, hamburgers are excellent to serve as a main course. They are quickly prepared, economical, and a universal favorite. To add a special touch to hamburgers cooked either inside or outside on an open grill, spread them with a delightful "gourmet spread." This spread dresses the hamburgers up and gives them a wonderful flavor.

¼ cup minced parsley
¼ cup softened margarine
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup crumpled blue cheese

Mix together the onion, parsley, margarine, Worcestershire sauce, salt, mustard, pepper, and cheese to make a smooth paste. Spread over the broiled hamburgers. Then return to the broiler and continue broiling until the spread is melted. This recipe makes enough for eight hamburgers.

Lunch time at the Paddock school in Palatine presented some difficulties opening day. The cafeteria staff of eight and the cafeteria manager did not know if it was the novelty of eating at school or the turkey menu that caused a long waiting line, but each teacher had to wait for her own lunch until the children under her charge had been served. —Staff Photo

Color Of Your Money Sets The Price On Most Things In Turkey

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Turkey is definitely the place to buy chicken! For thirty-five cents the visitor can fill the oven with a nice fat one. When it comes to buying eggs, any shop in the capital will give you seventy of them for a single dollar! Expensive? Yes, prices have gone up tremendously during the last few years!

These prices, one must understand, are only correct as long as the visitor has changed his money at the bank — any Swiss bank. Turkish banks do not see the dollar in its true value. They have it figured out that a dollar should put only twenty-eight eggs into the shoppers absket, definitely not seventy. This difference, meaning of course where one changes his money, determines whether Turkey is amazingly cheap or ridiculously expensive in many things.

PORTABLE typewriters at the Turkish bank rate cost about 250 dollars each. (Ths is still better than the Yugoslav price, though, where an ordinary machine costs 1000 dollars! With some shopping around, however, it might be possible in Belgrade to pick one up for 750!)

The Turks have the delightful custom of listing all food prices in separate ways. Looking at a sign, first one reads the price that the merchant paid for the commodity, and then alongside it there is his selling price.

ENTERING a fruit store, for instance, one will see a sign among the peaches that informs the customer that the fruit cost the merchant three and one half cents, and it's on sale for four cents per pound. (Turkish money equivalent, of course). This makes the customer feel that he is getting his money's worth and not being victimized.

If the visitor to Turkey has room in his suitcase, he can buy an entire sheep for about four dollars. This is only true, however, if you deal with the shepherd directly. City prices are always much higher so that it is sometimes a problem to make ends meet.

FOR THOSE who are short of cash, here is a tip on dollar stretching: Outside of the major cities it is possible to get 100 eggs for a dollar! If steak is more to the visitor's liking, a tender beefsteak of porthole dimensions can be bought for about fifteen cents! The price runs to about eight cents a pound.

The snag, of course, is that you will have to cook it yourself. Hiring a man to cook it for you, plus a place to eat it in (I'm speaking of a restaurant) runs the price up to about twenty-five cents a pound. Ridiculously high, I know, but money doesn't go very far these days, anyway!

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

What would you think, if all of a sudden you were awakened one night by a muffled scream coming from the bedroom of your new next-door neighbor; then, as you listened and watched, you saw the husband emerge from the house carrying a large suitcase; in about a half an hour, you saw him return, stay inside for around twenty minutes and leave with the same suitcase once more; a half hour later he reentered the house, again stayed inside about twenty minutes and for the third time left with the suitcase? Would you think it odd that his invalid wife, who is accustomed to keeping close tabs on him, didn't wake up and question him about the strange trips he started taking at 2:30 a. m.?

Then suppose, being able to see into the bedroom from your upstairs window, that you noticed the next morning the mattress rolled up and placed on top of the bed, which your bedridden neighbor occupied and to all appearances she was gone. About this time, you noticed a moving van pulling up in front and the drivers get out and go into the house. A few minutes later, they would come out carrying a huge trunk, load it on the truck and drive away. About an hour later, suppose you saw from your kitchen window the husband wash off a huge butcher's knife and saw, and wrap them up carefully in a newspaper. O. K. now what would you think?

IT DOESN'T MAKE MUCH difference what you'd think, because no one would believe either your story or your theory anyway—no one, that is, except Jimmy Stewart who faced the same problem in Alfred Hitchcock's latest thriller, "Rear Window." No one believed him either—before the movie was over, they wished they had! What a grisly story, but how exciting, suspenseful and dramatically photographed this movie is. There is no doubt that Hitchcock is a master at creating atmosphere and convincing characterizations through tricky and unusual photography. He also has the ability to tell a great deal without benefit of script, just by switching the camera from one subject to another.

The only thing that kept this movie from being too frightening to enjoy, was the humorous patter that ran all the way through it. Thelma Ritter was especially amusing, saying some of the funniest things at some of the ghastliest moments. She was well cast as the insurance nurse who took care of the injured newspaper photographer, Jimmy Stewart. Frank and outspoken Nurse Ritter, besides attending to her nursing duties—mostly helping Jimmy and his cast-bound leg from bed to wheel chair and back — warned him early in the play of the trouble he was headed for if he didn't quit amusing himself by watching the neighbors through his binoculars.

SHE ALSO CHIDED HIM because of his hesitation to wed the beautiful, rich and successful fashion magazine editor, Grace Kelly, who was quite in love with him. His hesitation is due mainly to the fact that he can't picture this ex-debutante living under the conditions and meeting with the situations he must, as a traveling news photographer. Of couse, she can picture it and goes about proving it by playing a prominent and terrifying part in the capture of the murderer. Yes, there's a murder in it, to say nothing of a near sucide, a dog poisoning and a jewelry theft. Wendell Corey does an excellent job as the cynical, disbelieving dectective who almost loses the case as well as his friend Jimmy Stewart.

Barbara and I were on pins and needles from the time "Rear Window" began until it ended. The technicolor, cinemascopic screen and sterophonic sound practically put you in Jimmy Stewart's lap—no, not a bad place to be at all, except that in this movie it's much too vulnerable a spot to be in, especially when at last the murderer discovers who it is that has been watching him and who knows what he has done. If you want to relax, do not go to this movie, but if you want an evening of thrilling, exciting, top notch entertainment, don't miss it!

My love,
Patty.

T-V Star Pays Personal Visit to Polio Victims

Mary Hartline, pretty band director on ABC-TV's "Super Circus," recently paid a visit to two girls from Palatine and Arlington Heights who have been in the polio ward of Evanston hospital. Miss Hartline, a former polio victim, is shown chatting last week with Marjorie Sundquist, 9, of 651 S. Benton, Palatine, who returned home Friday, and Barbara Ellen Geddes, 4, of 616 Mayfair, Arlington Heights, who came home Tuesday. Both girls are still going to Winnetka for therapy but are making good progress.

Miss Mary Hartline, as a former polio victim, is always interested in persons similarly afflicted. Marjorie has been a Hartline fan for some time and the doll she is holding was given to her by Miss Hartline.

Marjorie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sundquist. Barbara's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geddes. Miss Hartline in her visits to them has encouraged both girls to continue to do their part to regain their health.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

We have come upon a great truth. It is not an original truth as it is too simple. It has been borne upon us forcefully that we are not put on this earth to be bland and blissful. We seem to be grinding along to solve one great problem after another. Of course, there are breathing spaces in between problems just to lure us into a sense of false happiness.

This maxim was brought home this weekend when we went visiting relatives. We have a kith who is a worrier by both profession and inclination. She goes out of her way to create trouble for her overworked mind She has two lovely children. One of whom is two and the other has reached the magnificent age of seven months. They are both boys. They are both healthy and normal.

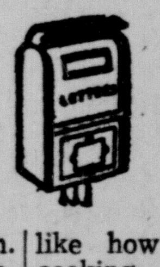
Her problem is this: What shall she do when the boys grow up and stand on the street corners trying to pick up girls with questionable characters. My goodness, we thought, that seems to be going way out of the way to find a worry. Our answer to the problem was probably too simple. We just said, "Don't let them." She looked at us askance and backed off mentally. She knows we have nothing but girls so our sage advice wasn't worth the powder.

As one of the metropolitan papers said, the weatherman went way out of his way to make last weekend a darb as far as Indian summer was concerned. We wish to let him know that we are grateful and went way out of our way to lap it up while the lapping was good. We are trying to store up a vision that will sustain us when the cold winds blow and the old teeth chatter.

We have come to the conclusion that every mother should take a weekend off once in a while. It sort of gives her a new perspective on the mob at home. When she gets back she either loves them much more dearly or finds the uproar more than she can bear. If it is the former, much has been gained and she can go on with her job with heart uplifted and full of love for her fellow children.

If it is the latter, think of the character building time she is going to have getting used to the bustle again. Either way, she has gained something by the experience. What she has gained, we know not. If we find out, we'll let you know first thing.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER



BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Lying is an art peculiar to man. He is the only one of God's creatures who can deceive by word of mouth. Chickens, they say, have a language of over 100 different sounds; dogs converse by different combinations of barks, and different tones; birds converse in song and twittering; but man, of all creatures, has developed the art of speech to the highest degree, and along with it the Art of Lying. Among all the people I know, there is not one of them who will not lie about something.

There are five great catagorys of lying: 1. Lying about how wonderful your are, how much you make and so forth is known as boastful lying. Since almost anyone can detect boastful lying with ease and are generally amused or only slightly provoked at the boastful liar assuming we would believe such stories, it is a harmless king of lying.

ONLY IN ITS worst stages, when the liar begins to believe he is as good as he says, is such lying dangerous. For then, it won't be long until he is carried off to the booby hatch. 2. Booster lying, to give someone's morale a boost like how much you enjoy their cooking, how young they loook, how you like their company, is all right when done to give someone a lift, but when done for personal gain, obtaining favors, or financial advancement, it approaches hypocrisy, which is bad. 3. Gossip lying: when you twist things you have heard or seen or things people do or say to bring scandal against their name, you are a very dispicable person.

4. Escape lying; when you tell a lie to avoid injury to yourself or your family. This is a very natural kind of lying and is excusable, but you are an awful dumb person to get yourself into a position where you have to do it. 5. Deceitful lying for personal gain. Ths is one of the worst forms of lying, second only to gossip lying which tops them all. When you strive to beat someone out of their property or spouse by "false ware or dealing," as it says in my catechism, that is decitful lying, is unexcusable and makes you lower than the creeping, crawling worm.

Most of us can forgive all but the gossip liars and the deceitful liars. Such persons are beyond excuse.

Moved Trees Need Frequent 'Drinks' To Stay Vigorous

Transplanted trees are likely to be super-thirsty for several years. Summer's drying winds and scanty rainfall deplete their vigor. This is true for both deciduous trees and evergreens.

Best bet to keep the transplants flourishing is to generously soak them over the entire root areas, generally the spread of the branches, advises J. L. Heston, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Weekly intervals are usually about right. Under extreme drouth conditions a five day schedule is better. Transplants even in the third or fourth year in their new locations may require this attention. That's because in many cases roots are still underbalanced in relation to lush top growth.

Home owners usually attend zealously to the watering chores the first year or two their new tree adorns the home grounds. Because they believe the arboreal pet is then well established, they are inclined to overlook the need for deep watering later.

With still-curtailed root systems, transplants in their third and fourth years must obtain their moisture from a too-limited soil mass.

But these trees need help in the diet department, as well. In addition to frequent watering during dry spells, feeding with a tree food high in nitrogen content will give an assist to growing vigor. And healthy trees are less likely to be damaged by insects and other troubles that are often injurious to ailing trees.

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Airport Situation

The presentation of the facts concerning the eviction of residents from the Arlington Heights airport, prompts me to voice a protest.

The statements made did not give a full picture of the situation, and made no mention of the real problems which the use of this land by these tenants has created for our community.

With due concern for the personal problems of the families being evicted; there are problems of greater concern to our community, created by the continued use of the land by this group of people. The most important being — an overcrowded school district with children from a non-taxable area. In addition, improper sanitation and living conditions of the most undesirable type are apparent to anyone who has visited this section. There has been no noticeable improvement in these conditions.

It is indeed with no feeling of regret that I see the return of this land to government use.

Keep 'Em Away

There is one effective way to keep hunters from hunting too close to your home. This is to mow down or to burn (with due care) any grass or other cover that is not a safe distance from your home. Although shotguns are extremely dangerous weapons at close range, you are pretty safe if there is nothing within a hundred yards of you that will tempt a hunter. So get the permission of the owner, then get your neighbors together some still evening with tank-sprayers and snowshovels and burn back the near end of the prairie.

Surprisingly, the hunters will be glad you do it. They would much prefer to have the edge of the cover, from which the birds are most likely to rise, far enough away from homes so that they don't need to hold their fire if the bird flies in the wrong direction.

ON OTHER HAND, a hunter who has tramped half-a-mile or a mile across a prairie, with a good probability that pheasants have run ahead of him to the edge of the cover cannot realistically be expected to stop short of the edge of the cover, when (in his mind) he is not endangering anyone because he knows there are certain directions in which he will not shoot, and that he is out of dangerous range anyway.

It is easy to say he shouldn't be hunting in that area, but there he is. In fact, if the area across from you is unposted, you should probably temper your criticism with credit to the hunter for not poaching on posted property, where he would much prefer to be.

Anyone who lives near a good-sized outlying field which is not so bare that the ground shows through, can be pretty sure the shortage of available space will bring the pheasant hunters Armistice Day afternoon and for two weeks thereafter. To hold our blood pressure below the boiling point, we might reflect on the fact that our children are probably not jeopardized as much by the hunters as they are by speeding autoists.

IF WE HAD hunters with us all year around (Heaven forbid!) and autoists only two weeks, just think how frightened we'd be by those autoists! Nine-tenths of the pheasant hunters are just as safe in their hunting habits as are nine-tenths of the drivers. Both may be violating a law they think is unnecessarily strict, and of which full enforcement seems hopeless. Almost all of the hunting accidents are inflicted on fellow hunters a few feet away, or are in deer areas where the weapons, being rifles, are deadly far beyond the hunter's clear vision and awareness.

We do not even need to feel we have been jeopardized by an atrociously careless hunter merely because we hear shots drop on our roof. Birdshot is much smaller than B.B. shot, and spent birdshot is more harmless than small balls of hail. When this shot patters lightly on the roof, the hunter, though inconsiderate, must have aimed high enough for safety.

Of course that does not mean that we have to like it or condone it. But if we loved to hunt and had no better place to hunt, many of us might do the same.

Delinquent Taxes

I have a copy of the "Delinquent Tax List" which you published by order of John B. Brenza, County Collector, Cook County, Ill.

Contrary to what may be anticipated of a delinquent taxpayer's reaction, my primary concern is with the method proposed by States Attorney Gutknecht and whole tax set-up to force sales.

May I refer to an article in the Chicago-American of Thursday, June 3, 1954, "Gutknecht acts to Collect." I quote the States Attorney:

"We need a whiplash to collect these taxes, most of them already reduced in court judgments. We're not going after cats and dogs but judgments which can be attached."

This is no mere coincidence, similar propositions were advanced to take the place of Jefferson's inalienable rights some years ago —trust we have not forgotten — To a man named Adolph Hitler the people were "the masses" and the highest human idealism, in his own words were that a man should wish to become "a dust particle" of the order "of force."

The States Attorney does not always choose words wisely when he expresses a "need." Let me tell you straight, Mr. States Attorney, there will be no whiplashing. American women with an ounce of pioneer blood in their veins will shout you down if you as much as dare literally to put "red welts" into the backs of helpless widows and orphans. I, for one, will seek you out even if it necessitates the aid of a United States Marshal to protect me and my rights.

We remember as good American citizens one George Mason the wealthy planter of Virginia who'd rather plant a seed of liberty then twenty thousand acres of tobacco.

I believe there are still such staunch patriots who agree with George Mason when he said "a government to be lasting must be founded in the confidence and affections of the people. Without a Bill of Rights this government will end either in monarchy or a tyrannical aristocracy."

It behooves us all to be vigilant and awake to the times and to use the rights given us, one of which is to speak out and not let any one stifle that speech.

Very truly yours,
Mabel Sander

Appreciation

Althcough my husband was beyond help, I wish to thank the Arlington Heights Fire Department and the County Police for their quick answer to our call, as well as the prompt arrival of Dr. Muench, whom they summoned. It is comforting to know that my husband received such speedy and efficient attention. I also wish to thank them for their courtesy and kindness to me, which I was too upset to acknowledge at the time.

Having lived here for only a few months I was overwhelmed by the thoughtfulness and help of our new neighbors. In spite of my shock and grief at the time, I found I was wishing my husband could have really known among what kind people we had chosen to live

Defends Florida

Sometime ago I read a news item in The Palatine Enterprise of a Florida visitor from Palatine, who stated, that he would not live in Florida, if he were presented with a twenty five thousand dollar home.

Why was he so disgruntled? Was it perhaps because he got his suit wet, or perhaps disappointed in a dollar "steak" dinner? Don't they ever have heavy rains in Palatine?

The east coast of Florida had rains at the time the gentleman was there, so he condemns the entire state. That is unfair. We have thousands of visitors in St. Petersburg alone, and have yet to hear any complaints.

Sure, the sun is very hot here in summer, but it is always cool in the shade, and in the four years we have been here we have not experienced one hot night.

It is rarely we do not have gentle breezes from the Gulf or Tampa Bay. Trees are green, and shrubs and flowers bloom the year round. All in all, we love Florida, particularly St. Pete.

It is truly the Sunshine City. We receive a daily paper free every day the sun does not shine.

Color Of Your Money Sets The Price On Most Things In Turkey

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Turkey is definitely the place to buy chicken! For thirty-five cents the visitor can fill the oven with a nice fat one. When it comes to buying eggs, any shop in the capital will give you seventy of them for a single dollar! Expensive? Yes, prices have gone up tremendously during the last few years!

These prices, one must understand, are only correct as long as the visitor has changed his money at the bank — any Swiss bank. Turkish banks do not see the dollar in its true value. They have it figured out that a dollar should put only twenty-eight eggs into the shoppers absket, definitely not seventy. This difference, meaning of course where one changes his money, determines whether Turkey is amazingly cheap or ridiculously expensive in many things.

PORTABLE typewriters at the Turkish bank rate cost about 250 dollars each. (Ths is still better than the Yugoslav price, though, where an ordinary machine costs 1000 dollars! With some shopping around, however, it might be possible in Belgrade to pick one up for 750!)

The Turks have the delightful custom of listing all food prices in separate ways. Looking at a sign, first one reads the price that the merchant paid for the commodity, and then alongside it there is his selling price.

ENTERING a fruit store, for instance, one will see a sign among the peaches that informs the customer that the fruit cost the merchant three and one half cents, and it's on sale for four cents per pound. (Turkish money equivalent, of course). This makes the customer feel that he is getting his money's worth and not being victimized.

If the visitor to Turkey has room in his suitcase, he can buy an entire sheep for about four dollars. This is only true, however, if you deal with the shepherd directly. City prices are always much higher so that it is sometimes a problem to make ends meet.

FOR THOSE who are short of cash, here is a tip on dollar stretching: Outside of the major cities it is possible to get 100 eggs for a dollar! If steak is more to the visitor's liking, a tender beefsteak of porthole dimensions can be bought for about fifteen cents! The price runs to about eight cents a pound.

The snag, of course, is that you will have to cook it yourself. Hiring a man to cook it for you, plus a place to eat it in (I'm speaking of a restaurant) runs the price up to about twenty-five cents a pound. Ridiculously high, I know, but money doesn't go very far these days, anyway!

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

What would you think, if all of a sudden you were awakened one night by a muffled scream coming from the bedroom of your new next-door neighbor; then, as you listened and watched, you saw the husband emerge from the house carrying a large suitcase; in about a half an hour, you saw him return, stay inside for around twenty minutes and leave with the same suitcase once more; a half hour later he reentered the house, again stayed inside about twenty minutes and for the third time left with the suitcase? Would you think it odd that his invalid wife, who is accustomed to keeping close tabs on him, didn't wake up and question him about the strange trips he started taking at 2:30 a. m.?

Then suppose, being able to see into the bedroom from your upstairs window, that you noticed the next morning the mattress rolled up and placed on top of the bed, which your bedridden neighbor occupied and to all appearances she was gone. About this time, you noticed a moving van pulling up in front and the drivers get out and go into the house. A few minutes later, they would come out carrying a huge trunk, load it on the truck and drive away. About an hour later, suppose you saw from your kitchen window the husband wash off a huge butcher's knife and saw, and wrap them up carefully in a newspaper. O. K. now what would you think?

IT DOESN'T MAKE MUCH difference what you'd think, because no one would believe either your story or your theory anyway—no one, that is, except Jimmy Stewart who faced the same problem in Alfred Hitchcock's latest thriller, "Rear Window." No one believed him either—before the movie was over, they wished they had! What a grisly story, but how exciting, suspenseful and dramatically photographed this movie is. There is no doubt that Hitchcock is a master at creating atmosphere and convincing characterizations through tricky and unusual photography. He also has the ability to tell a great deal without benefit of script, just by switching the camera from one subject to another.

The only thing that kept this movie from being too frightening to enjoy, was the humorous patter that ran all the way through it. Thelma Ritter was especially amusing, saying some of the funniest things at some of the ghastliest moments. She was well cast as the insurance nurse who took care of the injured newspaper photographer, Jimmy Stewart. Frank and outspoken Nurse Ritter, besides attending to her nursing duties—mostly helping Jimmy and his cast-bound leg from bed to wheel chair and back — warned him early in the play of the trouble he was headed for if he didn't quit amusing himself by watching the neighbors through his binoculars.

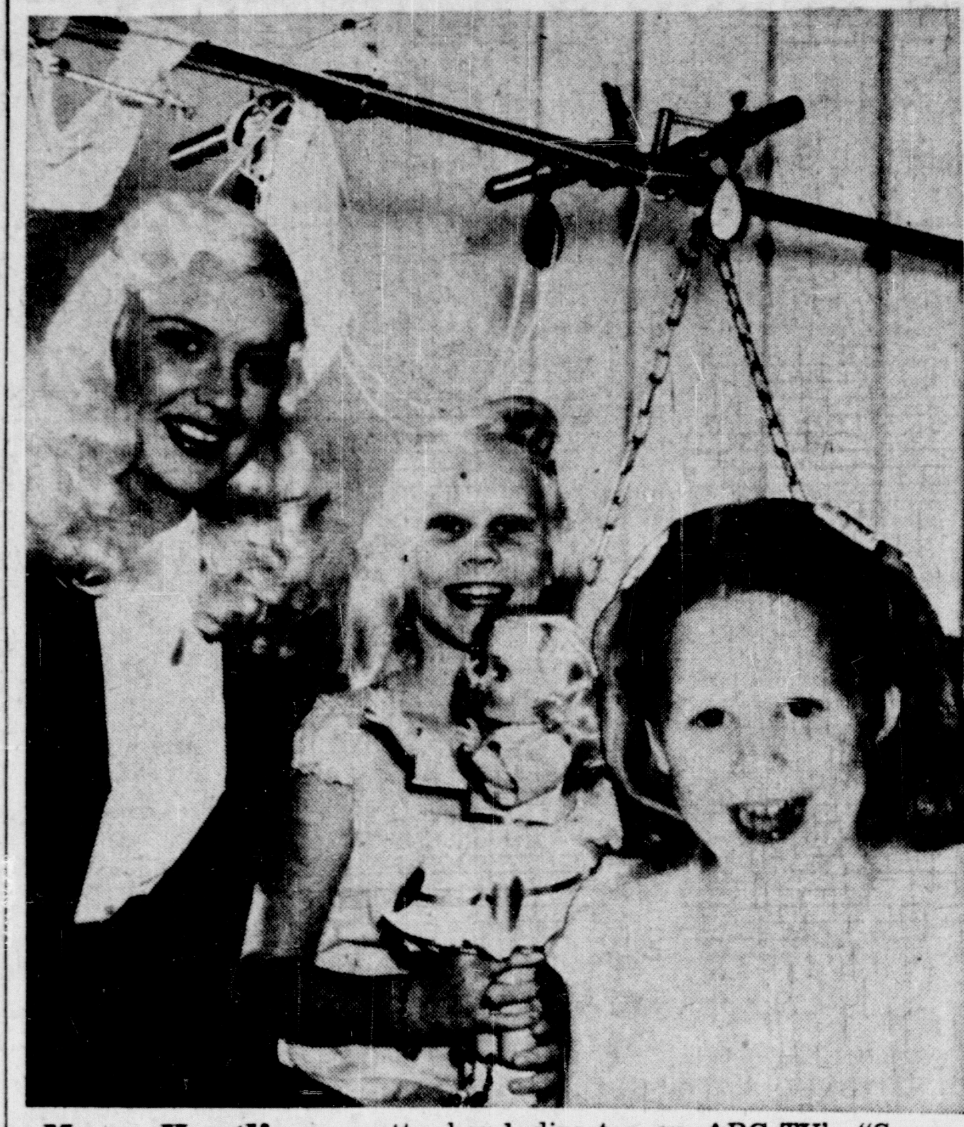
SHE ALSO CHIDED HIM because of his hesitation to wed the beautiful, rich and successful fashion magazine editor, Grace Kelly, who was quite in love with him. His hesitation is due mainly to the fact that he can't picture this ex-debutante living under the conditions and meeting with the situations he must, as a traveling news photographer. Of couse, she can picture it and goes about proving it by playing a prominent and terrifying part in the capture of the murderer. Yes, there's a murder in it, to say nothing of a near sucide, a dog poisoning and a jewelry theft. Wendell Corey does an excellent job as the cynical, disbelieving dectective who almost loses the case as well as his friend Jimmy Stewart.

Barbara and I were on pins and needles from the time "Rear Window" began until it ended. The technicolor, cinemascopic screen and sterophonic sound practically put you in Jimmy Stewart's lap—no, not a bad place to be at all, except that in this movie it's much too vulnerable a spot to be in, especially when at last the murderer discovers who it is that has been watching him and who knows what he has done. If you want to relax, do not go to this movie, but if you want an evening of thrilling, exciting, top notch entertainment, don't miss it!

My love,

Patty.

T-V Star Pays Personal Visit to Polio Victims



Mary Hartline, pretty band director on ABC-TV's "Super Circus," recently paid a visit to two girls from Palatine and Arlington Heights who have been in the polio ward of Evanston hospital. Miss Hartline, a former polio victim, is shown chatting last week with Marjorie Sundquist, 9, of 651 S. Benton, Palatine, who returned home Friday, and Barbara Ellen Geddes, 4, of 616 Mayfair, Arlington Heights, who came home Tuesday. Both girls are still going to Winnetka for therapy but are making good progress.

Miss Mary Hartline, as a former polio victim, is always interested in persons similarly afflicted. Marjorie has been a Hartline fan for some time and the doll she is holding was given to her by Miss Hartline.

Marjorie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sundquist. Barbara's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geddes. Miss Hartline in her visits to them has encouraged both girls to continue to do their part to regain their health.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

We have come upon a great truth. It is not an original truth as it is too simple. It has been borne upon us forcefully that we are not put on this earth to be bland and blissful. We seem to be grinding along to solve one great problem after another. Of course, there are breathing spaces in between problems just to lure us into a sense of false happiness.

This maxim was brought home this weekend when we went visiting relatives. We have a kith who is a worrier by both profession and inclination. She goes out of her way to create trouble for her overworked mind. She has two lovely children. One of whom is two and the other has reached the magnificent age of seven months. They are both boys. They are both healthy and normal.

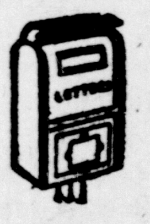
Her problem is this: What shall she do when the boys grow up and stand on the street corners trying to pick up girls with questionable characters. My goodness, we thought, that seems to be going way out of the way to find a worry. Our answer to the problem was probably too simple. We just said, "Don't let them." She looked at us askance and backed off mentally. She knows we have nothing but girls so our sage advice wasn't worth the powder.

As one of the metropolitan papers said, the weatherman went way out of his way to make last weekend a darb as far as Indian summer was concerned. We wish to let him know that we are grateful and went way out of our way to lap it up while the lapping was good. We are trying to store up a vision that will sustain us when the cold winds blow and the old teeth chatter.

We have come to the conclusion that every mother should take a weekend off once in a while. It sort of gives her a new perspective on the mob at home. When she gets back she either loves them much more dearly or finds the uproar more than she can bear. If it is the former, much has been gained and she can go on with her job with heart uplifted and full of love for her fellow children.

If it is the latter, think of the character building time she is going to have getting used to the bustle again. Either way, she has gained something by the experience. What she has gained, we know not. If we find out, we'll let you know first thing.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER



BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Lying is an art peculiar to man. He is the only one of God's creatures who can deceive by word of mouth. Chickens, they say, have a language of over 100 different sounds; dogs converse by different combinations of barks, and different tones; birds converse in song and twittering; but man, of all creatures, has developed the art of speech to the highest degree, and along with it the Art of Lying. Among all the people I know, there is not one of them who will not lie about something.

There are five great catagorys of lying: 1. Lying about how wonderful your are, how much you make and so forth is known as boastful lying. Since almost anyone can detect boastful lying with ease and are generally amused or only slightly provoked at the boastful liar assuming we would believe such stories, it is a harmless king of lying.

ONLY IN ITS worst stages, when the liar begins to believe he is as good as he says, is such lying dangerous. For then, it won't be long until he is carried off to the booby hatch. 2. Booster lying, to give someone's morale a boost like how much you enjoy their cooking, how young they loook, how you like their company, is all right when done to give someone a lift, but when done for personal gain, obtaining favors, or financial advancement, it approaches hypocrisy, which is bad. 3. Gossip lying: when you twist things you have heard or seen or things people do or say to bring scandal against their name, you are a very dispicable person.

4. Escape lying; when you tell a lie to avoid injury to yourself or your family. This is a very natural kind of lying and is excusable, but you are an awful dumb person to get yourself into a position where you have to do it. 5. Deceitful lying for personal gain. Ths is one of the worst forms of lying, second only to gossip lying which tops them all. When you strive to beat someone out of their property or spouse by "false ware or dealing," as it says in my catechism, that is decitful lying, is unexcusable and makes you lower than the creeping, crawling worm.

Most of us can forgive all but the gossip liars and the deceitful liars. Such persons are beyond excuse.

Moved Trees Need Frequent 'Drinks' To Stay Vigorous

Transplanted trees are likely to be super-thirsty for several years. Summer's drying winds and scanty rainfall deplete their vigor. This is true for both deciduous trees and evergreens.

Best bet to keep the transplants flourishing is to generously soak them over the entire root areas, generally the spread of the branches, advises J. L. Heston, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Weekly intervals are usually about right. Under extreme drouth conditions a five day schedule is better. Transplants even in the third or fourth year in their new locations may require this attention. That's because in many cases roots are still underbalanced in relation to lush top growth.

Home owners usually attend zealously to the watering chores the first year or two their new tree adorns the home grounds. Because they believe the arboreal pet is then well established, they are inclined to overlook the need for deep watering later.

With still-curtailed root systems, transplants in their third and fourth years must obtain their moisture from a too-limited soil mass.

But these trees need help in the diet department, as well. In addition to frequent watering during dry spells, feeding with a tree food high in nitrogen content will give an assist to growing vigor. And healthy trees are less likely to be damaged by insects and other troubles that are often injurious to ailing trees.

Airport Situation

The presentation of the facts concerning the eviction of residents from the Arlington Heights airport, prompts me to voice a protest.

The statements made did not give a full picture of the situation, and made no mention of the real problems which the use of this land by these tenants has created for our community.

With due concern for the personal problems of the families being evicted; there are problems of greater concern to our community, created by the continued use of the land by this group of people. The most important being — an overcrowded school district with children from a non-taxable area. In addition, improper sanitation and living conditions of the most undesirable type are apparent to anyone who has visited this section. There has been no noticeable improvement in these conditions.

It is indeed with no feeling of regret that I see the return of this land to government use.

Keep 'Em Away

~~There is one effective way to~~ keep hunters from hunting too close to your home. This is to mow down or to burn (with due care) any grass or other cover that is not a safe distance from your home. Although shotguns are extremely dangerous weapons at close range, you are pretty safe if there is nothing within a hundred yards of you that will tempt a hunter. So get the permission of the owner, then get your neighbors together some still evening with tank-sprayers and snowshovels and burn back the near end of the prairie.

Surprisingly, the hunters will be glad you do it. They would much prefer to have the edge of the cover, from which the birds are most likely to rise, far enough away from homes so that they don't need to hold their fire if the bird flies in the wrong direction.

ON OTHER HAND, a hunter who has tramped half-a-mile or a mile across a prairie, with a good probability that pheasants have run ahead of him to the edge of the cover cannot realistically be expected to stop short of the edge of the cover, when (in his mind) he is not endangering anyone because he knows there are certain directions in which he will not shoot, and that he is out of dangerous range anyway.

It is easy to say he shouldn't be hunting in that area, but there he is. In fact, if the area across from you is unposted, you should probably temper your criticism with credit to the hunter for not poaching on posted property, where he would much prefer to be.

Anyone who lives near a good-sized outlying field which is not so bare that the ground shows through, can be pretty sure the shortage of available space will bring the pheasant hunters Armistice Day afternoon and for two weeks thereafter. To hold our blood pressure below the boiling point, we might reflect on the fact that our children are probably not jeopardized as much by the hunters as they are by speeding autoists.

IF WE HAD hunters with us all year around (Heaven forbid!) and autoists only two weeks, just think how frightened we'd be by those autoists! Nine-tenths of the pheasant hunters are just as safe in their hunting habits as are nine-tenths of the drivers. Both may be violating a law they think is unnecessarily strict, and of which full enforcement seems hopeless. Almost all of the hunting accidents are inflicted on fellow hunters a few feet away, or are in deer areas where the weapons, being rifles, are deadly far beyond the hunter's clear vision and awareness.

We do not even need to feel we have been jeopardized by an atrociously careless hunter merely because we hear shots drop on our roof. Birdshot is much smaller than B.B. shot, and spent birdshot is more harmless than small balls of hail. When this shot patters lightly on the roof, the hunter, though inconsiderate, must have aimed high enough for safety.

Of course that does not mean that we have to like it or condone it. But if we loved to hunt and had no better place to hunt, many of us might do the same.

Delinquent Taxes

I have a copy of the "Delinquent Tax List" which you published by order of John B. Brenza, County Collector, Cook County, Ill.

Contrary to what may be anticipated of a delinquent taxpayer's reaction, my primary concern is with the method proposed by States Attorney Gutknecht and whole tax set-up to force sales.

May I refer to an article in the Chicago-American of Thursday, June 3, 1954, "Gutknecht acts to Collect." I quote the States Attorney:

"We need a whiplash to collect these taxes, most of them already reduced in court judgments. We're not going after cats and dogs but judgments which can be attached."

This is no mere coincidence, similar propositions were advanced to take the place of Jefferson's inalienable rights some years ago —trust we have not forgotten — To a man named Adolph Hitler the people were "the masses" and the highest human idealism, in his own words were that a man should wish to become "a dust particle" of the order "of force."

The States Attorney does not always choose words wisely when he expresses a "need." Let me tell you straight, Mr. States Attorney, there will be no whiplashing. American women with an ounce of pioneer blood in their veins will shout you down if you as much as dare literally to put "red welts" into the backs of helpless widows and orphans. I, for one, will seek you out even if it necessitates the aid of a United States Marshal to protect me and my rights.

We remember as good American citizens one George Mason the wealthy planter of Virginia who'd rather plant a seed of liberty then twenty thousand acres of tobacco.

I believe there are still such staunch patriots who agree with George Mason when he said "a government to be lasting must be founded in the confidence and affections of the people. Without a Bill of Rights this government will end either in monarchy or a tyrannical aristocracy."

It behooves us all to be vigilant and awake to the times and to use the rights given us, one of which is to speak out and not let any one stifle that speech.

Very truly yours,
Mabel Sander

Appreciation

Although my husband was beyond help, I wish to thank the Arlington Heights Fire Department and the County Police for their quick answer to our call, as well as the prompt arrival of Dr. Muench, whom they summoned. It is comforting to know that my husband received such speedy and efficient attention. I also wish to thank them for their courtesy and kindness to me, which I was too upset to acknowledge at the time.

Having lived here for only a few months I was overwhelmed by the thoughtfulness and help of our new neighbors. In spite of my shock and grief at the time, I found I was wishing my husband could have really known among what kind people we had chosen to live

Defends Florida

Sometime ago I read a news item in The Palatine Enterprise of a Florida visitor from Palatine, who stated, that he would not live in Florida, if he were presented with a twenty five thousand dollar home.

Why was he so disgruntled? Was it perhaps because he got his suit wet, or perhaps disappointed in a dollar "steak" dinner? Don't they ever have heavy rains in Palatine?

The east coast of Florida had rains at the time the gentleman was there, so he condemns the entire state. That is unfair. We have thousands of visitors in St. Petersburg alone, and have yet to hear any complaints.

Sure, the sun is very hot here in summer, but it is always cool in the shade, and in the four years we have been here we have not experienced one hot night.

It is rarely we do not have gentle breezes from the Gulf or Tampa Bay. Trees are green, and shrubs and flowers bloom the year round. All in all, we love Florida, particularly St. Pete.

It is truly the Sunshine City. We receive a daily paper free every day the sun does not shine.

Newsstand Of The Week

The Spot, Irving Park road at the viaduct (route 83) is another of the 60 newsstands selling more than 8,000 copies of Paddock Publications weekly.

Owners George and Frances Wade started the business five years ago, since adding newspapers, magazines, cigarettes, confections, and lunch counter to the original foods. Expansion plans are in the wind, too, with the Wades hoping to increase the space for both restaurant and food department by spring.

Newsstand Of The Week

The Spot, Irving Park road at the viaduct (route 83) is another of the 60 newsstands selling more than 8,000 copies of Paddock Publications weekly.

Owners George and Frances Wade started the business five years ago, since adding newspapers, magazines, cigarettes, confections, and lunch counter to the original foods. Expansion plans are in the wind, too, with the Wades hoping to increase the space for both restaurant and food department by spring.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Edward L. Weide, MM, 3/C, USN, who was killed in service on USS Eversole ten years ago, October 24, 1944.

He little thought when leaving home,
He would return no more;
That he in death, so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn;
We do not know what pain he bore,
We did not see him die,
We only know he passed away
And could not say goodbye.

Mr. and Mrs.
William A. Weide,
Mrs. Leona Johnson,
Mr. Marvin Weide.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. How does one properly remove the bones from a fish at the dinner table?

A. Lift the end of the bone with a fork, and then pinching it between the fork and the knife, lift it all the way out In some stubborn cases you may have to use the fingers, and this is quite all right if you do not allow the fingers to touch the fish.

Q. If a man is forced by circumstances to send a woman whom he has been escorting home in a taxi, is he suppprsed to pay the taxi fare?

A. Most certainly he is! He should inquire of the driver the approximate amount the fare will be, then pay him, adding enough for a tip.

Q. Is it permissible to lean across one person to shake hands with another?

A. Only if you beg the pardon of the person across whom you are reaching.

Q. Would it be all right for me to give a shower for my nephew's fiancee? She is a stranger in town, and none of our friends or relatives have met her as yet.

A. Not a shower. Guests should never be asked to bring gifts to one who is a stranger to them. On the other hand, it would be very nice for you to give a party (not a shower) in her honor, for the purpose of introducing her to your relatives and friends.

Q. If a guest is late to dinner, and the meal is already progressing, is it necessary that the men rise to greet this guest?

A. No. The host and hostess should rise, but it is less confusing for the other guests to remain seated.

Q. When does one properly take the napkin off the table and put it on one's lap?

A. As soon as one is seated.

Q. How long should a widow wear deep mourning after the death of her husband?

A. Deep mounring is very seldom worn these days. It is all right to wear a touch of white with dark clothing. The usual time is a year.

Q. When meeting college professors socially — for instance, entertaining them at tea — how does one address them?

A. If he bears the title of Doctor, call him that; otherwise, call him "Professor." If he is an instructor, call him "Mister."

Q. What should the bridegroom and his best man do with their gloves during the ceremony?

A. The bridegroom removes his right glove and holds it in his left hand. The best man does not remove his gloves.

In The Future

Logically following the doll whose hair can be washed comes a hair-dryer, simulating grown-ups' electric ones ... A new plastic pleat ring grips fabric directly rather than requiring sewed-on tape ... You can now get glass-fiber pontoons to buoy up your boathouse or diving platform. Don't soak and sink like logs, or rust like steel drums ... A ring-like handle that goes all the way around makes a new grocery cart more pushable. It moves in any direction.

Bits O' Business

Forecasts of production for most commercial crops other than cotton were revised downward during September ... Steel operations last week were above 72 per cent of capacity for the first time since June ... Department store sales stay 2 per cent under last year's figures. Excessive warmth in the big Eastern cities hurt ... The Federal Reserve System added $575 million to bank reserves in the week ended October 9.

Steal Radios From Park Ridge Cars

While Park Ridge police were busy trying to round up the youths tossing kerosene flares into homes around town, Park Ridge was also struck by car radio thieves. Nine autos were broken into during the night — usually by forcing a no-draft window—and the radios taken. In all cases, the autos had been parked in front of the owner's home for the night.

Ask Approval Of New Barrington Subdivision

Marshall Construction Co. has requested Barrington to approve the plat of a proposed residential subdivision of a tract lying 250 feet south of East Main st and bounded by the village limits on the east, Warwick ave., on the south, and Glendale ave on the west.

The builders propose to lay out 24 residential lots with frontage of 70 feet and a depth of approximately 136 feet. An alternative plat would provide 21 lots with a frontage of 80 feet.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Edward L. Weide, MM, 3/C, USN, who was killed in service on USS Eversole ten years ago, October 24, 1944.

He little thought when leaving home,
He would return no more;
That he in death, so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn;
We do not know what pain he bore,
We did not see him die,
We only know he passed away
And could not say goodbye.

Mr. and Mrs.
William A. Weide,
Mrs. Leona Johnson,
Mr. Marvin Weide.

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. How does one properly remove the bones from a fish at the dinner table?

A. Lift the end of the bone with a fork, and then pinching it between the fork and the knife, lift it all the way out In some stubborn cases you may have to use the fingers, and this is quite all right if you do not allow the fingers to touch the fish.

Q. If a man is forced by circumstances to send a woman whom he has been escorting home in a taxi, is he suppprsed to pay the taxi fare?

A. Most certainly he is! He should inquire of the driver the approximate amount the fare will be, then pay him, adding enough for a tip.

Q. Is it permissible to lean across one person to shake hands with another?

A. Only if you beg the pardon of the person across whom you are reaching.

Q. Would it be all right for me to give a shower for my nephew's fiancee? She is a stranger in town, and none of our friends or relatives have met her as yet.

A. Not a shower. Guests should never be asked to bring gifts to one who is a stranger to them. On the other hand, it would be very nice for you to give a party (not a shower) in her honor, for the purpose of introducing her to your relatives and friends.

Q. If a guest is late to dinner, and the meal is already progressing, is it necessary that the men rise to greet this guest?

A. No. The host and hostess should rise, but it is less confusing for the other guests to remain seated.

Q. When does one properly take the napkin off the table and put it on one's lap?

A. As soon as one is seated.

Q. How long should a widow wear deep mourning after the death of her husband?

A. Deep mounring is very seldom worn these days. It is all right to wear a touch of white with dark clothing. The usual time is a year.

Q. When meeting college professors socially — for instance, entertaining them at tea — how does one address them?

A. If he bears the title of Doctor, call him that; otherwise, call him "Professor." If he is an instructor, call him "Mister."

Q. What should the bridegroom and his best man do with their gloves during the ceremony?

A. The bridegroom removes his right glove and holds it in his left hand. The best man does not remove his gloves.

In The Future

Logically following the doll whose hair can be washed comes a hair-dryer, simulating grown-ups' electric ones ... A new plastic pleat ring grips fabric directly rather than requiring sewed-on tape ... You can now get glass-fiber pontoons to buoy up your boathouse or diving platform. Don't soak and sink like logs, or rust like steel drums ... A ring-like handle that goes all the way around makes a new grocery cart more pushable. It moves in any direction.

Bits O' Business

Forecasts of production for most commercial crops other than cotton were revised downward during September ... Steel operations last week were above 72 per cent of capacity for the first time since June ... Department store sales stay 2 per cent under last year's figures. Excessive warmth in the big Eastern cities hurt ... The Federal Reserve System added $575 million to bank reserves in the week ended October 9.

Steal Radios From Park Ridge Cars

While Park Ridge police were busy trying to round up the youths tossing kerosene flares into homes around town, Park Ridge was also struck by car radio thieves. Nine autos were broken into during the night — usually by forcing a no-draft window—and the radios taken. In all cases, the autos had been parked in front of the owner's home for the night.

Ask Approval Of New Barrington Subdivision

Marshall Construction Co. has requested Barrington to approve the plat of a proposed residential subdivision of a tract lying 250 feet south of East Main st and bounded by the village limits on the east. Warwick ave., on the south, and Glendale ave on the west.

The builders propose to lay out 24 residential lots with frontage of 70 feet and a depth of approximately 136 feet. An alternative plat would provide 21 lots with a frontage of 80 feet.
